Westminster Foundation

Westminsterites, Presbyterian church center at the University, are planning their annual spring retreat to the coast for Easter weekend, April 16 to 18. The theme of the retreat is "Spiritual Maturity," and the principal speaker will be Kenneth L. Holmes, freelance writer, now studying for his doctorate in history at the University of Oregon. General chairman for the retreat is Bob Dean, past president of the Westminster Student association. Assisting him are: Randy Middleton, worship chairman; Maureen Rice, foods chairman; Jerry Malone, entertainment chairman; Don Shreve, jobs chairman; Keith Heller, transportation and contact chairman; and Lorin Larson, publicity chairman. The group will leave Eugene at 4 p.m. today, and travel in a caravan of cars to the First Presbyterian church in Dallas, Oregon, where the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Benbow, will entertain the group with a light supper. Following this, the students will go to the Chapel-by-the-Sea, Presbyterian conference grounds at Nelscott, Orgeon, where they will hold the retreat. The group will return to Eugene Sunday evening. Of particular interest, according to worship chairman Randy Middleton, will be the Easter sunrise service planned for 6:30 a.m. Sunday at "Road's End," a cliff which overlooks the ocean. Professor Collects Weird Wordisms

By Associated Press

Madison, Wis. — Professor Frederick Cassidy of the University of Wisconsin, who collects odd words like some collect postage stamps, has been branching out and collecting provincialisms outside Wisconsin.

He's turned up submarines in South Bend, Indiana, for instance—submarines that will never put to sea. For these subs are oblong, jelly-filled doughnuts.

In the East, he says, gravy is called "lip lobby," a cloudless day is a "civil" day, and when it clouds up, it's "smurring up."

In the South, a frankfurter on a long bun is a "poor boy." The last piece of food on a plate is a "manners piece." A mule is a "mountain canary," and a cyclone shelter is a "fraid hole."

charge of the evening fellowship hour at 5:30.

Sitter is provided at the house during the program following the dinner. All married students are invited by the hosts to come.

Wesley Foundation

Good Friday services will be held at 6 p.m. tonight in Alumni hall at Gerlinger. Bill Walker and Rose Warner, who are in charge of the program, will talk on Judas' betrayal of Christ. In addition, there will be singing, prayer, meditation and Bible reading.

At 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Wesleyans will attend Easter sunrise service at Hayward field. Following the service, all Wesleyans are invited to a progressive Easter breakfast, starting at Gerlinger hall. The group will then go to the homes of Jackie Meadows and Dixie Miller. After the breakfast everyone is urged to attend worship services at the First Methodist church, 9:45 and 11 a.m. The sermon, given by Rev. Berlyn Farris, will be "Toward the Dawn." Rides will be furnished from Gerlinger hall at 9:30 a.m. Sunday evening, following a light supper, the vesper service will be held.

The usual Tuesday potluck will be at 5:30 p.m.

There will be a chapel service at 12:00 m. Thursday. The choir will have a practice at 6:30 p.m.

Wesley Foundation students will give the evening worship service at the state conference of the Women's society of Christian Service, to be held in Eugene, April 22. A religious dance group will interpret the hymn, "All Creatures of Our God and King." The choir will sing the anthem, "Te Deum." Bob Hastings, Marilyn Fullerton and Jackie Meadows will report on the national conference of the Methodist Youth movement, which they attended. Kenneth Peterson will report on the progress of the new Wesley Foundation building.

The annual spring conference of the Oregon Methodist Student movement will be at Camp Magruder, near Tillamook, April 23 to 25. Those interested in attending should contact Ken Peterson or Tom Warnock immediately. Glenn Olds, chaplain of the Denver University student group, will be the platform speaker. The theme of the conference is "Pass It On," and will deal with Christian witness.
