

Blanks Available For Oxford Study

Senior men interested in two or three years of study at Oxford university may file applications for Rhodes scholarships before Oct. 31.

Quirinus Breen, professor of history, is institutional representative of the scholarships on the Oregon campus and applications should be filed with him.

Scholarships are open to students in the sciences, social sciences and humanities. The value stipend has been raised from approximately $1400 to $1680 this year.

Shulman to Author Emerald Column

Newest columnist for the Emerald is Max Shulman, author of "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," "Feather Merchants," "Zebra Derby" and numerous short stories and articles.

The column, "On Campus With Max Shulman," is an advertisement for Philip Morris, and will appear weekly throughout the school year.

Shulman is currently at work on an "Anthology of College Humor," soon to be published, as well as a Broadway play, "The Tender Trap."

The first Shulman column will appear in the Emerald this Friday, Sept. 24.
