

Trackmen Prepare for Relays

Finley Resigns As Idaho Coach

"Pretty strong in the running events, missing some lettermen in the field events, and lacking depth all over." This pretty well sums up Coach Bill Bowerman's 1954 track team.

Bowerman's squad has been practicing from 3 to 5 p. m. every afternoon this week, getting in shape for its first engagement of the season: the Willamette relays this Saturday in Salem.

Mixed-Doubles Action to Start

Lou Bellissimo, head of the Student Union bowling lanes, announced recently that the students' mixed-doubles competition will get underway Tuesday, with 18 teams taking part in each league.

Bellissimo said that there is still room for a few more entries in each league and he asked that all those people interested in participating sign up for league play in the very near future.

Play will be carried on the same as last year with one red pin being among the ten standing at the end of each line. Anyone who fails to knock the red pin down with his two shots will be compelled to pay a five cent fine. All fines will be collected in one pot and at the end of the seven weeks of play all the money in the pot will be used to pay for a special picnic for all those taking part in mixed-doubles action.

Bellissimo also said that the faculty mixed-doubles tournament will start Thursday afternoon, April 1, and that there is still some room for more entries in this event.

the Capital City to engage in the college division of the relays. Last year the Webfoots participated in the games and came home with more than their share of blue ribbons. Although no team score was kept, they clearly outpointed all opponents, including Oregon State.

This year the outlook is not as bright. Ray Packwood, Pacific Coast conference pole vault champ last year, and a strong contender in the hurdles events, did not return to school this year.

Oregon's hopes for a successful day will rest a great deal on the running crew, which has outstanding prospects in every event.

Distance Men

In the distance divisions, Ken Reiser, junior, and Al Martin, senior, will be counted on for victories. Doug Clement, two year letterman, was Oregon top 440 man last season and should repeat this season. Bruce Springbett, and Ted Anderson, 100 and 220 yard dash men, respectively last year, are top contenders for Oregon in the sprint events.

TED ANDERSON, senior letterman, breaks the tape in his specialty, the 220 yard dash. Anderson will lead Oregon's sprint men when they take the oval this Saturday at the Willamette delays.

IM Office Makes Changes in Rules

Earl Ferguson, assistant intramural director, announced Tuesday that there have been a couple of changes in IM softball rules for the coming season.

Instead of the hour time limit on games, as was in effect last year, a new rule has been installed that will allow that all games will last for five innings with one exception. If one team can garner a seven run lead by the completion of four innings they will be declared the winner without a fifth frame.

The other rule change states that only freshmen eligible to play for fraternity teams will be those who are living in the respective houses.

Interesting sidelight on Swede Halbrook, Oregon State's all-Northern Division center, is that he is pinned to a University of Oregon girl.

Halbrook, a Lambda Chi at OSC, gave his house pin to Barbara Kamm, Carson three, recently. Miss Kamm is a transfer from the Beaver school.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"I didn't know there was such a job"

EMMETT SMITH, E. E., '50, never heard of telephone traffic work, but what he saw of the job intrigued him. He explains how it worked out.

(Reading time: 40 seconds)

Emmett Smith supervises operation of this training switchboard, which he originally helped to design.

"Communications have always been one of my main interests—in the Navy and at the University of Michigan. So I was very happy when the Michigan Bell Telephone Company invited me to visit their headquarters to talk about a job.

"In Detroit I had a chance to look at a number of departments, including one I'd never heard of before, the Traffic Department. I found that, in addition to the engineering of switchboards, its work involved the supervision and the actual handling of customer calls. It struck me like a wonderful opportunity to combine staff engineering and field management.

"My first impression was right, too, because my work covered both. First, I had on-the-job training assignments in several different kinds of offices—local, Long Distance, dial and manual. Then

I worked in engineering, translating estimates of future growth into the actual number of circuits and switchboard positions required.

"Now I'm supervising the operation of one of the boards I helped engineer. Briefly, my job is to see that my district gets the kind of equipment it needs and that what we have is functioning properly. Working with people is another major part of my job, too, because I serve in an advisory capacity to the supervisors of the Long Distance operators.

"Needless to say, I'm happy with my job. A job I didn't even know existed."

Emmett Smith's job is with a Bell Telephone Company. There are similar opportunities for college people with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation.
