Special Committee Approves Central Council Plan for SU

A recommendation that a central governing council be set up as the policy-making body for the Student Union was unanimously approved Friday afternoon by a special committee recently appointed by President O. Meredith Wilson to consider the area of responsibility of a Student Union director.

The committee was set up to consider general problems in Student Union administration and to define and outline the desired responsibilities of SU director, as a result of Dick Williams' resignation as director on Jan. 31. Williams has been director of the building since it opened in November, 1950.

Membership Listed
Membership on the council would include three faculty members (including representatives of speech and music), the director of student affairs, an alumni representative, president and vice president of the ASUO, chairman and assistant chairman of the present Student Union board and the Union director as the non-voting secretary.

New Emerald Position Recommended in Plan

Separation of the office of secretary of the Student Publications board from the duties of the SU director were among the recommendations to President Wilson approved by the special presidential committee Friday afternoon.

and approved a request from the Emerald staff that the paper be allocated an additional $866.25 for the coming year to pay salaries to four additional staff members. The request had been approved earlier by the Publications board.

Guide, Handbook Seek New Editors

Deadline for submitting petitions for editor and business manager of the Pigger's Guide and editor of the Ore-Nter is 5 p. m. today, Dick Williams, secretary of the Student Publications board, has announced. Petitions are to be turned in at Williams' office on the Student Union mezzanine.

Duties Told
Duties of the budget committee would be to correlate and resolve differences in the recommended budgets and make a complete budget recommendation to the University president. Under the present set up, an over-all budget recommendation is made by Williams, after consulting with representatives from interested areas.

Webfoots Win Track Baseball, Golf Crowns

Oregon's Ducks hit the jackpot in Northern Division sports action over the past weekend, taking home three championship trophies as league competition was completed with the annual ND tournaments.

The Ducks won two of the three tournaments being held, taking the ND golf title at the Eugene Country club and coming home with a hard-earned victory in the league track and field championships held in Pullman. In addition to these two crowns, Don Kirsch's Webfoot baseball team clinched their second straight diamond championship with a 4-0 win over the Oregon State Beavers at Howe field.

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct
OREGON	11	5	.688
OSC	10	6	.625
Washington	8	6	.571
WSC	7	7	.500
Idaho	2	14	.125

The only sport in which the Ducks failed to gain a first place finish was tennis. The Washington Huskies edged OSC for the net title on the Oregon courts last Friday and Saturday. The Ducks finished third.

were right behind with 48%. Washington was leading the Ducks going into the final event of the day, but a tremendous effort on the part of the Oregon mile relay team sewed up the meet for the Webfoots. Gordon Dahlquist, Fred Jacobs, Doug Talbot, and Doug Clement composed the all-important quartet which sped the distance in the near record time of 3:20.9.

Golfers Win Easily
Sid Milligan's golfers were far and away the best team in league links play and their additional win in the ND tourney established them as the undisputed champions in that sport. Don Krieger and Al Mundle were the leading lights for Oregon as they defeated second place Oregon State by 15 strokes.

Great Comeback
Kirsch's baseball team probably made one of the greatest comebacks in history of the division as they won the final two game series of their four tussles with OSC to edge Ralph Coleman's Beavers for the second year in a row. The Ducks were trailing their cross-state rivals by one full game going into the final set and had to win both contests to win the title. Oregon won Friday at Corvallis and came back to clinch the top spot Saturday on their home field.

Chimes Installed In Student Union

The chimes are here! Installation of the long-awaited electronic noisemakers in the tower of the Student Union was completed Saturday morning and the 25-bell arrangement chimed for the first time at noon Saturday.

Representatives of the school of music, physical plant, and Student Union were to meet at 10 a. m. today to decide when the chimes would begin regular on-the-hour operation.

Wednesday Date Of Frosh Picnic

Wednesday has been set as the date for this year's freshman picnic, according to Don Smith, freshman class president and general chairman of the event. The picnic will be held at Armitage park from 5:30 to 10 p. m. and food will be free.

The chimes, which are really very small rods whose tones are amplified, will be used between classes and for special events on campus. They will also be used to close the class day. Money for the purchase of the chimes came from three sources—donations from the class of 1943, which remained after the purchase of the memorial plaque in the SU; donations from the class of 1953; and donations from alumni leaders. The cost of the chimes was estimated at $3500 by Dick Williams, SU director, when their installation was discussed with the ASUO senate last October. The senate voted unanimous approval of the chimes and many faculty members and alumni have echoed the approval.

ECONOMY MOVE

Dorms Eat at Carson Over Weekend

Dormitory students, both men and women, waited in line as long as 45 minutes for their Sunday dinner at Carson hall. All dorm students, except those living in Hendricks hall, ate at Carson during the past weekend. The John Straub kitchen was closed during the weekend to save money, H. P. Barnhart, director of dormitories, said Thursday, in answer to an Inter-hall council question of why Straub was being closed. The average wait in line at Carson Sunday seemed to be about 35 minutes for most students. The cafeteria line was opened at 1 p. m. and closed at 2:10, 25 minutes later than planned. Some students left the line and ate downtown, rather than face the long wait. Hendrick's hall's kitchen was not closed Sunday because President O. Meredith Wilson had been invited to eat dinner there, Barnhart told the IHC committee Thursday. Closed for Economy

In regard to the closure of Straub during the weekend and of the Carson kitchen about three weekends ago, Barnhart said that the closures are being made in the interest of economy. He also advanced the opinion to the committee last Thursday that many students would go home during the weekend, as they will during Memorial weekend. The closure of the Straub kitchen was just one of the questions which the IHC committee asked Barnhart, at the request of the entire council. The quality of the dorm food, excessive noise in the dining room and the seeming shortage of labor was also brought up by the council representatives. Barnhart said that it was not the policy of the dormitory system to cut the quality of food and service in the dorms kitchens. However, he said, when the number of students drop, as it has this year, it is necessary to cut the number of student employees in the kitchens to maintain an equal ratio throughout the year. Labor Costs Rise

He emphasized that when labor costs rise above 26 percent of the total costs, it comes out of the food budget. Anything the dorm system can save will show up in the food, Barnhart said. It is not the intention of the system to furnish food which is inferior in any way, he said. Barnhart reacted favorably to a suggestion from the committee that an IHC committee be set up next fall to have weekly meetings with the Straub dietician about the food. Acoustical tile will be placed on the walls and ceiling of the Straub dining room as soon as it is possible. This should reduce the noise a great deal, Barnhart said. The committee asked that something also be done about the noise created at the tray stations. It was the feeling of the council that the trays could be cleaned more quietly. The dormitory director promised to look into the matter. Barnhart was supposed to have met with IHC last Tuesday, but in his place Si Ellingson, counselor for men and adviser to the student group, answered some of the council's questions. It was his opinion that when the new men's dorm is built, enabling the freshmen to be separated from upperclassmen, many of the problems will be solved.

Ball Playing Banned
He also explained a recent directive from the office of student affairs asking that residents of Straub refrain from playing on the lawns surrounding the building. The directive came after IHC had sent a letter to the office of student affairs, President Wilson and other campus officials asking that the men be allowed to use the lawns for unorganized play before and after dinner. Ellingson said that a meeting of the campus planning commission—Ellingson; Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs; Donald DuShane, director of student affairs, and J. Orville Lindstrom, University business manager—will be held in the near future to consider the matter. The final decision, however, will rest with President Wilson, Ellingson said.
