

TOO LATE NOW

No Independents Added to Ballot

No additional candidates have filed as independents on the ballot for the general elections Wednesday, according to

Emerald Petitions Must Be in Today

Today is the deadline for Emerald editor and business manager petitions for the first half of the 1954-55 school year.

Petitions should be left in the main office of the mezzanine of the Student Union.

Candidates for the Emerald positions will be interviewed by the Student Publications board Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Student Union.

Both the editor and business manager positions pay $70 a month.

Today Deadline For YM Photos

Today at 5 p. m. is the deadline for entries in the YMCA snapshot contest. Entries may be turned in to the YM office in the Student Union anytime before 5, according to Dick Allen, co-chairman of the contest.

Any student may enter up to three black and white pictures. The first place winner will receive $10. Pictures must be on some phase of "campus life," theme of the contest.

Money for the prizes was donated by five Eugene camera stores and studios. Donors were Kennell-Ellis, Wiltshires, Coburns, Fehley and Dot Dotsons. Winners of the contest will be announced later this week.

Chem Students Plan For Armitage Picnic

Chemistry students will hold their annual picnic May 8 at Armitage park. Charges are 75c per person or $2 for a family of three or more.

Heading this year's picnic are Judy Harris, Bob Pilmer, and George Gorin.

High School Writers Receive Work Awards

Twenty outstanding Oregon high school journalists have been awarded $5,000 in "work scholarships" for the 1954-55 school year, according to an announcement by Gordon A. Sabine, dean of the school of journalism.

The students, elected on the basis of aptitude for journalism, scholastic standing and financial need, were recommended by their journalism advisers who worked through the Oregon Scholastic Press.

In observance of the opening of the new Eric W. Allen journalism hall, a record number of scholarships were awarded, according to Sabine.

Each award winner will get a

Bob Funk, ASUO vice-president.

Deadline for non-partisan filing was Friday at 5 p. m., according to Funk, with the final ballot being made up after that deadline. The ballot appears in today's Emerald as it will be used in the elections.

Voting booths will be placed at six locations, instead of the seven used for the primary elections. The number of booths was cut at the last ASUO senate meeting, Thursday night.

One at Carson

Booths will be located at Carson hall, the Student Union, the square in front of Commonwealth hall, the Co-op, in front of John Straub hall and in front of the library.

Members of campus honoraries will again serve as poll attendants, Funk said. Additional workers will be needed, and may contact Funk at the ASUO office before Wednesday.

Preferential Voting Used

Voting procedure will be preferential, with voters using number one for their presidential choice and voting for as many candidates as they wish to.

Each voter will be given an ASUO ballot, composed of the ASUO presidential candidates and the senators-at-large. They will also be given the ballot for their class officers, which will also be counted preferentially.

NICE THING IN STORE

Duck Preview Guest Likes Oregon's Broadmindedness

Terry Dirks was assigned to Delta Delta Delta for Duck Preview.

Terry's roommates for the weekend were to be Sarah Smith and Charmayne Charley, both members of the sorority. Like any good host, Miss Smith wrote a letter explaining some of the events and asking for a description to aid in arranging a date for her guest.

She received the following letter in reply:

"Dear Sarah; "Thanks a lot for your letter. Can truly say that it was one of the most delightful surprises that has ever happened to me.

"Hoped that college would hold many nice things in store for me but never dreamed that one of my first experiences would be to stay at a sorority house. Even thinking of such an affair does things to me.

"Will be most happy to stay with you and Charmayne. In fact, the word happy is a very feeble expression of my feelings.

"The list of events for the Duck Preview really sounds swell and truly appreciate your obtaining a date for me. My height is 5 feet 10 inches, weight 185 and am a blond with a crew haircut.

"Incidentally, there are a couple of other fellows coming to Eugene with me and they to want to stay at the Tri-Delt house.

"Since you haven't time to write me again, will see you in person to discuss this in further detail.

Classics Professor from Princeton To Give Browsing Room Lecture

Benjamin Dean Meritt, professor of classics at the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N. J., will give this week's Student Union browsing room lecture.

Meritt will speak at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday on "New Sources for Ancient History." He will illustrate his talk with colored slides. David M. Dougherty, head of the foreign language department, will lead a discussion period after the lecture.

A native North Carolinian, Meritt was graduated from Hamilton college. He obtained his A. M. from Princeton university and his Ph.D. from Oxford university. He also holds an LL.D. from the University of Glasgow.

Taught at Vermont

In 1935 Merritt joined the faculty at the Institute for Advanced Study. He also has taught at the University of Vermont, University of Michigan, Brown university, Princeton, John Hopkins and Oxford. Included in his teaching field are Greek, Latin and classical literature and ancient history.

Writes in Classical Field

At one time Meritt was director of the American School of Classical Studies in Athens. He also has been director of Athens college.

"The Athenian Tribute Lists" is the title of the latest of several writings by Meritt in the classical field. He has held the position of editor of the American Journal of Philology.

Meritt is a member of both the American Philological association and the American Philosophical society.

Essay Writer To Win Cash

An essay written in Spanish may be worth $25, according to L. O. Wright, professor of Romance languages. Deadline for submitting essays is May 21.

The John Watson Vogan Spanish Essay prize of $25 is given annually to the best student essay in Spanish. The prize is offered by the University through an endowment from Mrs. Grace Dawson Vogan in memory of her husband, the late John Watson Vogan.

Essays may be submitted to the department of foreign languages, Friendly 222.

Leeper Gives Talk To Psych Honorary

Robert Leeper, head of the psychology department, will speak to Psi Chi, psychology honorary, at a luncheon meeting Tuesday noon.

Leeper will discuss the ideas in his paper on "Complex Intermediate Processes between Situation and Response; Their Methodological Implications." He will present this same paper as part of a symposium at the International Congress of Psychology in Montreal, Canada, in June.

Psi Chi members, faculty members, graduate students, and interested upper division students in psychology are invited to attend.

Fields Provides Jr. Prom Music

Dance Closing Hours Extended Until 2 a. m.

Bandleader Ernie Fields and his orchestra will play for the Junior Prom during Junior Weekend. The Prom will be held in the Student Union ballroom on Friday night, May 14.

Closing hours for the Prom will be 2 a. m. The dance will begin at 9 p. m., with coronation of the Junior Weekend queen during intermission at 10:30 p. m.

"Traditions in Review" will be the theme of this year's prom, tying in with the Junior Weekend

ERNIE FIELDS Here for Prom

theme, "College Capers." Dance decorations will depict traditions at Oregon.

Played Around Country

The band leader, Ernie Fields, has played in ballrooms, theaters, universities and colleges around the country, and for radio and television shows.

The negro musician's band features a variety of music, including boogie, blues, ballads, bop and symphonic swing. Field's band has been rated high among top bands of the country.

Ticket Sales Monday

Tickets for the Prom will go on sale on campus next Monday. Admission will $2.50.

The Prom will be highlighted by the queen's coronation and the Queen's dance. Other events taking place at Prom intermission will be presentation of the Geringer and Koyl cups, given each year to the outstanding junior woman and man on campus. Druids, junior men's honorary, also will tap new members.

White Caps to Meet

White Caps will meet Wednesday noon in Studio A in the library, according to Judith Pedersen, vice-president. A film on nursing will be shown. Everyone is asked to bring a sack lunch. All pre-nursing students and others who are interested are invited, said Miss Pedersen.

AFROTC Team Visits, Inspects University Unit

An Air University team from Montgomery, Ala., will be on campus today and Tuesday to inspect the University Air Force ROTC unit.

Today the team, consisting of Col. Roy Hillyer, Jr., Col. Bernard Campbell, and Maj. Charles Brookes, will consider general departmental problems, observe classroom teaching, and inspect records.

At the annual inspection Tuesday, winter term awards for outstanding basic Air Force ROTC cadets will be presented by Col. Hillyer. All Air Force cadets will be reviewed and inspected at the Tuesday 1 p. m. drill.

First year students, all in the upper two per cent of their class, receiving awards include: Bruno Tennant, Gene Lawrence, Stewart Johnson, Donald Bick, and Larry Anderson. The following second year men will receive awards: Richard Buffington, Doyle Higdon, Harvey Richmond, and Jon Steeds.

The review will be held on the field behind McArthur court and bleachers will be provided for those attending. The public is invited.

Oregon is the 17th university that the inspecting team has visited on its tour.