

Oregon Daily EMERALD

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published five days a week during the school year except examination and vacation periods, by the Student Publications Board of the University of Oregon. Entered as second class matter at the post office, Eugene, Oregon. Subscription rates: $5 per school year; $2 a term.
Opinions expressed on the editorial pages are those of the writer and do not pretend to represent the opinions of the ASUO or of the University. Unsigned editorials are written by the editor; initiated editorials by the associate editors.

Another Waldo

Ever since Waldo's departure to WSC last year something's been missing on campus. We've had no outstanding dog-type personality. Everybody knew Waldo, the big black and white dog who lived at the Theta Chi house and kept all other campus animals in a state of terror.

And now, after almost a year there's a new personality emerging dominant. He's Jim Dandy, the ATO boxer.

Not quite as big as Waldo, Jim Dandy nevertheless is about the biggest dog on campus—and certainly the most aggressive. And other campus mascots have learned to respect the boxer's teeth.

When he arrived on campus from a kennel in Portland, Jim Dandy was just another campus mascot. But his appearances at football games—he has no respect for people in grandstands, if they're in the way he climbs or jumps over them—and his battles with smaller campus animals are fast winning him a reputation that may soon equal Waldo's.

Don't know if Jim Dandy has acquired a taste for a beer or two on Friday afternoons as we've heard Waldo had. Nor do we know if he'll make squirrel chasing his favorite sport. But we're confident the campus mascots have a new leader.
