

Awards Honor Judy Ellefson

Three scholarship and loan funds have been established recently in honor of Judy Ellefson, junior in speech, who died February 5 from polio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Kaufman of Eugene have donated $1000 to set-up the Judy Ellefson Memorial Aid fund. The late Miss Ellefson was an employee of Kaufman Brothers' store, which is partially owned by the donors.

The money from the fund will be awarded to deserving women students working their way through school. The money will be given in the form of an out-right gift which the recipient may or may not repay. Any money repaid, and any further gifts, will be used for the perpetuation of the fund.

The fund will be administered by the director of women's affairs, Mrs. Golda P. Wickham.

Friends Donate

The Judy Ellefson Memorial Speech scholarship has been established by the relatives and friends of the late Miss Ellefson. The scholarship will be perpetuated by them and will be given to either a man or woman majoring in speech.

Funds for the scholarship will be deposited with the University under the trusteeship of members of the speech department. The scholarship will be administered by the University scholarship committee.

Phi Beta Sets Award

The Phi Beta Judy Ellefson memorial scholarship will be awarded annually to a member of Phi Beta. Established by the University chapter of the national women's professional sorority in speech and music, the scholarship will cover University fees. The money will be given by alumnae and active members of the organization. It will go to a member majoring in speech, music or drama.

The late Miss Ellefson was very active on campus before her death. She was a member of the University theater executive board and of Phi Beta. She was president of Hendricks Hall, her living organization, her freshman year, and a member of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary.

Kwama Petitioning Open to Freshmen

April 16 has been set as the deadline for submission of petitions for Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, according to Janet Gustafson, president. A standard ASUO petition may be used.

Petitioners must have a minimum of a 2.00 GPA for both fall and winter terms. No suggestions are to be submitted and activities are to be listed in their order of importance, Miss Gustafson said. A picture of the petitioner must accompany the application.

The 30 new Kwamas will be tapped at the All-Campus Sing during Junior Weekend. This is the first time the tapping has been a Junior Weekend event, for tapping was previously done at the now-abolished Mortar Board ball.

The petitions may be turned in to Miss Gustafson at Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dorothy Iler at Carson hall, or to any Kwama member. Only women who will be sophomores at the beginning of next fall term are eligible to petition.

Exhibit Features Seattle Painter

An exhibition of water colors by Mrs. Olive Malstrom Carl, of Seattle, Wash., is currently on display in the Student Union art gallery.

The exhibit will continue through April 17. Predominately scenes of landscapes, the exhibit includes some still life and other composition.

Mrs. Carl has had her work displayed in the National Art Museum in Washington, D. C., the Baltimore Art Institute, Baltimore, Md., and the Little Art Gallery of Frederick and Nelson in Seattle.

Johnston Wins Scholarship

Announcement of a Fulbright scholarship to be awarded William Benjamin Johnston, fifth year student in architecture, was recently received by K. S. Ghent, the campus Fulbright Program Advisor.

Johnston, of Eugene, will study architecture at the Finland Institute of Technology in Helsinki. The scholarship is one of approximately 14 grants for study in Finland and is included within a total of nearly 1000 grants for graduate study abroad next year under the United States Educational Exchange program.

As provided by the Fulbright Act, all students are selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, the members of which are appointed by the President. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright committees and by the Institute of International Education.

Fishbowl Mixer Set For SU Friday Night

A free, no-date Fishbowl Mixer is scheduled for Friday night in the Student Union from 9 p.m. to midnight, according to Phyllis Pearson, SU Dance committee chairman.

Music Room Aids Get Free Listening

Free access to the Student Union music listening room at any time is offered those who volunteer to help the staff of the listening room committee.

These volunteers are asked to sign up for one or more hours per week for work. The hours are from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday through Friday and 7 to 10 p. m. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. Interested students should contact Donna Buse, SU 301, on phone ext. 235, by Friday.

When Oregon's Max Anderson and OSC's Wade Halbrook competed in the Duck-Beaver basketball game last Saturday night it marked the fifteenth time that the two big boys have played against each other.

Anderson and Halbrook played opposite each other six times in high school, five times in freshman games last year, and four times this season in varsity competition.

Athletic Cards

dent Frank Parker, in a letter to Vahey, said that the ASUW pays the cost of pictures, 12 cents per card. Pictures are taken and placed on the card during registration, and only slows down the registration process four or five minutes per card.

Parker continued that tickets are checked carefully and with little delay. Few students attempt to loan their cards at Washington, he concluded.
