

Prep IRL Conference Opens on Campus Today

The seventh annual conference of the Oregon High School International Relations League will be held on campus today through Saturday.

Guest speakers for the conference are Linden A. Mander of the department of political science at the University of Washington and Robert Blum, president of the Committee for Free Asia.

Mander is the author of many articles, a contributor to several books, and the author of "Foundations of Modern World Society." He is widely known throughout the northwest for his interest in and knowledge of world affairs. His topic for the conference will be "How We Are Doing Abroad: In the Middle East and Europe."

Blum will speak on "How We Are Doing Abroad: In Asia." Prior to his present duties he served in Washington as director of the staff of the President's Commission on International Information Activities.

The IRL, sponsored by the Oregon Education Association, was organized in the fall of 1947. Between 40 and 50 schools participate in the organization. Of the approximate 1500 members in the state, 350 will be present for this conference, according to Charles P. Schleicher, professor of political science and IRL executive secretary.

Each year the IRL publishes a study guide to be used during the school year. This year's topic is "As the World Sees Us — Fact and Fancy."

Present IRL officers are Steve Nye, Medford, president; Virginia Todd, Cleveland, vice-president; Betty Herrman, Eugene, secretary-treasurer, and Allen Banta, Baker, historian.

The program has been arranged by these officers, the IRL committee, the UO International Relations club and Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service honorary.

Morris Talk Opens Meeting

"There is a need for a substantial amount of specialization in today's business world, but students must have a broad liberal arts background with it," Acting President Victor P. Morris said at the opening assembly of the tenth annual student business conference Wednesday morning.

The basic elements necessary for a business career, stated Morris, are specialization, a liberal arts background, an understanding of the social sciences and the ability to communicate ideas.

Morris spoke to more than 100 students and faculty members as he opened the conference which is to give an insight into present business conditions and opportunities.

Sessions on various fields of business were held Wednesday afternoon and will continue this afternoon in the Student Union. Discussions of accounting, insurance, retailing, traffic and market management and personnel are planned for this afternoon.

The choir will present the following program: The First Lamentation of Jeremiah; the Gospel of Good Friday in Holy Week; Credo VIII, eighth mode, 13th Century; Vesper Hymn of St. Scholastic, second mode; Vesper Hymn for Many Martyrs, second mode, eighth century.

Vesper Hymn for Feast of the Apostles, first mode; Alma Redemptoris Mater, fifth mode; Ave Regina Caelorum, sixth mode; Regina Caeli, sixth mode; Salve Regina, fifth mode; and Antiphon and Magnificat for Vespers of Holy Saturday, eighth mode.

The members of the choir are from the Mt. Angel Seminary located on a hilltop 40 miles south of Portland. All the choir members are boys who are studying for the priesthood. Along with their studies and devotions in preparation for the priesthood, the boys publish a magazine, and operate a farm.

The Mt. Angel Abbey was founded in 1882 by the Benedictine monks from the ten-century old Engleberg Abbey in Switzerland. The tradition of the Benedictine monks extends through the centuries from St. Benedict, the founder of Western monasticism around 500 A. D.

Aggieland Plans 'Squeeze' Dance

The Aggieland version of the annual Lemon-Orange squeeze will be held Saturday night at the Oregon State college Memorial Union, immediately following the Oregon-OSC basketball game at Gill Coliseum.

Admission to the dance is 50 cents. Music will be furnished by Jim Todd's eight piece band, and decorations will carry out the lemon-orange theme.

Traditionally two lemon-orange squeezes are held annually, one at OSC and one here. The Oregon dance was held Jan. 30, following the Oregon-OSC basketball game which the Ducks won 42-40.

Carnival Booth Builders Cautioned About Fire Rules

Living organizations planning to operate booths at the Women's Recreation association carnival Friday are cautioned to follow fire safety regulations when building their booths, according to Sylvia Wingard, co-chairman for the event.

"Carousel" is the theme of the carnival which is scheduled for Friday night from 9 to 12 in the men's unfinished gymnasium. Admission is 25 cents to be paid at the door. All spectators at the Oregon State basketball game are welcome to attend, Miss Wingard said. Concession and game booths will be featured.

Booth construction will begin at noon on Friday and must be completed by 8 p. m. that day, according to Carol DeVilbiss, booth chairman. All construction materials must be fireproofed before they will be cleared by the fire marshal, Miss DeVilbiss emphasized. Any house not having a copy of construction regulations may secure one from Miss DeVilbiss or Joyce Comer at Alpha Phi.

An added feature of the carnival will be the selection of the most original and the best constructed booth. Judging will take place at 10 p. m. and will be based on 25 per cent construction and 75 per cent originality. Each house participating in the winning

Millrace Houses Win Yelling Honors

The Millrace crew can yell the loudest.

That was the decision after competitive yelling at a basketball rally staged Wednesday night for the OSC series this weekend. The winning houses received a trophy which will be engraved with the names of the participating houses and will rotate among them during the school year.

Houses were paired according to the five geographical sections on the campus — Millrace, Hilltop, Campus, Upper Alder and Lower Alder.

Included in the winning section were Beta Theta Pi, Phi Sigma Phi Beta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Kappa, Chi Psi, Alpha Phi, Gamma Nu, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Kappa Psi. Approximately 500 students attended the rally.

Senate to Choose Preview Chairman

Selection of a general chairman for Duck Preview weekend, April 23 and 24, will highlight the meeting of the ASUO senate tonight at 6:30 in the Student Union. Tom Wrightson has announced.

Deadline for submitting petitions is 4 p. m. today, Wrightson said. Petitions are to be handed in at the ASUO office, SU 304.

If more than five petitions are submitted, the petitioners will be interviewed at 4 p. m. today by the newly-formed ASUO screening committee. The remaining petitioners will then be interviewed by the full senate and a chairman will be selected.

Other business on the senate agenda includes: discussion with Leo Harris, athletic director, on student athletic tickets, a report from the ASUO constitutional committee and discussion of a proposed convention between the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders and the Evergreen conference.

UO Amphibians to Meet With OSC Seahorses

Amphibians, women's swimming honorary, will meet with the Oregon State Seahorses Saturday morning at Corvallis before the Oregon-OSC game, President Sally Stadelman has announced.

Members of the Oregon group are to meet at the parking lot by the outside gym, next to Gerlinger, at 8:30 Saturday morning. Those who wish to attend are to call Donna Mast at Pi Beta Phi.

The two groups will hold a swimming meet, featuring all sorts of races, sprints and obstacle races.
