

Royal Entertainment Feature of Lecture

A partial re-enactment of an entertainment given at Mitcham House for Queen Elizabeth during one of her overnight stays was played for the browsing room audience from a recording made by Don Hunter, head of the audio-visual department of the library. Hunter made his recording during the last Shakespearean Festival at Ashland.

The original manuscript was found in England and was published. The Ashland group got hold of it and presented it for one performance as part of their regular summer series.

Hunter has been making recordings of the festival since 1947, the year the Ashland group resumed their productions after the war.

"I usually go down about the third week," Hunter joked. "By then the actors are usually better. During the fourth week, they are usually tired of it all."

In recording the program, Hunter placed two microphones between the front of the stage and the audience. This way, the audience actions are recorded which serve to give an authentic atmosphere to the productions. A microphone is placed in the back of the stage and one is placed in the balcony above to capture the rest of the sound.

Hunter cautioned that it is well to keep the microphones not in use turned off so as not to pick up echoes. However, it makes for extra work on the controls.

KWAX Aspirants List Preferences

Campus radio aspirants met in the studios of KWAX, University radio station, Tuesday night and signed up for their preferences in station positions.

The different staff positions this year are: traffic, announcing, news and special events, promotion and public relations, office operation, library, technical, sports, continuity, record and transcription library and production and program scheduling.

Selections for the staff are made on the basis of previous experience and adaptability to radio work. A list of this year's staff members will be made public later this week.

This year the three leaders of station KWAX are Dr. E. A. Kretsinger, Victor Heyden and Jon Powell. Kretsinger is the assistant professor of the speech department, who will be an advisor on the station. Heyden is new on the campus this year. He will take over the duties of faculty advisor for the station. Jon Powell is the student station manager.

Kretsinger explained that any new ideas for programs of any type should be submitted to the program director.

Women Sponsor Joint Tea Today

The YWCA, WRA and AWS are sponsoring a joint tea today on the second floor of Gerlinger. The time is 3:30 to 5 p.m. and the dress is campus clothes.

All duckling counselors are asked to pick up their ducklings and those new students without counselors are urged to come anyway.

At this tea new students will have an opportunity to learn about the three women's organizations on campus and will also have a chance to join in the activities.

Each organization will have a special table at the tea and the first 30 minutes will be spent in getting acquainted and serving tea. An officer of each group will give a short speech on the functions of their organization after a "get-acquainted" period.

The last thing on the program is a trip to the women's pool to watch a demonstration by the Amphibians. This will give all interested girls a chance to observe the functions of this group which will conduct try-outs next week.

Wengert Selected To Executive Board

E. S. Wengert, head of the political science department, has been elected to the executive board of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science honorary. Wengert's selection was made at a convention of the American Political Science association in Chicago, Sept. 9-11.

Board Meeting Cancelled by Pollock

The Student Union board meeting, which was to be at 4 p.m. Wednesday, was cancelled by Bob Pollock, board chairman. The reason for the cancellation was that not enough members were present to constitute a quorum.

The meeting will be held at a time set by the chairman. Items on the agenda for yesterday's meeting included discussions on the budget, Sunday evening concerts, special attractions, introduction of Si Ellingson and reports from the personnel chairman, board selection committee and directorate chairman.

...and how it started.

TERESA WRIGHT says: "Up to 16, my knowledge of acting had been gleaned from seeing movies. When I saw my first professional play, that was it: I only wanted to act. I got into high school plays, wrestled props at Provincetown, understudied, sat for months in producers' reception rooms. One rainy night, sick with a cold, I read for a good role, and got it!"

Several years ago, I found out Camels have the most delightful flavor and mildness of any cigarette. Try Camels and you'll be as enthusiastic as I!
