Bunion Derby Houses to Pair Set for Friday

Flying speeches during the lunch and dinner hours today and Friday will publicize the annual AWS-sponsored Bunion Derby to be held Friday evening at the respective women's living organizations.

Campus clothes are in order for the event which will begin at 7:00 p.m. and end at 10:30. Men will spend seven minutes dancing at each of the twenty-two women's houses and have been allowed three minutes travel time.

Each man pays a nickel at each women's house and the proceeds go to the AWS scholarship fund. Last year $489.65 was collected. To help exceed this amount, all living organizations are urged to make this a house function.

Records donated by Graves Music and Art company will be awarded to the men's living organization having the largest percentage of men participating in the derby. The women's organizations collecting the most money per capita will also receive records from Graves.

Men's organizations competing for the prize must start with the women's organization with which it is paired and attend all other houses in the specified order. Each group will be marked off on a tally sheet as they arrive at the houses. Members of the collection committee will collect this list with the money Saturday morning and the winners will be announced Monday.

Working with General Chairmen Margaret Tyler and Karen Kraft are Nan Pierson and Gloria Bekenich, publicity chairmen; Margie Harmon and Marlene Grassesche, judging chairmen; Gienna Pearl, prizes; Jean McPherson and Beverly Haller, contacting chairmen; Barbara Bailey and Joyce Bearden, collecting chairmen.

APPA to Have Convention Here

Oregon's physical plant will be host this weekend to the Pacific Coast Association of Physical Plant Administrators when it holds its third annual meeting Friday and Saturday.

Local officials are expecting about 50 members of the association to attend the conference which will open Friday with registration at 8:30 a.m. in the second-floor lobby of the Student Union. All association sessions are scheduled for the Dads' lounge.

Dr. William C. Jones, University of Oregon dean of administration, will give the opening address Friday morning. Other speakers to follow him will include Wesley Hertenstein, national APPA president from the California Institute of Technology; Carroll L. Blacker of Stanford university, and J. Orville Lindstrom, University of Oregon business manager.

Speakers during Friday afternoon's sessions will be Wilbur W. Weed and George Pette from the University and Richard Adams of Oregon State college's athletic plant. Also scheduled for Friday are a luncheon and dinner in the Student Union.

Saturday's activities will include business sessions in the morning followed by an inspection tour of Eric Allen Hall, new journalism building to be formally opened on that day.

Houses to Pair For Send-Off

The ASUO-sponsored rally board is expecting more than 1000 students to attend the send-off rally this evening at 6:30 p.m. at the train depot, where the football squad will entrain for Berkeley and a game with the California Bears.

In order that all women's organizations will have a chance to find transportation to the pep rally, houses will be paired off. The men's organizations have been instructed to pick up the girls before 6:30 p.m., so that they will have ample time to make it down town to the depot.

Freshmen pledges will have a choice of attending the rally in the company of either their sorority or fraternity, or with their dormitory. In either case, there will be ample transportation, according to Sally Stadelman, rally board chairman.

Ray Walden, student director of the pep band, will have his musicians on hand for the depot send-off.

As a special attraction, for both the team and the students, Mr. "Creswell Charlie" Chambers, Lane county bear-trapping authority, will issue bear hunting licenses to all the team members and the coaches.

These special licenses state that "During the weekend of Oct. 8 through 10, the holder shall have authority to get one (1) bear pelt, by any means. Since this is a special season, this license is also transferable to the state of California."

Portrait of Late Dean Hangs in Allen Hall

A colored oil portrait of Eric W. Allen has been hung in the seminar room of Allen hall in memory of the University's first dean of journalism.

The portrait of Allen was painted by David McCosh, associate professor of art at the University, from a black and white photograph.

There will also be a portrait of Sally Allen, wife of Dean Allen. The other three are of Robert C. Hall, W. F. Goodwin Thacher and George S. Turnbull. The former two are living in Eugene. Turnbull is now editor of the Albany Democrat-Herald.

Drives Combine In United Appeal

For the first time in the University's history, the Lane County Chest and the Red Cross will be combined in one drive under the name of United Appeal.

A quota of $1000, 55 cents or more per person, has been set for this year's drive, according to Janet Gustafson, general student chairman of the campaign. The drive opened officially Oct. 4 and will end Oct. 13.

As in the past, collections will be handled by members of Kwama and Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's and women's service honoraries. Members of the groups have been assigned to each living organization to take contributions.

Helen Ruth Johnson, president of Kwama, has been appointed chairman of women's houses. Chairman of men's houses is Doug Basham, president of Skull and Dagger.

For those living in Amazon flats and Skinner's Butte developments, a box has been placed in each grocery store for donations.

The United Appeal supports the activities of 31 organizations. About 70 per cent of the Lane County Chest budget goes to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, YWCA, the community center, Association for the Aid of Retarded Children, and the several youth funds throughout the county.

The Red Cross includes the first aid and water safety, assistance to service men and women with the armed forces, their home service activities, and the blood program.

A permanent plaque and a miniature duck will be presented to the men's and women's organizations who contribute the highest amount per capita.

The winners of last year's Community Chest drive were Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Tau Omega, who contributed averages of 55 cents and 51 cents per person, respectively.
