

UO Treks to Pullman For Northern Division Track Championships

The University of Oregon track and field team will travel to Pullman for their most important meet of the season this Saturday afternoon, the Northern Division meet.

The Ducks of Bill Bowerman, who defeated every other ND school in dual meet action, will go into the meet as a co-favorite along with the University of Washington. Washington State's Cougars, who will be acting as host for the meet, are given an outside chance of coping first place.

Duck competitors who are expected to have good chances of bringing in many points are: Bill Sorsby and Chan Sogge in the hurdles races; Bruce Springbett in the dashes; Fred Jacobs and Gordon Dahlquist in the 440, Doug Clement in the 880; Bill Dellinger in the mile run; Wayne Reiser in the two-mile run.

Ben Johnson in the broad jump; Bob Faucett in the high jump; Doyle Higdon in the javelin; Ken Hickenbottom and Bob Reid in the pole vault; and the Oregon mile relay team.

Duck Favorites

Oregon is favored to win three events. Faucett is classed as the top man in the high jump, Higdon is the same for the javelin and Hickenbottom is expected to take top money in the pole vault.

Going by the best times of each individual performer, the Huskies will have to be considered to be favored in five events. Duane Wardlow is figured to take both the shot put and the discus, Denny Meyer is far and away the best of the two-milers, Henry Banks is favored in the 440 and Darrell Skarvedt has the best mark in the broad jump.

All this goes to indicate that if the Oregons are to come out on top they will have to nail down many seconds, thirds and fourths.

Close 440

The 440 should be one of the best races of the day. Banks has the best time, a 50.3, to his credit but he may be pushed hard by Jacobs and Dahlquist of Oregon and Donn Smithpeter of OSC whose times are only slightly worse than Banks'.

The 880 will pit defending champion Bill Link of WSC against some top flight competition in Gary Gayton of Washington and Clement of the Ducks. Clement, who was narrowly edged by Link in a meet at Eugene early this season, could help his team a great deal with an upset win in this event.

Two other races where the Ducks could pick up some valuable points are the two hurdle races. Both Sorsby and Sogge have recorded times that are close to the best marks of Don Chambers of OSC and Ken Torgerson of the Cougars.

Gary Picked

In the dashes Bob Gary of WSC is expected to breeze home the winner in both the 100 and 220. However, second place finishes by Bruce Springbett could add considerably to the Oregon point total.

In the distance races Bill Dellinger and Wayne Reiser are being counted on for some heavy scoring. Dellinger will compete in the mile and Reiser in the two-mile.

An interesting dual is slated between Doyle Higdon of Oregon and Jerry Church of OSC in the javelin throw. Higdon has the best throw to his credit but in a meet last weekend Church upset the Duck tosser.

Duck Gridders Set for Tussle

Coach Len Casanova will guide his prospective University of Oregon football team of 1954 in their annual spring practice game this Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Casanova has stated that he plans to divide the players into two evenly matched teams, one group to wear white jerseys and the other green. The Oregon mentor said that he plans to give all the men a chance to show themselves in the contest scheduled for Hayward field.

The Duck gridmen have been practicing for five weeks now and the spring game will mark the end of practice sessions until next fall.

The way it looks now, it will be Don Holt quarterbacking one team and Les Plumb calling signals for the other. Two of next year's quarterbacks are on the baseball team and will not participate in the game. They are George Shaw and John Keller.

Fourteen lettermen from last season's strong team will see action in this Saturday's game. They are: LeRoy Campbell, Walt Gaffney, Chuck Greenley, Don Holt, Harry Johnson, Dave Lowe, Jerry Nelson, Jack Patera, Ron Pfeister, Lloyd Powell, Hal Reeve, Larry Rose, Lon Stiner and Dean Van Leuven.

There will be no kick-offs or extra point attempts during the game. Each team will take the ball on their own 20-yard line to start the scrimmage.

ND Tennis Meet Gets Underway

The Northern Division tennis championships will be held on the University of Oregon courts this Friday and Saturday. Action gets underway at 10 o'clock in the morning on both days.

Washington is the defending ND champion and will be strongly favored to cop the crown again. Oregon State is considered to be the top threat to the Huskies.

Oregon will enter a full team in the affair with Captain Ron Lowell considered to have the best chance of garnering points in the singles matches.

The finals in both the singles and the doubles will be played Saturday afternoon.

Bill Quinlan of the Huskies will be out to defend his singles title in the tourney. Quinlan was the top man in both 1952 and 1953.
