

Author to Give Assembly Talk

Theodore Morrison, professor of English at Harvard University and author of "The Dream of Alceste," a poem currently being presented in dramatic form by the Eugene Very Little Theater, will speak in a University assembly in the Student Union ballroom at 1 p. m. today. He will be featured at a coffee hour at 4 p. m. in the Dad's lounge.

For many years Morrison has been a member of the editorial board of Atlantic Monthly magazine and director of the famous Bread Loaf Writers' conference at Middlebury, Vermont.

Robert Frazier, reporter for the Eugene Register-Guard and former Nieman fellow, has described Morrison as "a delightful personality, a man whose modesty can deceive you until you encounter his wisdom and humor."

Works by Morrison include a novel, "Stones of the House," a best-seller, "Serpent in the Cloud," "Notes of Death and Life," "The Devious Way" and "The Portable Chaucer."

He assisted in the publication of "Five Kinds of Writing," a text for literary aspirants.

Morrison served in the airforce during the second world war.

Engineer to Give Millrace Report

William C. Clubb, Eugene city engineer, will report on his study of the millrace at a meeting tonight in the Student Union, according to ASUO President Tom Wrightson.

Eugene City Manager Robert A. Finlayson will also attend the meeting, Wrightson said.

Clubb has been studying the millrace situation and the possibilities of restoring the flow of water. Wrightson expressed the opinion that, "There is not much chance of any major improvement," but added that it may be possible to raise the water level.

J. O. Lindstrom, University business manager; I. I. Wright, superintendent of the physical plant; and Sidney W. Little, dean of the school of architecture and allied arts are expected to attend the meeting.

Several members of the ASUO senate will also attend, Wrightson said.

Joint Concert Slated By Baritone, Soprano

Baritone Lawrence Winters, appearing Wednesday night at McArthur court in a combined concert with Soprano Adele Addison, is currently making his sixth American concert tour under the management of Impresario S. Hurok.

The concert, a Civic Music presentation, is set for 8 p. m. and is free to all students on presentation of student body cards.

A graduate of Howard university, where he earned his tuition singing with the Eva Jessye choir, Winters was "discovered" by Hurok in 1946 while singing in the GI musical, "Call Me Mister." Previously he had also appeared as soloist with Stokowsky and the NBC Symphony for Beethoven's Ninth symphony.

Making his debut in 1947 at Town Hall, the baritone has since completed two European tours, four seasons with the New York City Opera and tours in Mexico and the West Indies in addition to his five American concert tours.

Winters' operatic performances include roles in such favorites as "Pagliacci," "Aida," "Carmen" and "The Love for Three Oranges." Last year he won the praise of New York critics for his assumption of the title role in "Rigoletto," a part which he had never sung before, on just a few hours' notice.

Creative Workshop Petitions Called In

Petitions are due Friday at 5 p. m. for chairmanships and staffing of the Student Union creative arts workshop program committees, according to Valeria Cowles, general chairman.

Groups will be organized to run a series of talent searches in all fields of original creative work on campus, including music, dance, literature and drama, and for work on general continuity in the presentation of the SU-sponsored program. The program will be held Friday, May 21.

Petitions may be picked up on the third floor of the SU and turned in there or to Miss Cowles at Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Library Displays French Drawings

Original French drawings of the sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth centuries are now on display in the circulation lobby of the library, according to John Lauber, administrative assistant.

The exhibit contains 21 drawings by Watteau, Fragonard, Greuze, Claude Lorrain and others. It is sponsored by the Franco-American Foundation of New York, and will remain at the library until Friday.

Youth Apprehended

A fifteen-year-old youth was taken into custody by Eugene police late Monday evening upon a complaint by members of Sigma Phi Epsilon, according to Bob Gray, president of the fraternity.

The youth was apprehended by members of Sig Ep when the home mascot alerted members of the fraternity that someone was prowling around the house.

Two other youths were with the one apprehended but they escaped, Gray stated. Police reported Tuesday morning that the names of the other two were known.

One of the boys admitted to Sig Eps that he had taken a canoe belonging to one of the members of the house during spring vacation. The canoe was recovered last week, Gray said.

No charges had been preferred against the youths by members of the house at Press time.

YW Training Sessions Start

A three-day leadership training program, sponsored by the YWCA, will be held in Gerlinger hall beginning today and lasting through Thursday. Sessions will be held from 3:30 to 5 p. m.

Nan Minnaugh, junior in English, is co-ordinator of the sessions, which are open to anyone interested in any phase of Y work. Today's session will be on group dynamics and how to use the techniques of group leadership.

Speaker for today's session is Herbert Bisno, assistant professor of sociology. A discussion will follow the speech, and will be moderated by Sylvia Wingard, junior in business.

YW, YM Sponsor Faculty-at-Home

A jointly-sponsored YWCA-YMCA faculty-at-home will be held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hatch, at 1744 E. 23rd street. Hatch is an instructor in art.

Hatch's private collection of folk songs on tape recordings will be used and the evening's discussion will center on folk lore.

Cars will leave Gerlinger hall at 7:15 p. m., for anyone wishing transportation. Anyone else who could furnish another car is also asked to stop at Gerlinger hall then, according to Donna Lory and Ken Bond, co-chairmen.

Cuthbert to Talk On Down-under

F. A. Cuthbert, professor of landscape architecture at the University, will speak on "Australia and New Zealand: Lands of Beauty and Compelling Interest," at the Student Union browsing room Thursday.

Scheduled to speak at 7:30 p. m. Cuthbert opens this term's lecture-forum series sponsored by the University library and the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon library. He will show colored slides on both countries to illustrate the lecture.

A graduate of the University of Michigan where he also received his M.L.D., Cuthbert taught at Oregon State college before coming to the University. While at OSC he published a book entitled "The Farm Home."

Until January of this year, Cuthbert was on a year's leave of absence in New Zealand under a Fulbright fellowship. There he did research on town planning and landscape architecture, visiting many of the major architectural schools in that country and also in Australia where he later studied. Cuthbert is a member of several architectural organizations and has been on several planning and housing commissions both state and local. At present he is a member of the housing committee of the American Society of Landscape Architects.

A discussion period will follow Cuthbert's talk, led by E. G. Moll, professor of English.

Miss Paugh Wins Award

Gwen Paugh, graduate assistant in Spanish, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship for study in France next year.

Miss Paugh will spend the year at the University of Toulouse studying language and literature. She will begin her academic work after a month's orientation program in Paris.

A 1953 graduate of the University, Miss Paugh was a member of Phi Beta Kappa's "Senior Six." She will leave for France next fall.

This is the second Fulbright to be awarded a University student this year. William Johnston, fifth year student in architecture, recently received a scholarship for study in Finland next year.

Summers to Seek AGS Nomination

The secrecy and silence which has shrouded most of campus politics to date was shattered Monday when Bob Summers, ASUO senator-at-large, announced to the Emerald that he would actively seek the ASUO presidency in the all-campus primary elections next week.

Summers told the Emerald that he would file for the office by the 6 p. m. Wednesday deadline. He will run on the Associated Greek Students ballot in the primary elections.

In a prepared statement, Summers said: "Several friends have asked recently if I planned to run for office this spring term, while others have gone farther in urging me to become a candidate for ASUO president. To these people, I would like to say that I feel very honored and very appreciative of their consideration."

"In deciding to run for ASUO president, I feel that under favorable circumstances anyone would probably run for the office."

Secrecy Disavowed
"At this stage, there doesn't seem to be any necessity for secrecy. Elections are only a week away and by this time in past years everyone knew who was running for office," the statement concluded.

Summers is a two-year veteran of the ASUO senate, having held the position of sophomore class president last year and ASUO senator-at-large this year. Summers has also served a one year term as president of his fraternity Theta Chi.

The presidential hopeful is president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary. His cumulative grade point average is 3.60; he made a 4.00 GPA winter term.

Summers is a member of Druids, junior men's honorary, and is holder, for his class, of the Standard Oil Co. scholarship. Last year, he was general co-chairman of Duke Preview. Two years ago, he won the Alpha Phi Omega trophy for the outstanding underclassman on campus.

In addition to his campus positions, Summers is vice-president of the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders. OFCL is a group composed of representatives from all Oregon colleges and universities.

Four File Petitions For Primary Ballot

Four candidates filed petitions to run in the ASUO primary elections Monday. Deadline for the petitions is Wednesday at 6 p. m. in the ASUO president's office, Student Union 304.

Running in the UIS primary for senator-at-large is Sam Vahey, sophomore in business, whose cumulative grade point average is 3.3, with a 3.4 for winter term. Doyle Higdon, sophomore in liberal arts, AGS, will run for the office of junior class president. His GPA is 3.7, with 3.9 winter term.

John Vazbys, junior in business, will run for senior class president in the UIS primary, and his GPA is 2.7. His winter term GPA was 2.2. Janet Ferris, freshman in liberal arts, will run for sophomore class representative in the AGS primary. Her GPA is 2.8, and she has a 3.1 for winter term.

The primary elections, which will be an all-campus primary in which students may vote for either slate, will be held April 14. The general elections are set for May 5.

Blood Drive to Feature Men Versus Women

A men-versus-women competition is the newest addition to the plans for the Red Cross board-sponsored blood drive to be held at McArthur court from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Friday, according to Mary Wilson, board chairman.

The men will be competing, on a percentage basis, for a group of Kwamas who will serve them dinner. A group of Scabbard and Blade members and two members of the newly-organized Command Squadron will go to the women's living organization which has the largest percentage of donors.

To the top donor will go the Red Cross plaque, which was won fall term by Gamma Phi Beta.

A goal of 300 pints has been set for the drive, the second held on campus this year. The ROTC department is encouraging the drive this term, and the department's honoraries, together with the pledge class of Gamma Phi Beta, are handling registration for the drive.

Names Released In Coast Arrest

Names of seven University of Oregon students arrested near Florence Saturday and charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages were released to the Emerald Monday afternoon by Florence Justice of the Peace C. S. Carlson, before whom the students appeared.

Charged with illegal possession were: Robert Baker, junior in history; Les Bergeron, sophomore in pre-med; Vivienne Brown, sophomore in English; Dale Carroll, freshman in liberal arts; Patrick Kittredge, freshman in liberal arts; and Margaret Wilson, sophomore in journalism. They were all fined $15 and $4.50 costs each, except Kittredge who was fined $25.

A seventh student, James Pingree, freshman in liberal arts, was fined $50 on a charge of petty larceny. He was charged with destroying state property by tearing down road signs.

An eighth party, identified on the officer's citation as Johnnie Hopp, was also arrested with the Oregon students. Hopp is not enrolled at the University.

Appointment cards have been delivered to all campus living organizations by members of the two military honoraries and Kwama. They are also available at the ROTC department and from Mrs. Elvina Stedman, housemother at Carson hall.

The appointment cards may be turned into living organization representatives, to the ROTC department, or to the special box provided in the Co-op. Parental permission slips, necessary only for donors under 21, are to be taken with the donor at the time he gives blood.

The Red Cross board has requested that all appointment slips be turned in before Thursday afternoon so that they will know how many donors to expect. Slips will be on file for students who have previously donated blood here. Current plans are for 80 donors to be handled per hour.

Donor qualifications listed by the Lane County Red Cross include:

1. A normal, healthy person weighing at least 110 pounds, between the ages of 21 and 59, inclusive. Students under 21 may donate if they present a parental permission slip.

2. A person who has had tuberculosis, undulant fever, jaundice, or a major surgery within the past year, may not donate.

3. Pregnant women or mothers of babies under one year of age cannot donate.

The Red Cross suggests that fatty or fried foods, butter and cream be avoided for a period of four hours prior to donation.

Uni House Tops GPA List

University house topped the campus in house grades for winter term, according to a list released by the Office of Student Affairs Monday, with a GPA of 2.97.

Last term Ordes ranked first with an average of 2.90. The all-University average rose from 2.5173 to 2.605 this term.

For the complete listing, see page two.
