

Duck Tracks

By Bob Rogers

It was a much improved freshman football team that dumped Grays Harbor 26-6 in an action-packed tussle at Aberdeen, Wash., two weeks ago, and beat the Oregon State Rooks last week at Corvallis. A squad of 38 players made the trip to Aberdeen and all saw action at least twice in the game, providing badly needed experience for the Ducklings.

Although the backfield is not tremendously large and the line has only fair speed and average weight, the team is well coordinated and functions as a unit, especially on defense. Just how many of this year's freshmen play varsity ball depends a lot on their grades for winter and spring terms. About 20 players have shown potential varsity ability and great things are expected from them if they "hit the books."

Cage Season Starts

A 15-game schedule faces the freshman basketball team starting Jan. 10 with games against independent teams, junior colleges and other freshmen aggregations. The Ducklings' agenda formerly included high school teams, but the idea was abandoned when the high schools could not provide stiff enough competition.

There is no set number of players on the squad and no organized league competition, but the athletic department tries to schedule the toughest teams available to provide experience. On the average only about eight out of a 25-man frosh squad will play varsity ball.

Height seems to be the main physical characteristic of the freshman basketball team this year, with Dave Shelby, Harley Sittner, Eli Morgan, Paul Tucharth, Norm Willoughby, Bill Scearce, and Dave Wanaka all measuring from 6' 3" to 6' 7". Hal Duffy, a big frosh football player, is also expected to turn out.

Other players out include Bob Ayre, Wimp Hastings, Bob Cellers, Don Delbon, Roger Diddock, Bob Faris, Dick Koford, Don Lindland, Wendy Rasor, Lowell Slick, Martin Swan, George Twidwell, Burt Williams and Cal Calloway.

Bowerman Lines Up Squad

Although the sound of churning cleates is somewhat in the future, Coach Bill Bowerman is forming an idea about the personnel of his 1955 track team. Many of the cindermen and field performers are jumping the gun as far as workouts are concerned, by taking advantage of a gym course, Decathlon and Cross Country. The program is identical with the system used in the Olympic games, except that the six field events and four track races are not completed in two days, but are run over a period of several weeks.

SHAW STILL LEADING

Battle Expected For Top Scorer

LOS ANGELES-(Special)-While Oregon's George Shaw and California's Paul Larson battle to the final gun Saturday for total offense honors in the Pacific Coast Conference, a four-way struggle will be underway for the scoring leadership, according to figures released this week by the PCC commissioner's office.

Shaw and Larson are but 40 yards in their total offense duel with Shaw on top, 1415 yards to 1375. In the PCC scoring race, however, four men are within six points of each other and three of them will appear in the UCLA-USC game Saturday.

Davenport Leads

Leading the pack is Bob Davenport, UCLA fullback, with 10 touchdowns for 60 points. Second is Jon Arnett, Southern California halfback, with 55 points on nine touchdowns and one conversion, while halfbacks Primo Villanueva, UCLA, and Dick James, Oregon, have 54 points each. All will conclude their season Saturday except Arnett, whose team also has a regular season game November 27.

Conference leader in rushing is Stanford's Bill Tarr with 669 yards to 596 for Jerry Drew of California, who rolled up a spectacular 283 yards last Saturday. Larson has passing honors all to himself with 111 completions to 86 for second-ranked Shaw. The California quarterback has a 64.2% completion mark which puts him in excellent position to break the Conference and NCAA season record of 60.9% set by Don Heinrich of Washington in 1950.

Hanifan Top Receiver

Top pass receiver is California's Jim Hanifan with 39 catches good for 510 yards and six touchdowns. John Stewart, Stanford, has 36 receptions and Jim Carmichael, California, 28. Leading in interceptions is Bob Iverson, Washington State, with five, while four men have four interceptions each.

The best average belongs to Bob Heydenfeldt, UCLA, 41.4 yards, while Jim Withrow, Oregon State, has averaged 40.5.

Sam Brown, UCLA, has the most yards on punt returns, 235, and Dennis Rath, Washington State, leads James 246 yards to 244 on kickoff returns.

Oregon Defends NW Race Title

Oregon's cross-country team successfully defended its Northwest intercollegiate title at Portland university yesterday finishing far ahead of its nearest opponents, Portland university and Oregon State.

NCAA Mile Champ Bill Dellinger took over the lead from Ken Reiser with a mile left and finished the 3 mile course twenty yards ahead of Reiser for first place. His time of 15:48 was just eight seconds off the meet record set last year by Reiser. Jim Senko of Portland university, who had led at the halfway point, finished third.

Freshman Stan Rutherford nabbed fourth place and Australian half-mile champ Jim Bailey took fifth. Two other freshmen, Don Meskimen and Bob Drynan finished eighth and ninth respectively.

NCAA Criticized For TV Policies

TAMPA, Fla.-(AP)-Two prominent sports figures attacked policies of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Wednesday at the Associated Press Managing Editors association meeting.

Ed (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, renewed his criticisms of the NCAA's television program and called for a complete revision.

Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, Kansas basketball coach, said an "enforcer" was needed for the rules governing subsidization and proselyting and urged the press to take an active role as a watchdog on NCAA rules.

Krause and Allen appeared with Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, on a panel and told the newsmen how they would edit sports pages.

Krause said professional football attendance was up because of widespread television but he made it clear Notre Dame did not intend to pull out of the NCAA over the matter of television restrictions.

Allen said "folding money over or under the table is the worst evil in college" and that "the cause of the lack of enforcement is college presidents. They do not want to surrender power."
