

Historian Talks In SU Tonight

"The Conduct of Foreign Policy" will be discussed by Henry S. Commager, professor of history at Columbia university, tonight at 8 p. m. in the Student Union ballroom.

The author-historian will also appear at a coffee hour forum at 4 p. m. today in the SU. The coffee hour will be devoted to a brief discussion by the speaker of current foreign policy problems followed by a question and answer period, according to Bob McCracken, SU coffee hour forum chairman.

Commager's appearance here is one of only three in the Pacific Northwest. He will also visit Reed college, Portland, and Washington State college. He appeared in several California colleges last month.

Bricker Bill Opponent

Well-known as a speaker and writer in the New York area, Commager has been a strong opponent of the recently defeated Bricker amendment. He has also written for the New York Times magazine and other periodicals on other current issues.

The lecturer's appearance at the University is being sponsored by the Failing Distinguished Lecture Series committee.

Book Used on Campus

One of Commager's books, a collection of American documents, is used by United States history classes on campus. Other works by the lecturer include "America in Perspective," "The Heritage of America" and "The Rise of the American Nation."

Before taking over his present position as professor of history at Columbia university, Commager taught at the history department at New York university. The historian holds degrees from the University of Chicago and the University of Copenhagen.

Morrison Is Forum Guest

Theodore Morrison, professor of English at Harvard university and last week's University assembly speaker, will be a guest on the University radio forum Monday night.

"Old Stories in New Forms" is the topic of the forum. Hoyt Trowbridge, professor of English, will act as moderator. Other participants will be E. G. Moll, professor of English, and F. M. Cornbellack, associate professor of classical languages.

The program is broadcast each Monday night at 8:30 by KOAC.

Other stations carrying the broadcasts are: KERG, Eugene; KCMC, McMinnville; KODL, The Dalles; KLEM, La Grande; KSVR, Ontario; KFJI, Klamath Falls; and KRWL, Corvallis.

Twenty-five candidates will be selected at Tuesday night's eliminations. Suits and heels will be in order, according to Pat Beard, chairman. The candidates will go before a board of four judges for three-minute interviews. Candidates whose last name are in the A to M group should appear at the Student Union at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, Miss Beard said. The N to Z group will be interviewed beginning at 8 p. m.

The twenty-five candidates selected Tuesday night will appear before the judges Wednesday night in formals. Interviews will be four minutes long, Miss Beard said.

The twelve semi-finalists chosen Wednesday night will be announced in Thursday's Emerald. The campus will vote Wednesday and Thursday next week to select the five finalists for the Junior Weekend court.

OSC GETS 'EM BUT ...

No Housemother For Oregon Men

Oregon's fraternities will not have housemothers in the near future, Director of Men's Affairs Ray Hawk told the Emerald Saturday.

Hawk was contacted following the announcement Thursday by Oregon State College Dean of Men Dan W. Poling that all OSC fraternities must make provision for a full-time resident housemother by September, 1955.

"We have no such thought at the present time," Hawk said,

"For the obvious reason that Oregon's fraternities are in a financial plight." He said that few of the fraternity houses are physically equipped for a housemother and that the additional facilities would be an extra financial burden.

Cases of misconduct, drop in fraternity scholarship, negligence of social training, increase in "night riding," and indulgence in some phases of "Hell Week" by some fraternities have contributed to the need for the housemother plan at OSC, Poling said.

One of OSC's 30 fraternities currently has a house mother. The fraternity system is now in its 49th year at Oregon State. The first chapter was established in 1905.

Poling's announcement was made at a gathering of fraternity chapter presidents, and members of the Alumni Inter-fraternity Council of OSC.

Sub-Chairmanships For Weekend Open

Petitions for sub-chairmen for Junior Weekend promotion are due Tuesday at 5 p. m. on the third floor of the Student Union, according to John Vazbys, promotion committee chairman.

Positions open on the committee include an assistant promotion co-chairman for Junior Prom and for the all-campus sing, and co-chairmen for special stunts, invitations and flying speeches.

Daily Found Guilty In Extortion Case

John Daily, 23-year-old senior in mathematics, was found guilty early Saturday morning on a charge of threatening extortion. The verdict was returned at 1:37 a. m. after 10 hours of deliberation.

Circuit Judge William G. East announced that he would order a pre-sentence investigation before passing sentence. Daily faces a maximum two-year penitentiary sentence, or he could be given probation after the pre-sentence investigation.

The trial continued for five days before a verdict was reached by the jury of eight men and four women.

Daily was convicted of threatening to extort money from a Eugene housewife through a series of telephone calls in December and early January.

Blood Drive Success, Reports County Head

"The blood drive would have been a great success had all those who made appointments to donate showed up Friday," Melvin Irving, chairman of the Lane County Red Cross blood program, told the Emerald Sunday.

"As it was, it was moderately successful," he said, and mentioned particularly the work done by members of Kwama, Scabbard and Blade, the Command Squadron and the Red Cross board on the drive.

A total of 180 pints was collected from 199 donors, he said. This was 120 under the goal of 300. Fall term 216 pints were collected from 262 donors in a day-long drive.

Phi Sigma Kappa topped the houses with a 100 percent plus donations from its members. Thirteen Phi Sigs are registered on the Student Affairs list, and 14 donors listed Phi Sigs as their living organization. Earlier in the week the group pledged 100 percent donorship. The Red Cross board plaque will be awarded to the Phi Sigs. They will also be entertained by a group of Kwamas for leading the men's living organizations in the drive.

Top women's house, and also tops in the actual number of donors, was Gamma Phi Beta, with 19 donors for percentage of approximately 42. The Gamma Phi's won last fall's blood drive. A group of Scabbard and Blade and Command Squadron members will entertain the organization and serve them dinner.

Lindsay to Speak Again Tomorrow

Kenneth Lindsay, British author and statesman who will speak at the Tuesday assembly, spoke on "Berlin to Geneva" this morning at 10 a. m.

Lindsay's main appearance on campus, however, will be his University assembly lecture Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the Student Union ballroom. His topic will be "Politics in the Atomic Age: Challenge to Universities."

Tonight the lecturer will be guest of honor at a dinner meeting of Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary, and the International Relations club.

Appears At Forum

As well as speaking at the assembly Tuesday, Lindsay will appear at a coffee hour forum at 4 p. m. the same day in the SU Dad's Lounge. He will also be the guest at a luncheon sponsored by the assembly committee Tuesday noon.

Lindsay has held several important positions within the British government. He was a member of Parliament for English universities from 1933 to 1950. He has also held the positions of Civil Lord of the Admiralty, 1935 to 1943, and Minister of Education, 1937 to 1940.

Prominent Author

A prominent British author, Lindsay has written "Social Progress and Educational Waste" and "English Education." He is also a contributor to the Manchester Guardian, Observer, Fortnightly, and Spectator.

Friday and Saturday, Lindsay attended a joint meeting of Northwest and Western Political associations in Corvallis. Thursday evening he spoke to the Eugene Council on World Affairs on "The British Political Deadlock."

Primary Elections To Be Wednesday

The all-campus primary elections will be held Wednesday from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., with voting booths located in seven strategic spots on campus.

Each candidate will be handed ballots for both the Associated Greek Students and the United Independent Students parties. Voters are to mark only one of the ballots and return both to the poll attendant, according to Bob Funk, ASUO vice-president and in charge of the elections.

Voters are to vote in the ASUO section for president and senators-at-large, and in their class section for class officers. The class section will be circled by the poll attendant.

Fifty-Nine Candidates

A total of 59 candidates are running in the primaries, with three candidates for ASUO president. They are Jim Light, AGS, Hollis Ransom, UIS, and Bob Summers, AGS.

Twelve candidates for senator-at-large will appear on the AGS ballot, with thirteen running on the UIS ballot. There are five candidates for senior class president, six for junior class president and two for sophomore president.

Booth Locations

Voting booths will be located in Commonwealth tunnel, John Straub dining hall foyer, Carson hall lobby, the east foyer of the library, the Co-op, the Student Union terrace and in the back lounge of French hall.

Mom's Day Petitions Should Be in Tuesday

Students have until Tuesday to file petitions for Mother's Week-end committee chairmen. General Chairman Donna Lory has announced. The petitions may be turned in to Miss Lory at Pi Beta Phi or to the Junior Weekend office on the third floor of the Student Union.

Petitions have been called for housing, breakfast, tea, hospitality, tickets, awards, publicity and promotion committee chairmen.

DIAMONDS IN ROUGH

Tuesday Deadline for 'Ugly Men'

Herman, Abner, Mort, Zeke, and Ivan: Ugly Man Winners

Tuesday is the deadline for nominations for the title of "Ugliest Man on Campus." Any University man is eligible for nominations, according to Harlan Heyden, chairman of the drive.

Nominations for the title are to be turned in to Heyden at Pi Kappa Alpha or by calling 5-6866. The contest is sponsored annually by Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service fraternity, with the proceeds going to the World University Service fund drive.

The winner of the contest will receive Herman, the Moose, if the trophy can be found, and an "Ugly Man" mug. His sponsoring organization will receive a plaque.

Nominees will be announced Wednesday and milk bottles, one for each nominee, will be placed in Student Union and Co-op to receive the money of each man's sponsors. At the end of the week, the men with the most money will be named as semi-finalists.

The winner will be announced at the Vodvil show April 23.
