Oregon Delegates Reject Press Bid

gation to the first convention of OCE, president; Duncan, vicethe Oregon Collegiate Publications president; Esther Snook, SOCE, lege this weekend, voted against ratification of the group's consti- man, Portland, social secretary, tution and declined a bid for membership in the organization.

In addition to Oregon, schools represented at the convention were Linfield, Lewis and Clark college, the University of Portland, Oregon College of Education, and Southern Oregon College of Education. All but Oregon ratified the constitution and became charter members of OCPA.

Declines Membership

The Oregon delegation declined membership on the basis that such a small group did not represent enough interest in the program to justify formation of an OCPA. The Oregon students at the convention expressed an opinion that should Oregon State college, Willamette University and one or two other colleges join the group, the University might be interested in joining.

Members of the Oregon delegation were Elsie Schiller, Emerald editor; Joe Gardner, Emerald news editor; Jerry Harrell, assistant news editor, and Sally Ryan, Oregana associate editor.

Outgrowth of OFCL Confab

OCPA was an outgrowth of the fall meeting of the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders, held he knew as Mrs. Roy Henderson. at Reed college. At the meeting, several colleges in the state expressed an interest in the formation of a collegiate press associa- Henderson as the complaining wittion.

With this suggestion in mind a group of students from Linfield, OCE and Portland organized the convention and drew up a proposed constitution. Invitations to the two-day convention were sent to all Oregon colleges and universities.

Speaking at the program were David Eyre, - managing editor of the Oregon Journal; Marlowe Journal; Philip Bladine, editor of the McMinnville Daily News Register; and Ron Moxness, reporter for the Portland Oregonian. Verne Duncan, Linfield college, was convention chairman.

Officers elected at the conven- man he chased.

The University of Oregon dele-| tion are as follows: Harry Pease, secretary-treasurer; John Chrisand Evelyn Neal, OCE, information director.

Oregon Daily

Houses to Submit Queen Candidates

All living organizations have been requested to submit their candidates for Junior Weekend queen by 5 p. m. Friday, according to Ward Cook and Jack Boettcher, co-chairmen.

Names of candidates should be turned in to Pat Beard, Gamma inate traditional "block par-Phi Beta, Cook said.

Candidates must be junior women with a minimum 2. accumulative GPA and a 2. GPA last term.

EMERALD

The Inter-fraternity council voted Thursday night to elimties" following the Fridaynight vodvil show Duck Preview weekend.

No Block Parties For Duck Preview

The council's action followed presentation and discussion of a policy stressing the academic side of University life during this year's preview weekend.

Presenting the policy were weekend co-chairmen, Jerry Farrow and Don Bonime, with comments added by Les Anderson, University alumni director and adviser for the weekend.

Final Plans Later

Groups not yet contacted concerning weekend policies were Heads of Houses and Inter-dorna council. Final plans will be completed in later meetings with these groups.

Other items discussed at the IFC meeting concerning the weekend were a slightly revised housing policy, which was explained by Bob Porter, chairman of men's housing, and the naming of house representatives.

Main item in the proposed policy, change for the weekend is in the program, beginning with a period from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Friday, which will be conducted similar to high-school "career days."

'What to Take?'

Listed on the weekend schedule as "What to Take?" the period will be composed of open-house sessions in the various departments, with professors and instructors present to answer questions.

It will entail explanations of course offerings in the various schools, and will provide opportunities for individual participation in the discussions.

It had been suggested earlier, at a meeting of all chairmen for in living organizations, similar to

This was suggested after weekend officials had already decided to begin the vodvil show at 10 had formerly been the custom.

Referendum Petitions Turned in Wednesday

All petitions calling for a refer-j at 8 in Commonwealth hall for a endum on the Eugene city council final session before the filing decision to establish industrial date.

zoning in the area near the Mill-

race will be turned over to City IIO Novf Diaco

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, MONDAY, APRIL 5, 1954 Court Recesses Daily Case The trial of John Daily, senior in _ Bunch also said Daily, after his crime. Bunch was not permitted to mathematics charged with trying arrest on Jan. 28, refused to sub- speak of the statement as "a conto extort money from a Eugene mit to a lie detector test and fession" because of objections by housewife, recessed Friday after- made a statement at the police Defense Attorneys William Bartle gene Venn brought in a "surprise witness.'

VOL. LV

The witness, Roy Haldeman of Drain, identified Daily as the man he saw while parked on Goodpasture Island road one afternoon early in December with a woman

He told the jury the woman, whose first name he understood to be Thelma, was not the same Mrs. ness in the Daily case. She is Mrs. Mary Ellen Henderson.

Daily is accused of trying to get favors and money from Mrs. Mary Henderson. It is charged that he told her he had compromising pictures of her parked with Haldeman on Goodpasture road.

State Calls 11

Eleven witnesses were called by the state Friday and Venn indicated he would call another "six to Branagan, sports editor for the eight" witnesses before resting his case.

Among the other witnesses was Detective Edward Bunch who chased a man around Skinner's Butte Jan. 18 after accompanying Mrs. Henderson there to deliver money. Bunch said Daily was the

and Edwin Allen.

No. 107

Speaks of 'Colleagues'

Mrs. Mary Henderson testified she has received no threatening calls since the chase on Skinner's Butte Jan. 18. She said more than one man might have been involved in the attempted extortion, explaining her caller spoke of "my colleagues" and "my associates."

Lee Scroggs, a policewoman who impersonated Mrs. Mary Henderson on a trip to Goodpasture Island Road to deliver "money" told of seeing a person in the brush, ostensibly waiting for the money. She did not identify that person as Daily.

The defense indicated Thursday that mistaken identity would be the the weekend, that paired parties line of defense. They asked several witness if the man they saw had those formerly held after the voda scab on his face. None had seen vil, be held in this period. the scab. Daily, the defense said, had a scab on his face at the time. The Emerald was unable Sunday night to reach attorneys in the p. m., which is a later hour than case for further comment.

Silence, complete and all enveloping, surrounds the campus political scene today. Candidates still refuse to say if they will or won't run for office and ASUO President Tom Wrightson has not received any petitions for the primary.

Wednesday is the deadline for filing for spots on either the Associated Greek Students or United Independent Students primary ballots. This year, for the first time, the campus will see an open primary, one in which the students get to choose the party for which they wish to vote.

Campus political experts were predicting that no primary petitions would appear in Wrightson's office until Wednesday afternoon. As one of them put it, "when the deadline comes, a line will probably extend from the third floor to the Student Union fishbowl."

The Independent party has declared a "hands off" policy toward the primary, and the ASUO senate also voted to do nothing except run the election. The Greek party has so far issued no statement as to its

West Point Trip New For UO Debate Team

the University of Oregon will send Military Academy. a debate team to the West Point National Invitational tournament

UO to Hear Noted Writer

Henry S. Commager, one of the most prolific writers of American history, will speak at 8 p. m. next College were the only two colleges Monday in the Student Union ballroom.

writer, who is currently a professor of history at Columbia University, will speak on "The Conduct of Foreign Policy."

Some of his books on foreign policy and American history include "America in Prospective,' "The Heritage of America" and "The Rise of the American Nation." His books on American documents is used as a text on the University campus.

Commager's Ph.B. degree was obtained from the University of Chicago, and his M.A. from the University of Copenhagen, Denmark, the following year. He later returned to the University of Chicago for his Ph.D

at New York university.

For the first time in history, sponsored by the United States

The University debate squad was invited to participate in the tournament on the basis of its record for the past year. The invitation was announced by the regional West Point committee at the Linfield Forensic Tournament of Champions, March 6. Only recent- lice near Florence Saturday and ly were enough funds secured for the team to make the trip.

Oregon and Washington State The widely-known educator and ho, and Montana, to receive invitations to the tournament.

tournament, which will be held road signs. April 21 to 24 at West Point. This will be the first time the men have for their outstanding debating, ac- girls.

cording to Herman Cohen, director West Point with the team.

Thirty two colleges from all expected to participate in this names. Bob Glass, president of bate topic will be "Free Trade."

stand

Police Arrest O Students Seven University students were arrested by the Oregon State Pocharged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages.

The students were arrested near Westlake, south of Florence, and from the Northwest region, which were charged with illegal possesincludes Oregon, Washington, Ida- sion. Six of the students pleaded guilty before Florence Justice of the Peace C. S. Carlson and were The debate team of Karl Harsh- fined $15 and costs apiece. A sevbarger, senior in speech, and Don enth student was fined $50 and Micklewait, junior in economics, costs on a charge of destroying have been chosen to attend the state property by tearing down

Carlson would not divulge the names of the students when conbeen on the same team. During the tacted Sunday. He did say, howpast year they were on different ever, that there were "two or teams, but both have won honors three boys" and the rest were Dorothy Kopp, president of of forensics. Cohen will travel to Kappa Alpha Theta, later confirmed a report that the women involved were members of her soparts of the United States are rority. She did not disclose their meet. "Among these there will be Phi"Kappa Psi, also admitted that both large and small schools rep- some of the men involved were Prior to his professorship at resented, bringing the top debate members of his fraternity. He said Columbia university, Commager squads of the country into compe- that a total of four men were inwas with the history department tition," commented Cohen. The de- volved, but would disclose no names.

Recorder Henry Beistel Wednesday, according to Hale Thompson, attorney for the group which is opposing the decision.

Thompson, attorney for the Citizens Zoning association, which is opposing the recent council zoning of the area, and Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration are holding the completed petitions until that date.

Both have urged anyone holding completed petitions to submit them as soon as possible. Morris will accept them at his office in Commonwealth hall. Thompson's office is at 874 Willamette St.

Thursday has been established as the official deadline for filing the petitions. City Attorney John Remington said Friday that under his interpretation the law states that the petitions must be submitted within 30 days of the time of council passage of the ordinance. The ordinance did not become effective until March 9 when Mayor V. Edwin Johnson signed it.

Thompson said the bearers of petitions must certify each signature, and that signers must be registered voters living within the city limits. Members of the Zoning association have urged all University students who are eligible to sign the petitions. The attorney said those who wish to sign petitions may do so by calling 5-6874, 5-3976, 5-7196 or 5-1866.

Thompson also explained that the association will meet tonight bys and Jackie Wardell.

The University of Oregon will be the site of next year's regional convention of the Independent Students association, the group decided at its meeting at Oregon State Saturday.

Attended by independent students from colleges in Washington, Oregon and Idaho, the convention will be held during winter term next year, Hollis Ransom, head of the Oregon delegation announced.

-Tom Shepherd, senior in political science, was elected convention secretary for the coming year. Other officers elected were Eldon McClure, WSC, .president: Don Dieterick, OSC, vice president, and Betty Cowen, WSC, corresponding secretary.

Oregon's delegation led three discussion groups during the two day meeting at OSC. Shepherd was moderator for discussions on "Is organization necessary for participation in student government?" and "Planning and organizing conventions." Ransom lead a discussion on "Participation in local living group activities."

Besides Ransom and Shepherd, Oregon's delegation included Sally Berlow, Russ Cowell, Marna Gehrman, Harriet Hornbeck, John Vaz-