

BELL HITS 15

Ducks Down Huskies

Ray Bell, an almost unknown sophomore forward, came off the bench early in the second quarter and proceeded to lead his Duck teammates to a 63-59 win over the Washington Huskies Friday night at Seattle.

Bell, who hadn't connected for a Northern Division game until this game, was inserted into the game by coach Bill Borchert with about eight minutes remaining until halftime and Tippy Dye's Huskies on the long end of a 22-15 score. "Radar Ray" caught fire almost immediately and on a driving lay-in and a 30-foot looping one-hander he pulled the Webfoots within three points of their opponents. Before the half was over Bell had connected for two more

At the start of the tussle Washington gave the spectators the impression that they were going to run away with the game as led by Parsons, Voegtlin, and Jim Coshow, they proceeded to outplay, outshoot, and out hustle the visitors from Eugene. At one time in this opening half the Huskies owned a fat 18-10 lead and at the conclusion of the period they were out in front by a 20-13 count.

As the second stanza got underway it looked as if it would be more of the same thing and after two minutes the Seattleites still possessed their seven point cushion at 22-15. Then is when Bell came into the line-up and the whole complexion of the game changed.

Parsons of the Huskies took game scoring honors with 21 points, 11 of them from the free throw line. Voegtlin followed him up with 15 and of course Bell was the top man for Oregon with his aforementioned 15.

two-pointers and had added a pair of foul tosses for a total of 10 points in the second quarter.

Before the game had been concluded big Ray had pushed home 15 points for high points honors for the winning Ducks.

Borchert's crew, badly outplayed in the first quarter by the hustling Washington five, seemed to come to life when Bell went on his spree and by the intermission rest stop the Webfoots had cut the Husky lead to a mere one marker at 35-34.

Ducks Hot

The Ducks continued to fire at a hot pace as the third quarter opened and before long they were out in front to stay. After Karl Voegtlin swished one for the Huskies to open the period the Oregons really started to roll.

Guard Barney Holland started the fireworks with a one-handed pusher from in front of the key. Then in short order Jerry Ross flipped one in from the side, Max Anderson hit from the charity stripe and hooked one home, and Ed Halberg plopped in a jump shot. This quick flurry of buckets put Oregon in front 43-37 and the Ducks held onto the lead the rest of the way.

Huskies Rally

Washington trailed all the rest of the way but on several occasions the Huskies threatened to overtake their panting opponents. Center Dean Parsons and Voegtlin were the big sparks for the Dyemen in their last dying efforts to catch the Oregon quintet.

The host five pressed close twice during the last ten minute session, the first time at 52-49, and the second at 60-57, but on both occasions the Webfoots had a little too much stamina for the Huskies.

The Ducks went into a semi-goal with about four minutes to go and produced most of their last minute points from the free throw line as a result of Washington fouls.

OSC Cinches N.D. Title Tie

The Oregon State Beavers assured themselves of at least a tie for the Northern Division championship over the past weekend as they downed the Washington State Cougars in two straight tilts at Pullman, Washington.

The Beavers were hard pressed in the first encounter as they only squeaked by the 51-49 win but in the second contest the Orangemen came to life and smothered their opponents by a 62-41 score.

Swede Halbrook led the OSC hopes in scoring on both evenings with 13 and 17 points but the "splendid spire" was outscored for the series by forward Ron Bennink of the Cougars who dumped in 22 the first evening and 17 on Saturday. In the last game Bennink was well bottled up from the field by a rugged Beaver defense but the WSC sharp was not to be stopped as he dumped in 15 free throws to keep his hot pointmaking streak going.

UW Downs Ducks In Pavilion Fray

The Washington Huskies came back with vengeance Saturday night and downed Oregon's Ducks 67-59 to score their first victory over the Webfoots this year in four tries.

The cagers of coach Tippy Dye were paced to their win by some sharp shooting on the part of forward Karl Voegtlin and center Dean Parsons who connected for 20 and 18 points respectively.

Two early buckets by Voegtlin and another pair by Jim Coshow got Washington off to an early 12-3 lead and the Ducks could never catch up. At the conclusion of the first quarter the Dyemen were ahead by a 18-8 count and at half-time it was 35-26 for the Huskies.

Oregon made a serious threat to catch their foe in the third period as Ed Halberg and Max Anderson led a scoring rush that pulled the Ducks to within one point of the Huskies at 42-41, but, this was the high water mark as far as Oregon was concerned.

Washington led at the third rest stop 50-45 and their narrowest lead in the last quarter was three points late in the game.

RAY BELL, sophomore forward from Klamath Falls, scored 15 points for the Ducks against Washington Friday night to lead his team to a 63-59 victory.
