

Homecoming Events Start

Celebration of the 1954 Homecoming weekend will get underway at 3 p.m. today. Order of the O members will punish tradition violators with traditional hacks and dunkings in Fenton pool.

Alumni registration will open at the Student Union at 3 p.m.

Theme of this year's Homecoming events is "Sh-Boom, Hello, Hello Again." It will be carried out in the sign contest, noise parade, bonfire-rally and variety show, all scheduled for today.

After dinner in living organizations at 5 p.m. today, the first major activities of the weekend will begin. Sign contest, judging is scheduled from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. All signs must be finished by 5 p.m. today, according to Cynthia Vincent and Al Herman, co-chairmen.

The Homecoming noise parade will form at 19th and University streets by 6:15 p.m. and the parade will begin moving at 6:30 p.m. Floats may be parked on University street on a first-come, first served basis any time after 3 p.m. today, Dick Van Allen, noise parade chairman, reported.

Parade Ends at Fire

The parade will wind through the University campus ending at the University physical plant, site of the bonfire-rally, at approximately 8 p.m.

The rally will be followed immediately by the Homecoming variety show at McArthur court. Highlight of the evening will be the announcement and crowning of the Homecoming queen before the variety show. Winners of the sign contest and the noise parade will be announced at the program and trophies will be presented to the sponsoring living organizations.

Saturday Schedule Outlined

Saturday events will include an alumni association meeting in the Student Union Dads' lounge at 10:30 a.m., the annual barbecue-luncheon in the SU ballroom at 11:30 a.m., the Washington State-college-Oregon football game at Hayward field at 1:30 p.m. and the Homecoming dance at 9 p.m. in the SU ballroom.

The weekend activities will close Sunday with church services at 10:45 a.m. and dinner at 1 p.m.

The two-day celebration is the result of more than a month's preparation by General Co-chairmen Betti Fackler and Dick Beckman, a general Homecoming committee of 22 students and many committee workers.

Senate Vetoes Code, Drinking

The ASUO senate voted Thursday night to abandon the honor code plans and to go on record as opposing drinking at football games.

The decision to kill the honor code committee ended a three year drive to create student interest in such a code at the University. Gordon Rice, chairman of the committee, suggested disbanding because the group found little or no student interest in the honor system after a long study.

Student interest where it did exist, Rice reported, was negative. The committee found other schools of comparable size had not been able to use the honor code successfully.

The committee agreed that an honor code was fine in theory but concluded that the attitude at Oregon is not conducive to such a code.

Student behavior at football games came up as a result of a number of incidents of rowdiness at the San Jose State game.

During this game a beer bottle was thrown at members of the band and more than 200 beer and liquor bottles were found under the stands after the game.

The senate left the way open for further action in the future. It was suggested that the athletic department supervise the student section at games and enforce conduct standards.

Gate checks for liquor and spotters to observe objectionable conduct were also suggested as stronger measures which could be taken if necessary.

The athletic card committee reported that students would not get a single combination student body and athletic card as they had requested.

Sam Vahey, chairman of the committee, suggested that the senate drop the matter. Leo Harris, director of athletics, has studied the possibility of a single card, Vahey said, and found it impractical.

Harris feared that students might lose the cards or sell them to townspeople, Vahey said. If this happened the University would lose paying customers to athletic events.

Sally Stadelman, chairman of the rally board, presented a suggestion for segregated seating at the Homecoming game.

Despite the objections of some senators, including many of the women on the senate, it was decided to seat men, women, piggers and married students in that order south from the 50 yard line.

Oregon Graduate, General Plans Arrival in Jet Plane

A T-33 jet trainer will bring active Oregon alum Brig. Gen. Donald Z. Zimmerman to Eugene Friday for Homecoming.

Zimmerman, a 1924 Oregon graduate in geology and a 1929 West Point graduate, is acting dean of faculty and commandant of cadets at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Colonel E. B. Dally, head of the department of military and air science and tactics, and Don Micklewit, a senior ROTC cadet, will meet Zimmerman.

Zimmerman is a charter member of the Oregon chapter of Phi Kappa Psi and will stay at the fraternity house this weekend.

The general and his pilot will be the guests of University President O. Meredith Wilson at Saturday's game, and will have seats in the president's box.

Prior to his assignment in Colorado, Zimmerman was attached to the Far East air force command, spending four years in Japan.

'Piggers' to Root At Saturday Game

For the first time in recent years, University students will be able to sit with their dates in the student rooting section at this Saturday's Homecoming game.

Rally Board Chairman Sally Stadelman announced Thursday that special space in the section is being reserved for "piggers" and married students.

The new plan to be in effect will reserve the stands on the east side of the field from the 50 yard line to the south end for students.

Student seating will be divided into three separate parts. Men will sit between the 30 and 50 yard lines, women will occupy seats between the 15 and 30, and the rest of the space between the 15 yard line and the end of the stands will be reserved for the piggers.

The innovation will be the first such plan in many years and is on a trial basis. The same kind of an arrangement will be used at the Oregon State game in Corvallis Nov. 20.

Variety Program To Honor Royalty

Tonight's variety show will be given in honor of the Homecoming queen and her court, which will be introduced before the program begins. The show is scheduled to begin in McArthur court immediately following the noise parade and bonfire-rally.

The entire production will center around the Homecoming theme, "Sh-Boom, Hello, Hello Again," and will include singing, dancing and comedy numbers, as well as numbers by two dance bands.

Opening the program will be the Rockette chorus singing and dancing "I Wish I Wuz." "The Upstarts" of Roger Middleton's band will perform, followed by Doug Ruhlman, senior in speech, with a comedy number.

Audrey Mistretta, senior in music, will sing "September Song" and "Lover Man." A medley of three songs will be sung by Joe Malango, senior in speech, and Rita Yuzon, senior in mathematics. A song and dance number to "I want to be Evil" will be done by Gloria Lee, senior in speech.

Ken Kesey, sophomore in speech, and Boyd Harris, sophomore in liberal arts, will present a comedy number, followed by Connie Becker, freshman in liberal arts, singing "Make Love to Me." Next on the program will be a magic act by Tom Waldrop, freshman in speech.

Katie Taylor, senior in music, and Ray Walden, senior in music, will perform to the music of "Go to Sleep." The Baker's Half Dozen will play several dance band numbers and the Rockette chorus will close the program dancing to "Sh-Boom."

General co-chairmen of the Homecoming variety show are Miss Lee and Dalece Peterson, sophomore in liberal arts. Stage managers are Ron Morgan and John Jensen, both seniors in speech. Dave Sherman, junior in speech, and Darrell Keeney, junior in English, will direct the lighting.

Game Ceremonies Include 'O' March

Colorful ceremonies will highlight the annual Homecoming football game at Hayward field Saturday afternoon. Pre-game activities are scheduled to begin at 12:45 p.m. with the game kickoff coming at 1:30 p.m.

Proper dress for the game between Washington State college and Oregon will be campus clothes, according to Kay Partch, campus social chairman.

Pre-game ceremonies will include the introduction of the Homecoming queen and her court, and the traditional march by members and alumni of the Order of the "O."

Senior Six Chosen By Phi Beta Kappa

The Senior Six, six scholars of the senior class, were selected Thursday by the Oregon chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary.

Chosen for the scholastic honor were Gerald Alexanderson, mathematics; Gerald Ohlsen, chemistry; Jacquelyn Saylor, foreign languages; Robert Summers, political science; Edward Toyooka, general science, and Sylvia Wingard, law.

The Senior Six will be initiated Thursday, Dec. 2, in Gerlinger hall.
