

Pre-Registration Said Improbable For Spring Term

A return to the old system of preliminary registration by spring term is virtually impossible, according to Donald DuShane, director of student affairs, and J. Spencer Carlson, director of admissions.

DuShane said Thursday that the recent discussions about long registration lines had been very good.

"Preliminary . . . Out"

"In my opinion the preliminary registration is the most satisfactory system for the students, but I doubt if it can be used this spring term," he added.

Return to preliminary registration methods can be accomplished only with the consent of the faculty, and that cannot be obtained until faculty committees meet and study the problems involved. The next faculty meeting is scheduled two days after spring term registration advising.

Representatives to Work on Weekend

Each campus living organization is to select a junior representative to act as a liaison with the Junior Weekend committee, according to Bud Hinkson, junior class president.

Names of the representatives are to be turned in to Hinkson at Sigma Chi, Mary Sweeney at Pi Beta Phi, or Don Bonime at Sigma Alpha Mu by Wednesday evening.

First meeting of the representatives will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Student Union, Hinkson reports. The representatives will co-ordinate Junior Weekend activities involving the living organizations.

Tickets Go on Sale for Hop; Women to Pick Heart King

Tickets for the YWCA-sponsored Heart Hop, Feb. 11, will be on sale today through Friday at the Co-op, the various sororities, and women's dorms. They will cost 75 cents a couple, according to Frances Achee, ticket chairman.

The girl-as-boy dance will start immediately after the basketball game Friday night, and will be held at Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Gamma. Refreshments will be served at each of the houses, and decorations will center around the Valentine theme.

When tickets are sold, girls will be given a chance to vote for any of the six candidates for King of Hearts. The winner will be announced at the intermission of Friday night's game.

Foreign Students Attend Fun Fest

Representatives from twenty Oregon colleges participated in the tenth annual International Fun Fest Saturday.

The dinner was attended by 120 foreign and American students and parents, with countries from Mexico to the Gilbert Islands represented.

A tea, held in the afternoon, was attended by approximately 60 students. There was also entertainment at Gerlinger after the game Saturday night. Later a dance was held, also in Gerlinger.

The candidates are: Bud Hink-

"However, it might be possible for the interested student group to present a request for consideration of their viewpoint to the faculty advising committee, thus getting possible immediate action," DuShane said.

Carlson confirmed DuShane's statement about the difficulties involved in using preliminary registration spring term.

In an interview a few weeks ago he said, "We'd rather see what we can do about speeding up the checking process rather than going back to the old method."

Recent discussions of the registration procedure developed from a Senate meeting at which DuShane, Carlson and Clifford Constance, registrar, discussed the present method.

Team to Present Military Retreat

A military retreat will be presented Thursday at 4:45 p.m. in front of the Student Union.

The retreat ceremony will consist mainly of a formal guard mount in conjunction with the lowering of the flag from the SU flagpole.

Presenting the guard mount will be the Army ROTC drill team. The drill team will be reviewed by cadet colonel Emerson Harvey, senior in pre-med.

Cadet personnel in charge of the guard mount are David Goode, adjutant; Lee Tucker, sergeant major, Karl Schwarck, officer of the guard; and Carl Groth, senior NCO.

Playing for the guard mount and the retreat ceremony will be the Army ROTC band.

Lonely Heart Seeks Thelma

Who is Thelma? And where is she now?

Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for South-east Asia stationed in Singapore, would like to know.

Mr. MacDonald has forgotten her last name. He remembers, however, that he met her at the University of Oregon when he was a member of the Oxford debate squad here in the 1920's.

In fact he "fell" for her, MacDonald told Austin Flegel of Portland when he met MacDonald in Singapore recently. MacDonald remembered they had breakfast and lunch together and went for a walk while he was here.

A peep into the 1927 Oregoniana reveals ten Thelmas. Which was she?

Was she Kitchen of Alpha Chi Omega? Millien or Burton of Alpha Gamma Delta? or Park of Chi Omega?

Or could she have been one of the independents — Perozzi, Rykman, Stephens, Thompson, Rankin or Sauvuisi? MacDonald doesn't know.

UO Rifle Squad Wins 4th in Row

University of Oregon small bore rifle team won its fourth straight match Tuesday evening by defeating the Shedd rifle club 969 to 956.

Carl Groth, sophomore in liberal arts, was high man for the night on the University team.

Other team members for this match were Lee Tucker, junior in geology and geography; Doug Gill, sophomore in business; Dick Buffington, junior in pre-dent, and Gordon Nobriga, junior in business.

The next scheduled match is with Oregon State College on Wednesday.

All Army ROTC and Air Force cadets are invited to fire on the military department's small bore range. Range hours are Monday through Friday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

'Dreams of Tomorrow' Is Senior Ball Theme

"The Senior Ball of 1955: Dreams of Tomorrow" will be the theme of this year's Senior Ball, only major all-campus dance this term.

Scheduled for the Student Union Ballroom Saturday, Feb. 19, the dance, sponsored by the senior class, is under the chairmanship of Don Rotenburg, senior class president.

"Formals" Planned

Traditionally the senior ball is formal, and that is included in the plans for this year, Rotenburg said. However, Loris Larson, class representative and chairman of the decorations committee, has promised something new in the way of decorations for the dance.

Assisting Miss Larson in planning decorations are Phil Crundall, Sue Silverthorn, Colleen Leubke, Ron Crosier, Elmer Jones and Dick Campbell.

Workers Needed

An estimated 50 persons will be needed to do an efficient job with the decorations, Miss Larson said. Students interested in working on the project should turn in petitions by Wednesday at 5 p.m. on the third floor of the SU, Miss Larson pointed out.

Dorothy Kopp, class representative, is handling arrangements for chaperones, tickets and programs.

USC Prof Speaks In Browsing Room

"The Painter Peers More Deeply Into American Life" will be the title of this week's browsing room lecture Wednesday in the Student Union. The lecture will be given by Donald B. Goodall, head of the department of fine arts at the University of Southern California.

Goodall is from Eugene. His lecture is being given in conjunction with the University's second Festival of Arts, which is built around the theme "The American Heritage." Discussion leader for the lecture will be Wallace S. Baldinger, associate professor of art and curator of the campus museum of art.

The programs are designed to be in keeping with the ballroom decorations, Miss Kopp said.

Handling publicity for the dance is Len Calvert, class vice-president. On the committee are Sue Lamb and Jackie Wardell Rice.

Counsel Jobs Are Available

Camp counseling positions for any college student over 18 are available for summer jobs, according to Marian Perry, in the women's physical education department.

Needed are administrative personnel, unit or troop leaders, assistant unit leaders or living group counselors, waterfront or assistant waterfront directors, maintenance personnel, and persons with skill in crafts and music.

Previous experience is not necessary for the jobs, Miss Perry said. She can give further information and application blanks, at 117 Gerlinger.
