

Australia, N. Z. Lecture By Cuthbert Is Tonight

Opening this term's Student Union browsing room lecture series tonight will be F. A. Cuthbert, professor of landscape architecture at the University.

Blood Donation Schedule Cards Are Due Today

Appointment cards for the Red Cross blood drive should be turned in today so that arrangements can be made for enough equipment to handle the donors, according to Mary Wilson, president of the sponsoring Red Cross board. The drive is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday in McArthur Court. The appointment cards may be turned in at the Co-op, the ROTC departments, or to members of Kwama, Scabbard and Blade, and Command Squadron.

Winners to Get Waiters
The men's living organization which has the largest percentage of donors will be served dinner by six members of Kwama: June Browning, Janet Gustafson, Anne Hill, Beverly Jones, Geri Porritt and Jo Zehnder. Bob Bradbury, Navarre Davis, Joe Kennedy and Fritz Fraunfelder, members of Command Squadron, will entertain the women's living organization which has the largest percentage of donors.

And Coffee Minus Cream
The Red Cross recommends that donors avoid fatty or fried foods for a period of four hours before their donation. This includes butter and cream, fruit or fruit juices, jam, marmalade, honey, preserves, dry toast and crackers may be eaten, along with tea or coffee, with sugar but without cream.

Qualifications of a donor listed by the Lane County Red Cross include:

- Qualifications Listed
1. A normal, healthy, person weighing at least 110 pounds, between the ages of 21 and 59 inclusive.
 2. Anyone who has reached his 60th birthday may not donate.
 3. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 21 may be a donor with the parents consent.
 4. A person who has ever had tuberculosis, undulant fever, jaundice, or who has had major surgery within one year, may not be a donor.
 5. A pregnant woman or a mother of a baby under one year of age cannot donate.

Monday Talk Set By Noted Historian

"The Conduct of Foreign Policy" will be the topic of a lecture to be given Monday at 8 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom by Henry S. Commager, professor of history at Columbia university.

Commager is a widely-known educator and writer. His book on American documents is used by United States history classes on campus. Among the books which Commager has written are "America in Perspective," "The Heritage of America" and "The Rise of the American Nation."

The author-historian has degrees from the University of Chicago and the University of Copenhagen, Denmark. Before assuming his teaching duties at Columbia, he was with the history department at New York university.

Scheduled to speak at 7:30 p.m., Cuthbert's topic will be "Australia and New Zealand: Lands of Beauty and Compelling Interest." He will illustrate the talk with colored slides of both countries, which he took while doing research there.

Cuthbert graduated from the University of Michigan, where he also received his M.L.D. He taught at Oregon State college in the capacity of assistant professor before coming to the University in 1932.

Wrote 'Farm Home'
While at OSC, Cuthbert published a book entitled "The Farm Home," published by the Oregon State experiment station in 1932. He was also on the editorial staff of "American Landscape Architect," a national professional magazine for architects.

Becoming a full professor in 1948, Cuthbert was also elected president of the Oregon Society of Landscape Architects that year.

Last year Cuthbert was on a leave of absence from the University under a Fulbright fellowship. He did research on town planning and landscape architecture in New Zealand and Australia, also visiting the major architectural schools there.

On Planning Groups
At present Cuthbert is a member of the housing committee of the American Society of Landscape Architects and is on the National City Planning conference in this country. He writes for numerous periodicals in his field and has taken part on many government housing commissions.

The lecture will be followed by a discussion led by E. G. Moll, professor of English.

Mom's Weekend Workers Needed

Chairmen for the various committees for Mothers Weekend have been requested by Donna Lory, general chairman for the weekend. Positions available include chairmanships of housing, the Mothers breakfast, the tea, hospitality, tickets, awards, publicity and promotion.

Petitions for the posts are due Tuesday to Miss Lory at Pi Beta Phi or the program director's office in the Student Union.

Mothers Weekend will be held May 14 and 15 at the same time as Junior Weekend. Special Events will be planned for the mothers on campus that weekend and they will also be able to take part in the Junior Weekend activities, Miss Lory said.

All Names Due Fri. For Queen Contest

Names of all candidates for Junior Weekend queen must be submitted by 5 p. m. Friday, according to Pat Beard, chairman. Names should be turned in to Miss Beard at Gamma Phi Beta.

Queen candidates must be junior women with a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA and a 2.00 GPA winter term, Miss Beard said.

Queen eliminations will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with the semi-finalists announced on Thursday. Voting on the court will be held April 21.

Registrar's Office
Announces Figures

A total of 3,460 students were enrolled at Oregon as of the end last week, which is three per cent below last spring term's figure, according to the registrar's office.

Of the total number, 2,223 are men and 1,237 are women. This means that there are 237 too many women for them to enjoy a perfect 2 to 1 ratio.

Youth Questioned, Released by Police

Eugene police reported Wednesday afternoon that the youth taken into custody Monday evening on a complaint by members of Sigma Phi Epsilon was released after questioning and that no charges had been filed.

Any action, according to police, would have to come from the juvenile authorities who will look into the case.

The 15 year old youth apprehended by Sig Eps did not have a police record.

Mrs. Clark
Dies in Fire

Mrs. Abigail Clark, wife of Dan E. Clark, professor emeritus of history, died in a fire which swept through the upstairs of the Clark home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Clark, who was 71, was upstairs when the blaze started, according to her husband. Firemen had the fire under control about 15 minutes after it was reported.

Oberteuffer to Speak On 'Human Resources'

Delbert Oberteuffer, professor of physical education at Ohio State university, will speak in the Student Union ballroom tonight at 8 on the "Conservation of Human Resources."

The speaker, who is a representative to the World Health Organization of the United Nations, will also discuss his work with that organization.

He will speak in conjunction with the 23rd annual convention of the Northwest District of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which is meeting on the campus through Saturday. His lecture is sponsored jointly by the convention and the University Lectures committee.

Oberteuffer received his bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon, and both his master's and doctor's degrees from Columbia university. He has served as president of the College Physical Education Association, and was also secretary and editor for the Ohio Association for Health and Physical Education.

The talk will be the only public session of the convention. Two other guest speakers will also highlight the conference sessions. They are George F. Anderson, assistant executive secretary of the AAHPER, and Henrietta A. R. Anderson, director of recreation at Victoria, B. C.

English Educator Speaks Tuesday

Kenneth Lindsay, member of parliament for English universities from 1933 to 1950, will be the University assembly speaker April 13, speaking on "Politics in the Atomic Age; Challenge to Universities."

Lindsay has held several posts in the British government, including director of migration, founder of political and economic planning, founder of youth service, chairman of national bank league and delegate to Hague and the Strasbourg Conference.

He is the author of two books, "Social Progress and Educational Waste," and "English Education." A frequent contributor to magazines, his articles have appeared in the Manchester Guardian, the Observer, Fortnightly and Spectator.

First Eugene appearance for the educator is scheduled tonight at 8 p. m. at the Congregational church. He will speak on "The British Political Deadlock."

Lindsay's first appearance on campus will be Monday, when he will speak at 10 a. m. in 332 Commonwealth hall to political science classes. From 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. he will speak at a dinner of Pi Sigma Alpha and International Relations club.

Tuesday he will have lunch with the assembly committee, and after the one o'clock assembly will appear at a coffee-hour forum at 4

Daily Takes Stand
As Trail Continues

The trial of John David Daily, senior in mathematics, on a charge of attempted extortion continued Wednesday, with the defendant taking the witness stand on his own behalf.

Daily told the court that he had been driving a log truck on December 31, one of the dates that had figured predominantly in the state's case against him. On the other two key dates, January 4 and 18, he contended that he had been on campus, attending classes, drinking coffee, or driving a school bus in the Cal Young area.

At one point in the afternoon session, while the courtroom was crowded, but when the trial was not in progress, Daily sought out Eugene Detective Edward Bunch, who had arrested him and who identified him on the stand. He accused Bunch of lying.

Earlier in the trial Bunch had testified that Daily, while in jail, had threatened to kill him. And, Daily admitted to the jury Tuesday afternoon, "At the time I meant it."

No Deals or Blocks,
But Individualism,
Advocates Light

A plea for a campaign on the individual level was issued Wednesday by Jim Light, junior class president, who is a candidate for the Associated Greek Students nomination for ASUO president in the all-campus primary election next week.

"I believe that every individual should take it upon himself to consider the qualifications of candidates on his own and not let the leading 'politician' of his house enter into any political deals binding the whole membership of the house to vote as a block," Light told the Emerald.

Light said that he would consider this view as the philosophy of his campaign. "I won't expect any individual to vote for me because of his association with a particular group," Light said.

He also announced his opposition to the system of lining up houses in voting blocks.

In making the statement, Light said that he was not pointing an accusing finger at any of the candidates in the present election although he said he knew that such deals were being made. His judgment was based on conduct in past campaigns, he said.

Light also urged other candidates to conduct their campaigns on this individual level for greater honesty and fairness in the coming elections.
