Oregon and Washington fought to a basketball standoff in a rousing pair of games played over the weekend at McArthur court, with the Huskies taking a 54-52 overtime decision Friday night and the Ducks winning Saturday, 64-63.

With the split Bill Borchers Webfoots remain in second place in the Division race, four full games behind the unbeaten Oregon State Beavers. Washington came out of the cellar with the split as Idaho was losing twice to OSC at Moscow.

A second-half comeback Friday almost netted a win for the Ducks, but Washington hung on for a tie at the end of regulation time, 49-49. A field goal and three free tosses gave Tippy Dye's forces the win, with Oregon's Jim Loscutoff making it close with a final tipin. The 6' 5" Duck star was high point man over UW's Dean Parsons, 27-26.

Oregon led throughout the first half Saturday, but suffered a shooting drought early in the second half and lost their 36-29 halftime lead. But Howard Page's fine ball-hawking and Max Anderson's clutch foul-shooting gave Oregon the game in the final minute. Loscutoff had 20 to lead all scorers.

Washington's control of the backboards and Oregon's inefficiency at the free throw line combined to give the Huskies an edge, but the issue wasn't decided until Loscutoff's final desperation 40-foot shot fell short at the overtime horn.

With the score knotted at 49 apiece, Oregon's Jerry Ross fouled Parsons, and the 6' 8" Husky captain dropped in his free shot. This was followed up by Guard Doyle Perkins' jump shot. The two teams then traded fouls, with Ross making one and 49-38 lead. But Loscutoff led the way back with a pair of foul shots and a driving baseline lay-up.

Loscutoff Ties Game

Anderson tallied a free throw and Page dropped in a jump shot to tighten the gap. A fast break allowed Guard Phil McHugh to speed in for a layin and he drew a foul from Washington's Jim Coshow in the process. The foul shot was no good but Loscutoff tipped it in to knot the game. Then came the Husky stall.

Early in the first half, Washington scored ten points in a row to move into a commanding lead and they held that margin for most of the game. Both teams were shooting poorly, with Oregon slightly hotter, .292 to .244. The Ducks scored 21 for 72 from the field and the Huskies had 18 for 74. But from the foul line Washington netted 18 for 24 while Oregon could only manage 10 for 27.

Loscutoff produced his 27 markers on 11 field goals and five free tosses, while Parsons dropped in eight baskets and 10 foul shots. Sunitsch, a 5' 8" dynamo at a Washington guard spot, had eight points, while Ross and McHugh scored six apiece for the Ducks.

Oregon 64, U. of W. 63

The Ducks took an early lead Saturday but were forced to fight for it at the end. Washington staged a comeback and went ahead near the final horn but fell short.

With 8:08 remaining the game was tied at 50-50, and Oregon went into a quick 60-54 lead behind some nice shooting by Anderson. But the stubborn Huskies came right back as Perkins and Sunitsch kept scoring. Then Page got Oregon's last field goal on a jump shot.

Voegtlin drilled in two free throws and Coshow canned a jumper from the foul line to give Washington the lead. But the 6' 5" Husky forward fouled Anderson under the basket and the Duck center was equal to the task in sinking two free shots for the win, though two shots by UW's Mike Monroe came very near to going in before the horn.

McHugh Sparks Rally

It was the early work of McHugh that got the aggressive Ducks off to a fast start. He registered three quick baskets as Oregon jumped into an 11-4 lead. They boosted the margin to 36-29 at halftime but three jump shots from 20 feet out by Voegtlin drove Washington into a 42-42 tie before the final hectic minutes.

Scoring was well balanced on both sides, with Loscutoff matching his 20 rebounds with 20 points. Parsons had 14, Coshow 11 and Perkins and Voegtlin 10 each for Washington. McHugh with 12 and Anderson with 11 followed Loscutoff for Oregon.

The win probably cost Oregon the services of Ross for the Idaho series next weekend. The speedy junior was bumped by Sunitsch on a desperate attempt for the ball late in the game. Later examination showed an ankle sprain.

After the Idaho series here next weekend the Ducks will travel to Seattle for a pair with the Huskies before returning for the final home-and-home pair with Oregon State.

Phi Delt's Rout Beta's, 50-10

Friday afternoon intramural basketball action featured four routs, one tight battle and one forfeit.

Phi Delt's Roll

Phi Delta Theta's basketball steamroller crushed Beta Theta Pi 50-10. The Phi Delt's ran up huge leads at each of the quarter stops, leading 13-2 at the end of the first canto, 22-2 at the half, and 38-7 at the three-quarter mark.

Gregg Lininger and Larry Hibbard led the Phi Delt five in the scoring column with 8 counters apiece. Jim Imbrie with 4 took the honors for Beta.

Fiji's Fall

In low-scoring intramural basketball action Friday afternoon, Chi Psi dropped Phi Gamma Delta, 13-4. A good second half was the determining factor in the Chi Psi victory. After overcoming a 2-0 first quarter deficit and going into a slim 3-2 half-time lead, the Chi Psi's climbed into a 9-4 third quarter lead and continued to hold the Fiji's scoreless.

Bill Sanders potted 7 points to lead the victors, while the Fiji scoring was done by Jack Lally and Ray Giansanti.

Handballers Ready

Alpha Tau Omega takes on Sigma Chi today at 4 p.m., and Campbell club meets the Dorm Counselors Tuesday to determine the remaining two semi-finalist positions in the intramural handball tournament.

The Dorm Counselors swept past Delta Tau Delta, 3-0, Wednesday to gain the quarterfinals. Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta reached their semifinal posts with playoff sweeps of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi respectively, on Thursday and Friday.

MAX ANDERSON
Two for the Money

Washington's Don Sunitsch counting two.

Loscutoff tipped a stray shot in to put his team two points back, but several more Duck shots were off, and the Huskies had the game.

The end of regulation play was equally tense, as Sunitsch just missed a long set shot after a two-minute stall situation. Anderson rebounded and passed to Ross, whose final heave at the basket was way short.

Parsons, a nemesis to the Oregon zone defense all evening, tallied two quick layins with 6:21 to go and gave Washington a

Beavers Continue to Romp; UCLA, Stanford Tied in SD

Oregon State utilized the scoring strength of Swede Halbrook Friday and Saturday against Idaho as the Beavers rolled on for two more wins in their undefeated Northern Division season. The Aggies took a 59-52 decision Friday and won 69-63 Saturday.

The victories at Moscow put the Beavers into practically an untouchable lead in the league's last season before the PCC merger in 1956. With Oregon and Washington splitting a pair, OSC now boasts a four-game lead with only six counting games remaining.

Friday night the Vandals gave the league-leaders a real battle before succumbing in the final minutes when Halbrook returned to his 1954 form and knocked down three quick layins for the victory. Halbrook tallied 21 points for the game's high-point honors with Idaho's Jim Sather next with 14.

Whiteman Leads Comeback

Saturday night the Orange and Black team gave a repeat performance before the 4000 Idaho fans as reserve Tex Whiteman led a last half comeback. Halbrook was in his old form as he scored 27 points for his best 1955 effort, while Harlan Melton was high for Idaho with 24.

Washington State was idle in conference action over the weekend but will get back into play tonight with a game against Gonzaga in Spokane. Weekend action finds the Cougars at Seattle against Washington with Oregon hosting Idaho. OSC is idle but takes on Idaho next Monday and Tuesday at Corvallis.

SOUTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

UCLA	5	1	.833	460	384
Stanford	5	1	.833	438	409
USC	2	4	.333	403	435
California	0	6	.000	372	445

Stanford and UCLA continued to dominate the hotly-contested Southern Division basketball race Friday and Saturday as both swept to double victories with the schedule hitting the halfway mark.

Both the Indians and the Bruins had an easy time of it in winning their fourth and fifth victories in the SD's hot hoop chase. Stanford posted two wins over the defending champion USC Trojans at Palo Alto to shove the 1954 title-holders deep into third place while UCLA was mauling

California twice at Los Angeles to leave the Bears winless and in the cellar with half the conference season left.

Tomsic Sets Mark

Friday night Stanford romped to an easy 92-78 win over USC as Guard Ron Tomsic set a new division scoring record with 40 points with Chet Carr getting 18 for the Trojans. Meanwhile UCLA was downing California 83-64 with Johnny Moore bagging 21 and Don Bragg 22 for the winners. Big Bob McKeen got 26 for the losers for the game's honors.

Saturday night is was the same story with Stanford winning 76-60 and UCLA triumphing 84-63. Tomsic was again the high-scorer with 27 markers with Dick Welsh canning 18 for USC, Ron Bane 25 for the Bruins, and Mike Diaz 22 for California.

Tomsic's 67 points in two nights lifted him into the league's top spot in scoring with 134 points, an average of 22.3, and gave him a new career record formerly held by the great Hank Luisetti. McKeen, the former leader, dropped into second with his weekend's total of 44 with a six-game average of 21.5.
