Clark Named to Head Department of Speech

Robert D. Clark, professor of speech and assistant dean of the college of liberal arts, Friday was named head of the speech department. Clark's appointment was the third change in department heads for the 1954-55 school year.

Robert Dubin, professor of sociology at the University of Illinois, was appointed last October as permanent head of the department of sociology. J. V. Berreman, professor of sociology, is acting head of the department this year.

Earl S. Pomeroy, professor of history, will serve as acting head of the history department in the absence of Gordon Wright, who will teach at Columbia university next year. Pomeroy is on leave of absence this year, studying under a Ford Foundation grant.

Clark's appointment is subject to the approval of the state board of higher education. He replaces Roy Clyde McCall, who was selected last week as president of Modesto college, Modesto, Calif.

Clark will continue to serve as assistant dean of the college of liberal arts, according to Dean Eldon Johnson. The position is only a part-time activity, Johnson said.

Clark has been at Oregon since 1943. He received his A.B. degree from Pasadena college in 1931, and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Southern

He was a Guggenheim fellow in 1950 and 1951. He has contributed articles to professional speech and history journals, and was president of the Western Speech association in 1947.

Economics Professor Plans Three Speeches

Simeon E. Leland, professor of economics and dean of the college of liberal arts at Northwestern university, will make three talks on the Oregon campus May 17 through 19.

Leland will be a guest of the department of economics. His special field of interest is taxation and fiscal policy.

His first talk will be given at a meeting of the Social Science club at 7:30 p. m., Monday. His topic will be "Current Fiscal Policy." The meeting will be in the Dad's room of the Student Union and the public is invited.

Leland will speak on "The Current State of Economics," at an economics seminar next Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the SU.

"The Urban Fringe and Its Problems," will be the topic of a browsing room lecture by Leland May 19 at 7:30 p. m. Students of the other social sciences are invited to participate in the discussion following the lecture, according to C. W. Macy, head of the department of economics.

Leland was head of the department of economics at Chicago university before moving to Northwestern. He has served as an adviser to the government on several occasions and was chairman of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank for several years.

Petitions Due For Art Award

Petitions for the Janet Davis Memorial art scholarship, awarded annually to a junior or senior woman in the art school, are now being accepted.

Any student wishing to apply for this scholarship may pick up petition forms at the office of Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, Emerald 208. They must be turned in to Mrs. Wickham by Friday.

The Janet Davis scholarship is awarded on the basis of grades, individual need, and merit as shown by previous work in the art school. The amount of the scholarship varies from year to year, last year's award being $79.50. As soon as it is known, the exact amount will be announced.

Janet Davis was an art student and a member of the class of 1949 who was killed in an airplane crash before her junior year. The scholarship was started by her sorority sisters at Kappa Alpha Theta and is awarded annually to a woman majoring in art.

600 Scholarships Awarded Students

The high school-college relations committee has approved approximately 600 scholarships to be awarded to high school seniors and college students from five states, Alaska, Hawaii, and 20 other nations for the 1954-55 school year.

Distribution of the scholarships was as follows: University of Oregon, 117; Oregon State college, 118; Oregon College of Education, 143; Southern Oregon College of Education, 121; Eastern Oregon College of Education, 69; Portland State Extension center, 46; University of Oregon Medical school, 6; Department of Nursing Education, 5; and University of Oregon Dental school, 1.

Some of the scholarships were awarded foreign students who are already attending Oregon colleges.

Willamette Stages Today's Assembly

The Willamette university exchange assembly, with a cast of over 75, will appear in the Student Union ballroom at 1 p. m. today.

Included in the assembly are the school band, the ROTC chorus, singers, dancers, and monologues, according to Gloria Lee, chairman of the Oregon Exchange assembly.

A joint coffee hour for the cast of the Willamette assembly and Oregon's assembly will be held in the SU following the performance.

Miss Lee said that the Willamette group has been scheduled to appear on television in Salem, and added that the assembly is "loaded with talent."

Queen Vote Set For Wednesday

The Junior Weekend queen will be selected by campus vote from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday, according to Ward Cook and Jack Boettcher, co-chairmen. Voting booths will be placed in the co-op and the Student Union.

Princesses running for the queen title are Alma Owen, Janet Wick, Janet Miller, Nancy Murrow and Dorothy Kopp.

The princess elected queen, and her court, will reign over Junior Weekend events this weekend. She will be introduced at the Junior Prom Friday night.

Daily Ordered To See Psychiatrist

John Daily, senior in mathematics who was found guilty of threatening to extort money from a Eugene housewife, has been ordered to receive a psychiatric examination as part of a presentence investigation.

Judge William G. East issued the order to Daily, who was in court with his lawyer. Daily approved the request. Daily faces a maximum two-year penitentiary sentence, or he could be placed on probation after the pre-sentence investigation.

Daily was found guilty of threatening to extort money through a series of telephone calls in December and January to a Eugene housewife.

Cleanup, Dance to Set 'College Capers' Rolling

Plans are well underway for this Junior Weekend, "College Capers," to be held on campus this weekend, according to Jim Light, junior class president and general chairman of Junior Weekend.

Events start rolling Thursday with the All-campus cleanup at 3 p. m. and a Terrace dance at the Student Union from 4 to 6 p. m.

The traditional frosh-soph tug-of-war will take place at 4 p. m. Friday on the millrace in back of the Kappa Sigma house. Coronation of the Junior Weekend queen will highlight the Junior Prom, to be held Friday night in the Student Union ballroom.

The "O" on Skinner's Butte will receive a new coat of yellow paint at 9 a. m. Saturday, with the freshmen men supplying the labor. They also will scrub the Oregon Seal in front of the SU.

The old campus will be the site

Yell King Petitions Due Wednesday at 5 p. m.

Petitions for yell king are due Wednesday at 5 p. m. in the petition box on the third floor of the Student Union, according to Tom Wrightson, ASUO president.

The senate has set up a screening committee to interview all the yell king applicants. The committee will recommend two or three candidates to the senate when it meets Thursday. The screening committee will consist of the rally board, president of the Order of the O, several coaches and members of the senate.

The 1954-55 yell king will be chosen by the senate at its Thursday meeting. The outgoing senate has recommended that the incoming senate seek the advice of the lettermen and coaches in choosing the yell leader.

Petitions for the rest of the rally squad will be due soon, according to Rally Board Chairman Sally Stadelman. The senate approved at its last meeting selection of the entire rally squad sometime before the end of spring term.

This way, the rally board felt, the rally squad would have an opportunity to get organized before the end of school, and could meet during the summer to prepare for the fall football season.

Petitioners for the position of yell king will be interviewed by the screening committee and will also be asked to lead some yell. All applicants are asked to wear "yell" attire to the screening meeting.

Parade Meeting Today at 4, SU

Financial statements for the Junior Weekend float parade must be turned in today at a meeting of all house float representatives. The meeting will be held at 4:00 p. m. in the Student Union.

It is very important for a representative from each house to attend the meeting, as the order of march, assembly, dismissal, and the parade route will be discussed, according to Mary Wilson and Ann Hopkins, co-chairmen.

Along with the financial statement, which cannot exceed $70, Miss Wilson and Miss Hopkins are asking each group to hand in either a written description or drawing of their float.

The parade will begin at 3 p. m. Saturday. The floats will assemble at McArthur court at 2:15 p. m., and any float arriving after 3 p. m. will be disqualified. The floats should be completed by noon in order to allow ample time for assembly, advised the co-chairmen.

Prizes for the first, second and third place floats will be awarded at the All-Campus Sing. Each will receive a permanent trophy, with the first place winner receiving the additional rotating trophy.

Clean-up Reps Meet Today at 4

There will be a meeting of all house representatives for the all-campus clean-up, today at 4 p. m. in the Student Union, announces Lynn Bodding, clean-up committee chairman.

At the meeting, the houses will be given the number of the area they are assigned to clean. All houses are urged to send a representative, Miss Bodding said.

SU, Co-op Selling Prom Tickets Now

Junior Prom tickets are now on sale at the Co-op and Student Union. The price is $2.50 per couple and the sale will continue through Friday.

Highlighting the intermission of the Junior Prom will be the coronation of the queen and the queen's dance. Presentation of the Gerlinger and Koyle cups and Druids tapping are also on schedule for intermission.

The orchestra of Ernie Fields will provide the music for the Junior Prom for this year. Fields' records for Gotham recordings and has been among the top ten bands in the nation, according to some of the national polls.

Closing hours for women Friday will be 2 a. m. The dance will be held in the Student Union ballroom from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Theme for the dance is "Traditional Review."

Junior Traditions In Effect Now

Junior Weekend traditions are back again as evidenced by the sudden blossoming of rooster's lids and green hair ribbons.

This series of ten rules, annually observed at this time for the purpose of staying out of the millrace, went into effect Monday morning and will continue until the freshman-sophomore tug-of-war in back of the Kappa Sigma house this Friday at 4 p. m.

If the freshmen win the event, traditions are officially over for the week. If the sophomores win, however, traditions technically continue to the end of the year, said Bob Glass, committee chairman.

Names of violators of Junior Weekend traditions will be turned into the Emerald and their names will be printed. They will be punished by the Order of the "O," who will dunk them in the millrace. In past years Fenton pool has also been used but it will probably be entirely replaced by the millrace this year, says Glass.

The Order of the "O" will also conduct the freshmen's painting of the "O" on Skinner's butte.
