Canterbury Club

This Sunday at 6 p.m. Canterbury Club will meet for the first time spring term at St. Mary's Episcopal church, Thirteenth and Pearl streets. Evening prayer will be followed by an informal supper around the fireplace. Rev. Robert Ellis, chaplain to Episcopal students and faculty, will present in inquirer's forum with the topic "Early Development of Worship in the Anglican Church." There will also be an election of officers.

Luther House

Sunday evening, immediately following the supper at 5:30 p.m., a radio play from Dorothy Sayer's book, "Born to Be King," will be read to students.

Wednesday noon the second luncheon of the term will be held and the discussion of Luther's small catechism continued. For the last few Wednesdays, the Apostle's Creed has been discussed.

Revamping of the present Bible study schedule is in progress, but until a new schedule is worked out, the meetings will continue on Thursdays at 9 p.m. The retreat on the coast at Camp Westwind will be held May 7 to 9.

Wesley House

At 9:45 Sunday morning at the First Methodist church will be the regular meeting of the Koinonia Klass. Rides will be furnished from Gerlinger hall at 9:30. The church worship services at 9:45 and 11 a.m. will be "Easter's Significance."

Everyone is invited to meet Sunday afternoon at 3, when cars will leave Gerlinger hall for Armitage park. The program includes games and a light supper. The program for the evening will feature an address by Rev. Berlyn Farris, in which he will give his interpretation of the meaning of Easter.

Tuesday, following a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. on the sunporch of Gerlinger hall, Rev. Harold Shellhart will give his interpretation of Easter. A movie concerning the activities at Camp Seabeck, Washington, (sponsored by the Y's) will be shown.

Chapel service will be held Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in Gerlinger. Thursday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. will be choir practice.

A special election for vice-president in charge of program will be held Sunday evening, due to the resignation of Dick Brown, freshman in music education, who is returning to Alaska.

Channing Club

The Channing club will hold an open discussion meeting at the Unitarian church Sunday evening at 7. The topic for discussion will be "Evaluating the Concepts of God" led by the Rev. Edward L. Ericson of the Unitarian church. Ericson, recently installed as minister of the Eugene Unitarian church, will speak to the group for the first time. A discussion period will follow the informal address and coffee will be served.

Christian House

The new prayer chapel at Christian House will be dedicated at the 5:30 p.m. service Sunday. The worship committee with Jean Miller, chairman, and the chapel committee with Roger Weaver, chairman, will have charge of the dedication. Mitzi Asai, senior in education, will speak on the "Significance of Prayer and Personal Devotions in the Life of Students," as part of the preparatory service. Thirty-five delegates have signed up to attend the fourth annual regional conference of the Disciples Student fellowship, which meets this weekend at Menucha. Ralph Adams, former University student now attending Medical school in Portland, is regional president. Kammy Chun is Oregon vice-president and JoAnne Flanders, special students, is secretary. Cars will leave Christian house every hour after twelve o'clock Friday, returning the latter part of Sunday afternoon.

New officers were recently elected as follows: Lyle Spears, sophomore in architecture, president; Dorothy Iler, sophomore in journalism, and Joan Wilson, sophomore in pre-nursing, vice-presidents; Shirley Goff, freshman in liberal arts, recording secretary; Kammy Chun, junior in sociology, corresponding secretary; Roger Weaver, freshman in liberal arts, treasurer; Rosalind Lowrance, Junior in liberal arts, historian; and Bob Randall, senior in liberal arts, executive adviser. June Fulco, sophomore in music, is editor of the "Duck Call."

April is Christian house's birthday month. The fifth anniversary of the opening of the house is being celebrated. At the married student's dinner group held last Tuesday two of the original members of the first executive council were present. They are Casey Hyde Chaney, graduate student in education, and Everett Cecil, now of Corvallis.

Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. the old and new executive councils will meet jointly.

The Sunday morning doughnut hour will be held at 9:15 as usual, and Victor Morris, dean, school of business, will lead the 9:45 a.m. Bible discussion period.

Westminster Foundation

Tonight at 8 p.m. there will be an April Fool's party with games, dancing and refreshments.

Sunday at 9 a.m. there will be a coffee hour, followed by a Bible study of Christian doctrine as found in the statement of reformed faith. Rev. Thom Hunter will lead the discussion. That evening at 6 p.m. newly-elected officers of the Westminster Student association will be installed, under the direction of Rev. Hunter and Bob Dean, retiring president. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

There will be a chapel service on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. At 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, Westminster students will meet at the foundation to proceed to St. Mary's Episcopal church for the annual banquet and installation of University Religious council officers. The speaker will be Rev. John E. Cantelon, pastor of the Fairmount Presbyterian church of Eugene.

Jr. Panhel Tea Will Honor Senior High School Girls

All women who pledged sororities this school year are requested to act as hostesses at the annual Junior Panhellenic tea Sunday, according to Olivia Tharaldson, president of the group.

Honoring all senior girls of high schools in Eugene and the surrounding areas who are planning to attend any college next fall, the tea will be from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. in Gerlinger hall.

This is the first year that the mothers of the girls have also been invited to the tea, stated Miss Tharaldson. Purpose of the event is to acquaint the mothers and daughters with college women and college life.

Present at the affair to assist in answering any questions, social and academic, which the guests might have, will be Virginia Kempston, women's counselor, Mrs. Margaret Kopp, student affairs secretary, Mrs. Victor P. Morris, wife of the dean of the school of business, Mrs. V. F. Woodin, president of City Panhellenic, and Vivian Pitman, secretary of City Panhellenic during fall rushing.

During the afternoon, an engraved plaque will be presented to the pledge class making the highest grades fall term.

Committee heads for the tea are Jean Fay, refreshments, Rae Bergeron, music, and Judy White, clean-up.

Art Education Prof To Attend Convention

Thomas O. Ballinger, assistant professor of art education, will attend the San Francisco convention of the Pacific Art association April 12 to 15.

Ballinger, who will be a discussion leader for one of the sessions, is a member of the nominating committee of the association. The convention will be attended by art instructors, educators and members from the three Pacific coast states and Arizona and New Mexico.
