University musicians are a real asset to the newly organized Eugene-Springfield Community orchestra, according to Earl M. Pallett, the group's secretary. The orchestra is headed by Dr. Edmund Cykler of the University, and has a number of other University people in its membership.

George Hopkins, professor of piano at the University, will be the guest soloist for the orchestra's first concert of the year to be given Oct. 25 in the Eugene High school auditorium. Hopkins will play Mozart's "D Minor Concerto."

Other numbers on the program will include Handel's "Water Music," Brahms' "Second Symphony," and "The Moldau" by Smetana.

Four other concerts will be given by the group throughout the year. Single membership for the full season is five dollars.

In addition to the University musicians, private music teachers from Eugene and Springfield, and music school graduates engaged in other professions make up the 54 members of the orchestra.

The orchestra association gives talented musicians in the Eugene-Springfield area direction and training necessary in creative musical accomplishment.

According to Pallett, the organization will become a permanent asset to the musical life of the community if the public responds favorably.

Griller Quartet Opens Program

First event of the two-day celebration of the first University Charter Day will be a concert by the Griller String quartet tonight at 8 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Admission to the concert is by ticket only. A few tickets still may be obtained at no cost at the SU main desk.

The world-famous quartet, now in residence at the University of California, is composed of Sidney Griller and Jack O'Brien, violinists; Philip Burton, viola player and Colin Hampton, who plays the violin cello.

Selections by Mozart, Beethoven and Oregon composer Ernest Bloch will be included in the quartet's program. Quartet in D minor K 421 by Mozart will be the first selection. Ernest Bloch's Quartet No. 4, 1953 and Beethoven's Quartet in E flat, Opus 127 will make up the rest of the concert.

This performance of Bloch's quartet will be the first on the west coast. It has been played previously only at the Tanglewood festival and in England.
