

JUNIOR WEEKEND QUEEN

Voting Booths Open At SU, Co-op Today

Voting for Junior Weekend queen is being held today from 9 to 5 p. m. at booths located in the Student Union and Co-op. Official announcement of the queen will be made at the Junior Prom Friday night, when she is crowned by University President O. Meredith Wilson.

The finalists, who will be members of the court, are the following.

Dorothy Kopp

A brown-haired member of Kappa Alpha Theta is Dorothy Kopp, the candidate of Carson 3 in the queen contest. Dorothy is 5 feet 7 inches tall, and counts reading and playing bridge among her favorite pastimes.

Active in almost every phase of student activities, Dorothy has been Associated Greek Students' secretary and a member of Phi Theta Upsilon this year.

She will serve as junior class representative next year, and is currently president of her house. The things she likes best about the University are "the people, and the academic opportunities."

A business major, Dorothy plans to use her business training in personnel work or counselling.

Janet Miller

Janet Miller, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, is sponsored by Campbell club in the contest. She is also 5 feet 7 inches tall, and has almost-black hair and brown eyes.

She attended Grant high school in Portland, and now lives in Oregon City. Favorite hobbies include swimming, horseback riding, playing the piano, drawing and sketching.

A member of the Homecoming court last year, Janet attended Portland State college winter term. She was in Kwama during her sophomore year.

Janet plans to teach in Europe after she graduates, and prefers teaching displaced children in France or Germany. Concerning the campus, she thinks the trees and other physical features are "impressive," and adds that the new Student Union building is "quite an asset."

Nancy Murrow

Spokane, Washington, is the home-town of Nancy Murrow, brown-haired candidate of Gamma Phi Beta. A political science major, she had planned to work for the state department until she became engaged. "Now I'm planning to be a housewife," she said.

Nancy transferred here from the University of Washington winter term, and said that Oregon is "more friendly than Washington . . . you get to know more people." School spirit is also better here, she said, because the University is smaller than Washington.

The 5-foot, 4-inch Gamma Phi is song leader for her house, as she was at Washington. She was also in the sophomore honorary there.

Alma Owen

Blonde Alma Owen, an Alpha Chi Omega, is the candidate of Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon. She is from Portland, where she attended Washington high school.

Now president of her house, Alma is secretary of Heads of Houses. She is a major in speech correction, and as part of her work in the department "is conducting clinical correction practice with

Phi Beta Kappa Elects Eighteen

Eighteen seniors were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, Tuesday night. They will be initiated in ceremonies at Gerlinger hall Tuesday at 5:30.

New Phi Betas are Mitzi Asai, English; Janet Bell, English; Jack Goebel, mathematics; Karl Harshbarger, speech; Phyllis Helmers, music; Dagmara Hill, foreign languages; Robert Johns, foreign languages; Al Karr, journalism, and Arnold Levin, liberal arts.

Gordon MacPherson, history; Lawrence Maves, music; Robert Moursund, general science; Joan Nelson, history; Mark Patterson, history; Vanda Randall, English; Hollis Ransom, political science; Catherine T. Seigmund, business administration, and Harold Watts, economics.

Following the initiation ceremonies, Phi Beta members will join with members of Sigma Xi, national science honorary, for a joint banquet. Speaker at the banquet will be Wendell Stanley, director of the virus laboratory at the University of California and Nobel prize winner for chemistry in 1946.

George Wilkins, sophomore in physics, was awarded the Phi Beta Kappa book award for the sophomore student with the highest grades.

Earlier this year, the honorary announced its annual selection of the "Senior Six," the top six seniors scholastically. They were William Hall, Warren Bachelis, Ronald Lowell, Shirley Shupe, Harold Tolliver and William Walker.

All the students picked for membership in the honorary had a GPA of more than 3.25.

Bunche to Speak At UO Assembly

Ralph Bunche, Nobel peace prize winner and director of the United Nations trusteeship division, will speak at a University assembly Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the Student Union ballroom. A coffee hour forum for the speaker will be held at 4 p. m. the same day in the Dad's lounge of the SU.

The appearance on campus by the distinguished educator and state department expert is being sponsored by the University's Failing Distinguished Lecturers committee. The SU coffee hour forum committee is sponsor of the afternoon event.

RALPH BUNCHE
Nobel Winner to Speak

Currently a professor of government at Harvard university, Bunche was awarded the Nobel peace prize for his work in the Arab-Israeli armistice in 1949. He was acting UN mediator on Palestine in 1948-49.

Born in Detroit in 1904, Bunche received his A.B. at the University of California in 1927. He received his M.A. in 1928 and his Ph.D. in 1934, both at Harvard.

Studied Abroad

Bunche did post-doctoral work in anthropology and colonial policy at Northwestern university, the London School of Economics and the University of Capetown, South Africa in 1936-37. He was an Ozias Goodwin fellow at Harvard in 1929 and held the Rosenwald fellowship in Europe, England and North and West Africa in 1931-32.

He also held the Social Science Research council post-doctoral fellowship in Europe, South and East Africa, Malaya and the Netherlands Indies from 1936 to 1938. Bunche was a staff member of the Carnegie Corp. Survey of the Negro in America, working in the southern states in 1939.

Worked with OSS

An educator at the University of California and Howard university during the late 1920's and 1930's, Bunche worked with the Office of Strategic Service during World War II. He has been a territorial specialist for the U. S. State department and was a member of the U. S. delegation to the Dumbarton Oaks conference in 1944.

Formerly a member of the U. S. delegation to the U. N., Bunche became chief of the U. N. Trusteeship department in 1948. He was awarded the Spingarn medal by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in 1949.

Bunche is married and has three children. He lives with his family in Jamaica, New York.

Moms to Meet At Breakfast

The deadline for the purchase of Mother's breakfast tickets has been set at noon Thursday to allow the committee to plan for a definite number of guests.

Barbara Kamm, ticket chairman, has announced that there are only a limited number of the tickets left. She has warned the students that they should buy tickets immediately to insure a place for their mothers at the breakfast.

The breakfast will start at 8:30 a. m., not at 9 a. m. as was previously stated in the Emerald and on the posters which have been put up on campus.

This event will be a "mothers only" affair, with a talk by University President O. Meredith Wilson and a business meeting highlighting the program. Also at this time, Mrs. C. Elmer Carlson, Portland, president of the Oregon Mothers club, will present Pres Wilson with a check for the amount of the Mothers club scholarships for the coming year.

Tickets are on sale at the Student Union and the Co-op for $1.25 each.

Yell King Tryouts To be Held Tonight

Yell king tryouts are scheduled for tonight at 7 in the Student Union. All petitions must be in by 5 p. m.

All candidates will tryout before a screening committee composed of Olivia Tharaldson, Janet Gustafson, Macua-Louise Hair, Sam Vahey, Tom Gaines, Sally Stadelman, and interested senate members.

The yell king will be selected from among two or three finalists at the first meeting of the new senate.

Senior Ride Brings Fines

Four University seniors were arrested and fined at Vancouver, Wash., Friday for walking illegally on a highway after they had been taken on a "senior ride," according to a report carried by Tuesday's Oregon Journal.

The four men are Lloyd Hutchinson, Richard Kesson, Leo Naapi and Gordon Badgley. They were fined $25 and $2.50 costs apiece by Justice Walter Collins of Burton District.

The men were reportedly taken to Camas, Wash., about 13 miles north of Vancouver, by freshmen. The four had walked about two miles when they were seen walking down the middle of the highway by a state patrolman.

Told to walk by the side of the road, the men complied until after the patrolman had driven a short distance beyond them, when they again returned to the center, the report says. The patrolman then returned and placed them under arrest.

Five Frosh Coed Violators Caught

Five women have been ordered to report to Fenton pool Thursday at 12:30 p. m. to receive punishment for breaking Junior Weekend traditions. Doug Clement, Order of the O president, has requested the presence of Carol Aiken, Janet Filbert, Judy Kirk, Adrienne McRae and Karen Rice.

One of these five women will become Junior weekend queen when the balloting ends tonight at 5. The queen and her four princesses will reign over all events in the Junior weekend celebration and will be crowned at the Junior Prom Friday night. Members of the court are (from left to right) Dorothy Kopp, Janet Miller, Nancy Murrow, Janet Wick and Alma Owen.
