

Civil War Contest Set

By Allen Johnson

The question of college football superiority in Oregon for the 1954 season will be answered Saturday after the Oregon Ducks and the Oregon State college Beavers meet at Corvallis in the 58th renewal of their Civil War classic.

Scheduled for a 1:30 kickoff, the game will mark the OSC Homecoming event. Parker Stadium, the year-old, 27,000-seat arena of the Beavers, will be the site of the game.

Len Casanova's men will carry with them a 5-4 record for the season, an up-and-down campaign which has seen UO football hopes change from Rose Bowl aspirations to the mythical championship of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

After opening the season with a smashing 41-0 win over Idaho, the Ducks were toppled by Stanford, 18-13. Following games have included wins over California, San Jose State, Washington and Washington State. UCLA, Southern California and Utah have beaten the Webfoots by widely-varied margins.

OSC Season Dismal

The Beavers, on the other hand, show just one triumph for the season, a 13-0 victory over Idaho in the year's first game. Since then, Taylor's youngsters have been whipped by Nebraska, Washington State, California, UCLA, USC and Minnesota.

But all records can be rightfully tossed out for this game, yearly the hardest-contested game for each school. The Beavers in 1953 were given practically no chance to win, after failing to score in their first five games, but up-ended the Ducks 7-0 in last year's Homecoming tussle on Hayward field.

Prior to that the Staters had won 20-10, 14-2, 14-7 and 22-19 decisions beginning in 1949. The Oregon Cotton Bowl team of 1948 was the last Duck eleven to whip the Beavers, turning the trick by a 10-0 count.

Eleven UO Seniors Playing

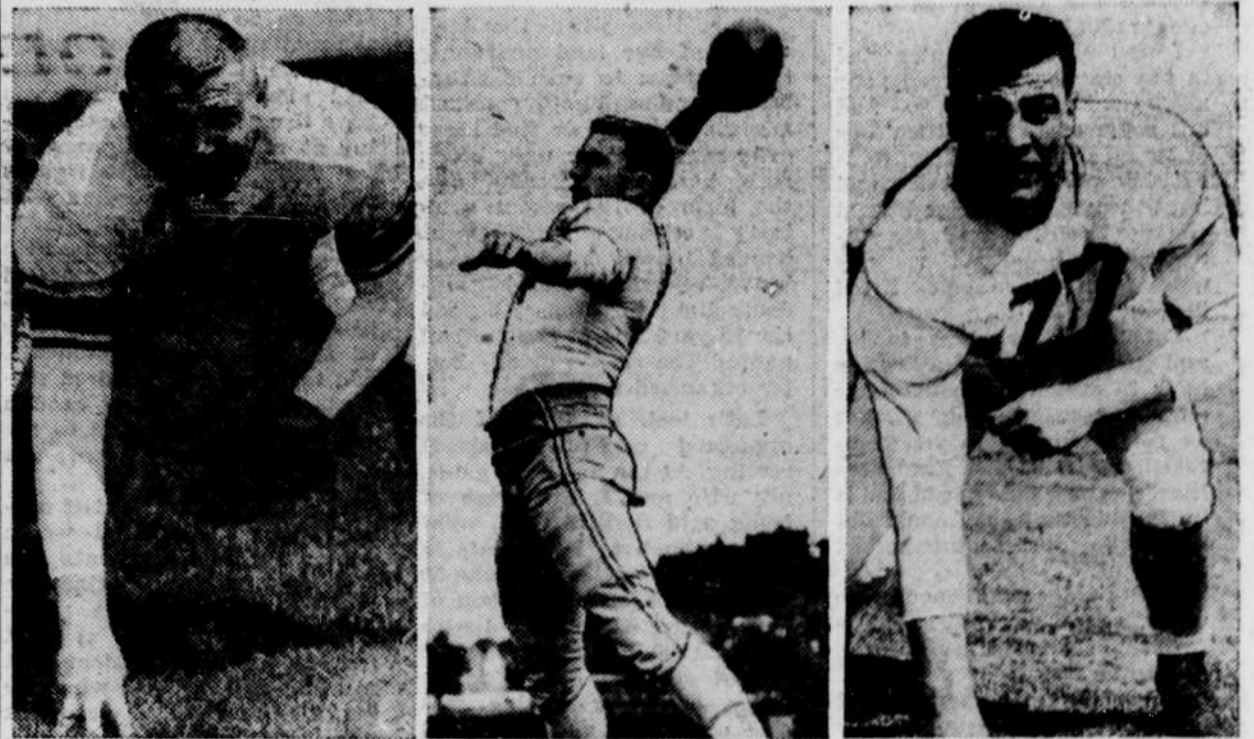

Chief hopes for a Duck win rest with four senior players, all performing in their last Oregon game. Quarterback George Shaw, Center Ron Pheister, Guard Jack Patera and End Hal Reeve will brace the Webfoot attack. Other senior gridders include Ends Dick Mobley, Leroy Campbell and Chuck Greenley; Tackle Keith Tucker; Quarterback Don Holt; Halfbacks Walt Gaffney and Lloyd Powell and Fullback Dean Van Leuven.

Shaw is expected to head a backfield of Dick James and Powell at halfbacks and sophomore line-buster Jasper McGee at fullback. Other line starters should be junior Tackle Lon Stiner and sophomore Guard Reanous Cochrane.

The return of Quarterback Ray Westfall may give a large boost to the passing attack of the Beavers. Senior veteran Jim Withrow has been carrying the signal-calling burden along with Sophomore Bob Clark.

Top running backs for the sophomore-dominated Beavers are sophs Dan Naranche, Bob Sutton and Tom Berry, along with Senior Jack Peterson and Junior Vern Steward.

Anchoring the forward wall of Taylor are two giant tackles, both having been praised by opposing coaches. They are Ron Aschbacher, a 6' 3", 212-pounder from Prineville, and Howard Buettgenbach, who stands 6' 4" and scales 200, from Payette, Idaho.

Phi Deltas Triumph

The Phi Deltas spotted Sigma Phi Epsilon one game and then came back to take the next two for their win. The Sig Eps won the first 16-14 behind Terry Sullivan.

The winners roared back to blank the Sig Eps 15-0 in the second game and then took the third 15-8. Pete Williams and Bob Wagner led the Phi Deltas.

All-American Team Early

CONWAY, Ark.-(AP)-A Collier's magazine naming the publication's 65th All-Star football team arrived here this week, for some mysterious reason.

A mail subscriber received the Dec. 10 issue of Collier's at Memorial hospital here Monday. It's the only one in town.

There was no immediate comment from Collier's publishers in New York.

The magazine's star team, which everybody in this small town knows by now:

Ends—Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Don Helleder, Army.

Tackles—Jack Ellena, UCLA; Sid Fournet, LSU.

Guards—Jim Salsbury, UCLA; Bud Brooks, Arkansas.

Center—Kurt Burris, Oklahoma.

Quarterback—Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame.

Halfbacks—Dick Moegle, Rice; Howard Cassady, Ohio State.

Fullback—Alan Ameche, Wisconsin.
