

Oregon "Y" Delegates Attend National Meet

Delegates from the University's YWCA and YMCA to the national assembly of their organizations returned Jan. 4 from the University of Kansas campus in Lawrence, Kansas, where the convention was held.

Held every four years, the conference this year was attended by approximately 1000 students representing all sections of the United States and many foreign countries. Among University delegates were Nancy Marston, freshman in liberal arts, Frances Frey, freshman in liberal arts, Jean Sandine, junior in journalism, Miriam Vaaler, sophomore in liberal arts, Germaine LaMarche, junior in far eastern studies, Georgina Griffin, freshman in liberal arts, Dave Roberts, sophomore in liberal arts, and Eileen Lindblad, executive director of the YWCA.

Traveling both by train and by a chartered bus from the Pacific Northwest, local delegates arrived at Lawrence, Kansas, for the week-long conference following the theme, "Where Are You?"

Typical activities of each day, included a morning worship service and Bible presentation, followed by various workshops with group discussion of the Y study booklets. Miss LaMarche led the discussion of "Your Freedom is in Trouble," Miss Sandine, "You, the Nation and the World." Afternoon plenary sessions were held to form an effective citizenship platform, to be supported and carried out by the Y groups during the next four years. Among the statutes formed was the pledge of all Y groups to work to eliminate discrimination in all campus organizations.

Lectures by outstanding theologians, leaders of several Christian movements, and other nationally-known figures filled the week's evenings.

Free time was filled with many recreational activities. A New Year's Eve party and watch-night service was arranged by the student group from the Pacific Northwest. Preceding adjournment of the conference an impressive communion service was held for all attending.

Said Miss LaMarche, YWCA conference chairman, "It was a thrilling experience to meet with students of every race and from all sections of the country to discuss individual, campus and community problems. What I especially enjoyed was the wonderful sense of community among the delegates and their concern and awareness of political and social issues."

YWCA Observes Centennial Year

The centennial anniversary of the founding of the Young Women's Christian Association is now being observed throughout the nation by both campus and community associations of the group.

Among the goals of the birthday year set by the national convention of YWCA is the pledging of each individual group to contribute a certain amount of money to the national goal of $5 million.

Ann Erickson, junior in general science, is chairman of the centennial program for the University's YWCA. Various projects have been planned to raise money for the pledged amount of $1500, $500 of which will be earned by the advisory board. Letters asking for contributions to this fund have been written to many Oregon alums who have held cabinet positions since the organization's founding in 1894. Tentative plans have been made for serving a series of Sunday night suppers at the YWCA in Gerlinger hall. Popcorn balls will be sold in living organizations by the sophomore cabinet as its contribution to this nation-wide project, Miss Erickson said.

Gamma Phi Wins Recreation Cup

The Women's Recreation association recently awarded its fall term participation cup to Gamma Phi Beta, with the second place certificate going to Alpha Omicron Pi.

Presentation of the trophy each term is based upon the percentage of the total number of women in any living organization taking part in the sports of that term.

Winners of the two tournaments held fall term were Delta Zeta, bowling, and Rebec house, volleyball. Gamma Phi Beta placed second in bowling.
