

U. S. Air Force Aggregation to Play Tonight in McArthur Court Concert

'Sergeants' To Serenade

The United States Air Force band will play in McArthur court at 8 p.m. tonight.

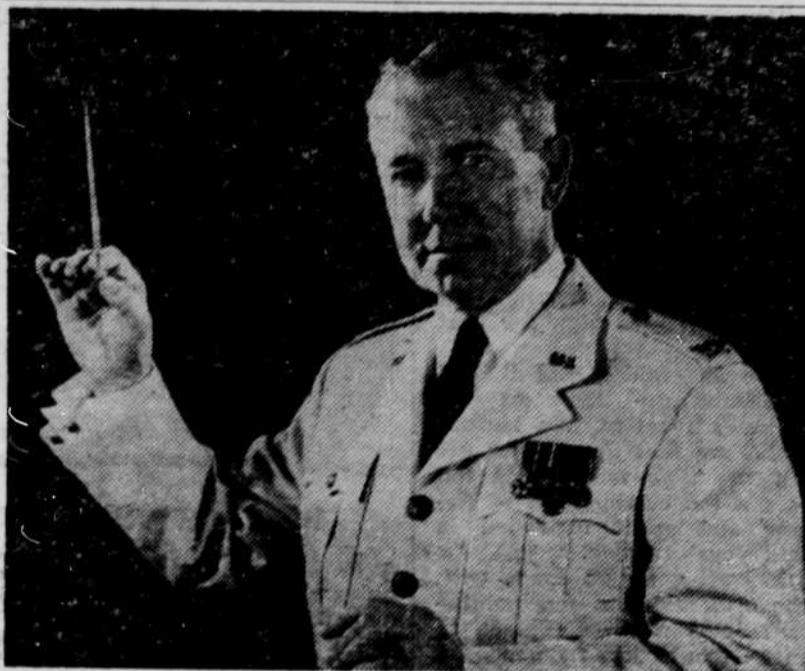

The band, made up of 100 members, has many outstanding performers. Some of them have formerly played with such name bands as the Tommy Dorsey dance band and the Philadelphia Civic orchestra.

Col. George S. Howard will direct the band.

Appearing as a co-feature with the band will be the "Singing Sergeants," the band's official chorus. Directed by Lt. Robert L. Landers, the chorus is made up of 25 members who are drawn from instrumentalists in the band.

The Sergeants will sing many selections ranging from spirituals to jazz. The chorus appears on all programs of the USAF band and orchestra and at numerous other state and national functions. It is the same chorus that is heard over the radio on "Serenade in Blue."

Ticket prices for the event are 50 cents for students and $1.50 for adults. They are on sale at McArthur court and at Thompson's Record and Appliance center in Eugene.

Carlson Leaves For New York

J. Spencer Carlson, director of admissions and counseling, leaves for New York today for the first of four conferences he will attend in the next three weeks.

Carlson will be in New York Saturday for an invitational conference on testing problems. The following day he will attend a meeting for directors of state testing services to be held in Princeton, N. J.

Next Monday through Thursday he will be in Columbus, Ohio, for an administrators of counseling centers conference.

Phi Thetas Open Magazine Sales

A campaign carried on by Phi Theta Upsilon members this week will give students an opportunity to subscribe to magazines at special college rates.

Time magazine which regularly sells at $6 a year will be sold for $3, making the price of a single copy six cents. The regular subscription for Life is $6.75, while the student rate is $4. Other magazines for sale are Fortune and Sports Illustrated.

The profit made by this sale will be given to Phi Theta, who has the franchise for magazine sales on this campus, to a special scholarship fund.

Inauguration Highlights Presented by KWAX

The inauguration of O. Meredith Wilson will be presented tonight by radio KWAX from 8 to 9 p.m.

Last week's event was taped and will present the highlights of the inauguration activities.

Freshmen to Mark Separated Ballots

By Jackie Wardell
Emerald Associate Editor

This year's freshman class election will mark the first time a divided ballot has been used since the present ASUO constitution went into effect.

With the divided ballot, candidates indicate if they are running for president or representative. Then the preferential system is used to elect the two representatives, the president and vice-president.

For the past few years no such indication could be officially made and under the preferential system the top four candidates for the presidential post were elected. This system usually defeated those candidates for representative.

Passage of a constitutional amendment last spring effected the change in the freshman ballot. After the top two candidates for president are elected, the rest of the candidates for president are declared defeated and the representative candidate's ballots are counted.

Another new feature of this fall's election is two booths or tables at each polling place rather than one. This is being done to speed up the voting process. Ballots will be picked up in one spot and deposited in another, thus easing the congestion and confusion around polling places between class periods.

A nomination assembly will be held Nov. 1 at which freshmen will nominate themselves, according to Jerry Beall, campus public relations chairman.

Sorority Pledges Should Begin Skits

All sorority pledge classes are urged to start preparing their skits for this week's tryouts for the annual AWS auction, Judy Carlson, general chairman, has announced.

The three outstanding pledge class skits will be chosen to be auctioned to men's living organizations at the Auction next Friday. Rummage collected on campus last spring term will also be auctioned.

Candidates have to be okeyed by the office of student affairs. Elections are Nov. 10.

Petitions for the freshmen and graduate election may be picked up on the third floor of the Student Union. Deadline for petitioning is November 3.

Homecoming Royalty Selections Announced

Candidates for this year's Homecoming queen were reduced to 12 in the second eliminations Monday night at the Student Union.

Co-chairmen of the Homecoming queen selection committee, Peggy Gathercoal and Mary Sandeberg, announced that the final eliminations will be Thursday evening in the SU. Then the number will be reduced to five and from these the final winner will be determined by an all-campus vote.

Nineteen girls competed in the second eliminations Monday and the judging was close, according to the committee co-chairmen.

The 12 still in the running and their sponsors are:

Audrey Mistretta, University house; Barbara McNabb, Alpha Chi Omega; Betti Fackler, Chi Omega; Lois Powell, Sigma Nu and Delta Gamma, Ann Erickson, freshmen men's dorms, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Others were Loretta Mason, Sigma Kappa; Diane David, Susan Campbell; Joyce Bearden, Phi Sigma Kappa and Alpha Tau Omega; Patty Fagan, Chi Psi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Kappa Psi; Jill Hutchings, Phi Delta Theta; Mary Jane Rud, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Loie Meade, Theta Chi.

The seven women eliminated Monday night were La Rae Koon, Molly Cashin, Sue Silverthorne, Teddy Croley, Dorothy Kopp, Nancy Leaverton and Joan Price.

The final choice will be announced at the all-campus vaudeville on Homecoming weekend. The queen will rule over all the weekend's festivities such as the dance and bonfire. She will

Thursday's 1 o'Clock Rescheduled for Today

Classes scheduled for 1 p.m. Thursday will be held today at 1 p.m. to enable students to attend Senator Wayne L. Morse's speech Thursday.

Oregon's junior senator will speak in the ballroom, on "The Political Issues of 1954." He has been asked to limit his discussion to the political issues rather than to the personalities involved in Oregon's senatorial campaign.

Independent Renounced GOP

Morse, famed for calling himself an "Independent Republican" after renouncing the GOP in 1952, is currently campaigning for Richard Neuberger, Oregon's Democratic nominee for U.S. Senator.

The former dean of the law school was first elected to the senate in 1944, and was re-elected in 1950. After he switched parties two years later, the senate was left with 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats, and one Independent.

Morse is also noted for his talking feats on the senate floor. He holds the senate record for the longest speech, orating more than 53 hours on the tidelands oil issue.

Wisconsin on Academic Record

He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1923, received his master of arts degree from the same institution in 1924, and his bachelor of laws degree from the University of Minnesota in 1928.

A teaching fellowship took him to Columbia university in 1928-29, where he received his doctor of laws degree in 1932.

He began teaching at Oregon in 1929, and in 1931 he became dean of the law school.

Before his election to the senate he served on several state and federal government commissions, and was also a member of the Oregon state crime commission.

Robinson to Read Play Excerpts

Excerpts from "The Teahouse of the August Moon" will be read by Horace W. Robinson, associate professor of speech, in Wednesday's browsing room lecture.

Discussion will follow with Robert D. Horn, professor of English, acting as discussion leader.

"The Teahouse of the August Moon," a successful Broadway play, was adopted by John Patrick from a novel of the same name by Vern Snider. It deals with attempts of the U.S. Army to "enrich the lives" of the natives of Okinawa during the occupation.

The difficulty the army encounters in trying to change a civilization by the GI manual forms the basis of the plot. Money supplied for a school house for the natives is used instead for a teahouse—"The Teahouse of the August Moon." The reading is a change from the lecture topic announced at the beginning of the year. The previous announcement was that Robinson would read from Louis Peterson's "Take a Giant Step."

Hendricks, Sigma Chi Pictures to Be Taken

Residents of Hendricks hall are scheduled to have Oregon pictures taken today, according to John Shaffer, photography editor.

Oregana pictures of Sigma Chi are scheduled for tomorrow, with Susan Campbell hall scheduled for Thursday. Members of Phi Kappa Psi will have their pictures taken Friday.

UT Sales Start For 'Bernardine'

Tickets for the University theater's production of "Bernardine" may be purchased for $1 at the UT box office between 1 and 5 p.m. each day.

"Bernardine," the first of the University theater's productions of the season, opens this Friday, and will play Saturday. It will run Tuesday through Saturday of the following week.

The warm-hearted tale is a comedy about teen-age boys, trying to impress each other with tales of their feminine conquests, while hanging out in the back room of a dingy beer parlor.

Wormy, a struggling boy who tries to become a "big wheel" in the eyes of his friends, is played by Scott Lehner, junior in speech. Loretta Mason, junior in speech, plays the role of Bernardine, a sophisticated siren whose favorite word is "yes."

Sigma Phi Epsilon Selects 15 Swamp Girl Candidates

Fifteen freshmen women are still on the eligible list for Sigma Phi Epsilon's "Swamp Girl" after the first eliminations Monday night at the Sig Ep chapter house.

The next eliminations will be held Thursday when the number will be reduced to 10 candidates. The number will be limited to the final five next Monday.

The Sig Eps will have a special dinner for the five finalists next Wednesday.

The "Swamp Girl" contest is open to only freshmen women, each candidate having been chosen by her respective living organization.

The 15 women still competing for the honor are:

Cindy Randall, Carson 5; Sandra Cooley, Carson 3; Nan Pierson, Susan Campbell; Skip Shearer, Sigma Kappa; Ann Hjort, Alpha Chi Omega; Pat Replogle, Hendricks, and Marlene Harper, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Sue Jewett, Carson 4; Betty Lou Boehm, Kappa Alpha Theta; Lorraine Ray, Chi Omega; Silvia Birch, Delta Delta Delta; Sally Hoy, Gamma Phi Beta; Janice Arnason, Alpha Delta Pi; Bev O'Connor, Delta Gamma, and Sue Ramsby, Pi Beta Phi.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's annual "Swamp Stomp," a costume dance, will be held at the chapter house, Nov. 6. Winner of the contest will be announced at the dance.

Last year's "Swamp Girl" was Sharon Snyder, sophomore in liberal arts, of Pi Beta Phi.

The five finalists in the contest will receive necklaces from the Sig Eps and the winner will be given the annual swamp trophy.
