Huls, Schlosstein Spark Win Over Washington

A two run homer by Dick Schlosstein and a fine "fireman" stint on the part of pitcher Trent Huls gave Oregon's Ducks a 3-1 decision over the University of Washington Tuesday afternoon before a chilly crowd of 1,300 at Howe field.

Schlosstein's blow came in the bottom half of the fourth inning with teammate Johnny Keller poked on first base. The 370 foot hits by the Ducks, gave up one base on balls, and struck out one Oregon batter.

As the ball game opened, Huls walked the first two men to face him, struck out the next batter, and then walked Larry Watson to fill the bases. A force out at the plate and an infield grounder ended the danger, however.

Washington got its only run in the seventh frame when Sage hit a pop fly double to left field, and rode home on Scott's crisp two baser to center.

Oregon's third run was scored in the fifth, again on a series of two base blows. Jim Johnson socked a ground rules double to the hedge in right field and scored on another two base hit by Johnny Keller.

Oregon's fielding looked especially sharp, since the locals came up with two double plays.

Keller was the top Webfoot batter with three hits in four trips to the plate. Sage had the same mark for Washington. Johnson and Schlosstein each got two hits apiece.

TUESDAY RESULTS
Washington, 1, at OREGON, 3

poke rolled over the bank in left center field, and broke up a tight pitcher's duel between Huls and Husky hurler Bill Reams.

It was Huls, himself, who saved the day for the Ducks in the first half of the ninth. With two out, Ed Sage lofted a long triple between right and center, and Jack Scott followed with a walk. Huls settled down then, and got Jack Ballard, who had hit two home runs the day before, to pop out to second baseman Jim Johnson.

Back in Second
The triumph put Oregon back in second place in the Northern Division standings, half a game ahead of the Huskies, and two full games behind the front-running Beavers.

Except for a brief lapse in the first, seventh and ninth innings, Huls had the Huskies well under control. He gave up six hits, struck out 2, and walked 4. His fielding mates gave him flawless support.

Reams, who went the distance for Washington, was nipped by 11
