

New Counseling To Aid 'Smarties'

A new system of freshman counseling has been put in effect at the University this term. The new program will put more emphasis on devoting time to freshmen who have scored high on their entrance exams but have not been able to get good grades in school.

In the past more of the emphasis of freshmen counseling has been on those who have not scored highly in their entrance exams. But fall term results this school year have proved that students in the high stanine group as well as those in the low class are in need of help in several cases.

Of the 763 men taking the freshmen entrance exams, 24 achieved the stanine rating of nine, which is the highest possible. Twenty eight others ranked in the eight stanine group. Among 594 freshmen women, 22 were in the nine group and 29 scored in the eight class.

Pre-Med Tests Planned for May

Students wishing admission to medical schools in the fall of 1956 are urged to take the medical college admission test in May.

More than 300 local centers will give the tests, which may be taken Saturday, May 7, or Monday, October 31. The tests concern general scholastic ability, understanding of modern society, and science achievement. According to the Educational Testing Service, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary.

As many medical schools select entering students early in the fall, the ETS stresses that the May tests be taken. The tests are required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country. All questions on the tests are of the objective type.

Application forms, and a bulletin of information, which gives details of registration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N. J. Applications must reach the ETS office by April 23 or October 17.

'Viva la Papa'

dates are being called for by hostess co-chairmen Julie Miller and Mary Sandeberg.

Candidates for hostess are to be married women who have attended school at the University and either the candidate or her husband must be attending the University now. Candidates are required to be residents of Eugene.

Living organizations nominating candidates are to notify Mary Brennan at Gamma Phi Beta by 5 p.m. Saturday of their nominations. Voting will be conducted Thursday and Friday in the Student Union, Commonwealth square and the Co-op. Four finalists will be selected.

Hostess eliminations will be held Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 in the Student Union. Judges of the contest will be Eugene dads. The winner will be announced at the barbershop quartet contest Friday night.

Tickets for the luncheon will be on sale next week and are priced at $1.25 each. The luncheon is planned for Oregon dads and their sons and daughters.

Of the men in the nine stanine group four failed even to make a grade of 2.00. Seven others in the eight class had the same results.

None of the 22 women in the top rank failed to make their grades but one in the eight group did run into GPA difficulties.

This disappointing showing by students who were expected to do much better has caused the change in the counseling program.

YWCA Chows Down Sunday at Gerlinger

The YWCA will serve Sunday supper from 5:30 to 6:15 p.m. Jan. 23 in Gerlinger hall.

Sandwiches, soup, dessert, milk and coffee will be available at the supper, which is a project of the Y's freshman commissions. Money earned will go into the YWCA's centennial fund.

In charge of this Sunday's supper are Sandra Yokum, Molly Gilbert, both freshmen in education, and Joyce Jacobsons, freshman in business.

Reading Essay Contest Planned

All students wishing to enter the Peter Pauper Press essay contest must inform Miss Bernice Rise, browsing room librarian, or Carl Hintz, University librarian, of their intention to enter before Feb. 1.

This will be the third year the contest has been conducted on this campus. First started in 1953, the contest is a result of the recognition of the University library's "promotion of good reading and appreciation of fine bookmaking" by the Peter Pauper Press which donates a group of books as prizes for the University undergraduate students who submit the best essays on subjects dealing with reading and the art of fine bookmaking.

Only one essay can be submitted by each contestant, and it must not exceed 2000 words in length. The deadline for submitting the essay is May 1. Prizes are awarded at the all campus sing during Junior Weekend.

Previous winners are Ann Ogle, senior in English, who won first prize in 1953 for an essay entitled, "Realism in Literature — It Can Go Too Far." Sue Shreeve, sophomore in speech, won first prize last year with the essay, "Scholar's Etiquette for Youth."

First prize is ten classics from the Peter Pauper Press collector's edition. Second prize winner receives five books.

VETS' NEWS

Veterans are cautioned to be careful how they answer item number 4a which appears in the monthly education allowance form the veteran signs in the registrar's office at the first of each month.

This item concerns whether or not the Veterans Administration has your current or last address correctly. If you are in doubt answer "yes" because no harm will be done if no change is involved.

And it won't hurt if you drop in at the VA office to make out a change of address form to make certain. And if you have any other problem, come around. The address is the Hampton building at 610 Willamette street.
