Graduation Review Is Thursday

Army and Air Force ROTC seniors will be honored at a graduation review next Thursday at 1 p.m. All military cadets will participate in the review at which awards will be made to 52 cadets in all ROTC classes by Army and Air Force reserve associations, Eugene businessmen, and the University ROTC detachment.

Pending final grades, most of the army and air force cadets will receive their commissions.

Air force seniors who will enter pilot and observer training, who are skilled in certain technical fields, or who have accepted a proposal of the Air National Guard to serve as commission officers for the guard will most likely be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force reserve or the National Guard. Those seniors who refused the offer of the Air National Guard may enlist for two years as airmen, after which time they will receive reserve commissions.

Commissioning will take place on June 12 for the army, while air force graduates will receive their reserve commissions after the University graduation on June 13.

The following army awards will be given: awards to distinguished military graduates, association of the ARMY ROTC Infantry award, National Defense Transportation Association Senior award, Reserve

Officers' Association of Eugene Membership award, Military Science III National Defense Transportation Association award, Military Science III Transportation Achievement award, Military Science II Infantry award, Military Science II Achievement award, and Rifle Team Silver Medal awards.

Air force ROTC seniors will be awarded the following: awards to distinguished military graduates, the Air Force Association Silver medal, the Air Science III Achievement award, Command Squadron Achievement award, Convair and Republic Cadet awards, and Reserve Officers Association of Oregon Membership award.
