UN Delegates Delay Action

By Francis W. Carpenter
Of the Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. security council delegates agreed unofficially Tuesday to give Red China a week to decide whether to take part in crucial debates here on a cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold dispatched an invitation Monday night to the Communist Chinese premier and foreign minister, Chou En-Lai.

The council set no deadline for a reply. But one key delegate said Tuesday the council will have to decide what to do if no response is received early next week.

This delegate said Red China likely will study the transcript of the council meeting, weigh the conditions and consequences of accepting the bid, and then advise the council.

Hoppenot Urges Slowdown

In endorsing a New Zealand proposal to invite Red China to come here for the talks, Henri Hoppenot of France urged fellow delegates to avoid hurried procedure and to take only one step at a time.

He reminded the delegates that the council has had experience in arranging cease-fires in Palestine and Kashmir.

Hoppenot recalled that Hammarskjold had talked previously with Chou and indicated that this personal contact might prove helpful in regard to the invitation.

No one in the U. N. secretariat would say whether Hammarskjold coupled with his message of invitation a recommendation that Chou accept.

The consensus appeared to be that Chou would send a representative, but here and there some officials questioned what Chou had to gain by such action.

Some Asian quarters were discussing the possibility of a meeting of five big powers, if a cease-fire is attained, in order to work out a settlement of the Far Eastern situation.

These sources refused to be quoted but they seemed to be talking in terms of a meeting in Geneva or New Delhi of the United States, Britain, France, Soviet Union and Red China, with India perhaps serving in some role.

If the Reds ignore the invitation, it was said, the council then will have to go ahead and approve a resolution for a cease-fire without their participation in the debate.

But it would be difficult to work out a cease-fire without the help of both parties. Nationalist China and Peiping both have said they did not want a cease-fire but it was believed here Nationalist China would not in the end oppose a cease-fire if everyone else agreed upon it.

Late Registrants Pay the Price

PARKVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Any student of Park college who cut his last class, chapel or work assignment before, or his first one after Christmas vacation, was to be dropped from the college.

His request for reinstatement may be considered by the administrative council, and if approved, will be effective upon payment of a $5 fee.

Hunter to Speak; Students Assist

Four University students in costume will assist Frederick J. Hunter in tonight's browsing room lecture at 7:30 by reading parts from Mercy Warren's "The Motley Assembly."

The students are: Helen Adams, graduate in theater; Jon Powell, graduate in theater; Bruce Emmons, junior in speech, and Gail Monte, freshman in English.

The topic of the lecture by Hunter, an assistant professor of speech, will be "The Patriotic Dialogue in Early American Theater." He will cover the American theater from 1714 to 1778, and will use several previously unpublished plays in his lecture.

Discussion leader for the lecture will be R. D. Clark, head of the speech department and assistant dean of the college of liberal arts.

Hunter's lecture is being given in conjunction with the University's second Festival of Arts, built around the theme "The American Heritage." The remaining browsing room lectures of the term will also be a part of the Festival program.

Churchill Speaks

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill parried Laborite challenges to his Formosa stand Tuesday and told the House of Commons he hopes Red China will accept an invitation to sit in with the U.N. Security Council in New York and discuss a cease-fire.

Laborite Philip Noel-Baker suggested Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden should fly to New York and represent Britain on the Security Council during the crucial debates.

'Community' Theme Set

Today's Religious Evaluation week speeches in the Student Union dad's lounge will follow the theme "Personal Religion at Work in the Community."

Charles Leber will speak on "The Shaping Forces of Religion in the Community" at 3 p.m. The second address, at 8 p.m., will be given by Rabbi Nodel. He will speak on "Religion in the Family."

Leber is now serving as general secretary of the board of foreign missions, a position which he has held since 1952. The author and administrator has made three round-the-world trips as well as visits to various parts of the world.

Rabbi Nodel is spiritual leader of Temple Beth Israel in Portland. Since coming to Portland in 1950, he has been active in civic activities there. Rabbi Nodel also serves on several state and national youth and welfare committees. A lecturer, he also conducts a monthly television program called "We Believe."

Other RE week events scheduled for today include dinner and fireside discussions in five living organizations from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and a forum in the Sp dad's lounge from 4 to 5 p.m.

The faculty luncheon at noon in the faculty club will honor Rabbi Nodel.

Thursday morning's program

King of Hearts Semi-Finalists Selected by YW

Semi-finalists for the title of King of Hearts were selected Tuesday night in interviews by the Sophomore YWCA cabinet at Gerlinger hall.

They are Sam Vahey, Campbell club; Bud Hinkson, Alpha Chi Omega; Gary Alden, Kappa Alpha Theta; Don Hazelett, Phi Gamma Delta, and Martin Brandenfels, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Ev Stiles, Phi Kappa Psi; Bill Shepard, Delta Upsilon; Bob Reid, Sigma Chi and Delta Gamma; Ray Bell, Pi Beta Phi; Dick Van Allen, Beta Theta Pi; Dave Talbot, Alpha Omicron Pi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Jerry Maxwell, Lambda Chi Alpha.

The twelve will be narrowed down to six finalists in final interviews to be held Thursday at 7 p.m. also at Gerlinger hall.

Sophomore cabinet members have asked that no fraternity pins be worn by the men being interviewed.

The King will be selected by campus vote the week before the Y-sponsored Heart Hop, which is to be held Feb. 11 after the basketball game.

Dancing for the girl-ask-boy affair will be held at Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Gamma.

10 Killed in Crash

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Reports reaching here said a Dakota transport plane crashed near Nagpur Airport early Wednesday, killing all 10 persons aboard including a crew of four. The plane was on the regular flight from Madras to New Delhi.

Dulles Plans Treaty Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—A reported new move for a meeting to broaden the North Atlantic Treaty beyond its military limits was traced Tuesday night to a speech by Secretary of State Dulles last December.

The treaty, which created the 14-nation NATO as an anti-communist grouping, specifically includes provision for co-operation other than military—that is, in the social, economic and similar fields.

But the NATO nations have

Schedule Listed For RE Firesides

Religious Evaluation week firesides will be held in five living organizations tonight after dinner. Guest speakers, religious leaders on campus for RE week, will be dinner guests in the five women's houses at 5:30 p.m. The discussion periods will last until 7:30 p.m.

The speakers and the groups to which they will speak are as follows:

Frank G. Williston—Campbell club at Sigma Kappa.

Rev. Russell B. Staines—Sigma Chi at Kappa Alpha Theta.

Rabbi Julius Joseph Nodel—Sigma Phi Epsilon at Chi Omega.

Rev. Martin Thielen—Sederstrom hall at Alpha Omicron Pi.

will include chapel meditation at 7:30 a.m. in alumni hall in Gerlinger. The speakers also will lecture in classrooms from 8 to 12 a.m.

The last addresses of RE week are scheduled for Thursday at 3 p.m. The closing address, "Man, Religion, and Society," by the Rev. Russell B. Staines, will be a summary of this week's addresses.

Dads' Weekend Hostess To be Selected in Election

The Dad's Weekend hostess, traditionally a married student or the wife of a student, will be selected Thursday and Friday by popular campus vote.

The hostess will be selected from the four finalists, Rosemary Hampton Meredith, Nikki Trump Powell, Jackie Densmore Jackson and Ann Hopkins Anderson, and will be presented during intermission at the barbershop quartet contest Friday night.

Rosemary Meredith

Rosemary Hampton Meredith, candidate of Alpha Chi Omega, has been active on campus for four years. A senior, Mrs. Meredith is a speech major.

Holding the office of vice-president of AWS fills out her busy schedule of attending classes and working at Claypool's. In addition to this, Mrs. Meredith fills the position of secretary-treasurer for the AGS.

Serving on many committees and as chairman for campus events such as the Sunlight Serenade for Junior Weekend earned Mrs. Meredith membership in both Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, and Phi Theta, junior women's honorary. She also worked on numerous AWS events including the Bunion Derby, AWS Christmas tree, auction, and rummage sale.

Nikki Powell

The candidate of Sigma Chi and Delta Delta Delta, Nikki Trump Powell is a senior in business.

As evidenced by her membership in Phi Theta her junior year and Mortar Board this year, Mrs. Powell has been active on campus for several years. Her special interests are marketing and merchandising and she is a member of Eta Mu Pi, merchandising honorary and Phi Chi Theta, national business honorary.

She can be found working at the Co-op whenever such things as classes or her duties as vice-president of Mortar Board don't interfere.

Ann Anderson

Ann Hopkins Anderson, sponsored for Dads' Day hostess by Kappa Alpha Theta, was a member of Kwama and Phi Theta her sophomore and junior years respectively.

A senior business major, Mrs. Anderson was a member of the Homecoming court her sophomore year. She also acted as social chairman for the Sophomore "Y" cabinet that year. Her junior year she held the position of float chairman for Junior Weekend.

During her non-class hours Mrs. Anderson can be found working at Claypool's.

Jackie Jackson

A music major, Jackie Densmore Jackson has appeared in two University theater productions, "Brigadoon," and "The Devil and Daniel Webster." She also has sung with the University Singers for four years. A member of the Madrigal singers last term, Mrs. Jackson is a member of Mu Phi, national music honorary.

Holding the position of president of the local chapter of the Music Educator's national conference keeps Mrs. Jackson busy. She has also worked at the box office of the University theater for four years. She is co-chairman of the program committee for the Canoe Fete.

Mrs. Jackson is sponsored for Dads' Day hostess by Alpha Hall, Campbell club, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Gamma Delta and Pi Beta Phi.
