Literary Club Formed; Biggs New President

By Elliot Carlson
Emerald Reporter

"Ye Tabard Inn," once a men's literary honorary on campus, was reorganized Monday with junior Bob Biggs elected president of the group.

Other officers include Larry Kott, junior in pre-law, vice-president, and Elliot Carlson, freshman in journalism, secretary-treasurer. James Hall and Stan Karchmer, professors of English, were selected as advisers.

Independents Plan Regional Meeting

United Independent Students will be host to the regional Independent Student association convention here Feb. 18 and 19. Delegates from Washington State college, University of Washington, University of Idaho and Oregon State college are planning to attend the conference, according to Len Calvert, UIS president. Several other colleges also are expected to send representatives, Calvert said.

Registration will begin at noon Feb. 18 in the Student Union. The program will include discussion periods on party organization, dormitories, finances, student government, co-ops, public relations, relations to the administration, off-campus students and social planning. A luncheon has been scheduled for Saturday noon in the SU.

Entertainment for the ISA convention delegates will include a UIS-sponsored dance Feb. 18 from 8:30 p.m. to 12 p.m. The dance, on the third floor of Gerlinger hall, also will be open to all Oregon students. Admission will be 50 cents per student.

Folk Songs Topic Of Tuesday Talk

Peter Seeger, American folk singer and banjo artist, will present a lecture-recital on "American Folk Songs" Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Seeger is appearing in conjunction with the current Festival of Arts program, "The American Heritage" and will make one

Infirmary Confines Record Number

Twenty-one students were confined in the infirmary Thursday. This is the highest number for the entire year for the 26-bed hospital area, according to staff members.

Students confined are Lorraine Ray, Mary Jo Fourier, Judith Harris, Darlene Peake, Nancy Darquist, Nancy Pierson, Jeanette Dimit, Barbara Coen, William Freske, Helen Knight.

Lois Ralston, James Withrow, Charles Greeney, Douglas May, Jack Moad, Gerald Ross, Walter Ching, John McCall, Elton Engstrom, Dale Carroll and Stan Lyman.

Before the organization can be campus recognized, however, its constitution must be ratified by the student affairs committee.

If the committee approves the honorary, its first official meeting will be held Feb. 24.

The 12 students who are charter members include Ardon Milkes, Bill Warner, Ken Niehans, Gary McMurry, Pete Plummer, Jim Leonard, Dean Jalluddan, Jim Henderson and Mel Govig. William Feeney, professor of English, will also be a member of the organization in some advisory capacity.

The old literary group reached its peak in the 1920's when W. F. Goodwin Thacher, professor emeritus in journalism, was adviser. However, during World War II the organization folded due to a lack of men students on campus.

The purpose of the honorary will be not only to provide an interest in literature on campus for men, but also to give an outlet where their works will be criticized by other interested students.

Controversial Record To be Aired by KRGV

Radio station KRGV in Springfield will broadcast its controversial record of "The Investigator" this afternoon at 4:30, along with a statement by Portland Detective Captain William L. Browne, chairman of Oregon's American Legion Subversive Activities committee.

Station Manager Glen Stadler made the announcement Thursday afternoon after a two and one-half hour meeting with Browne.

Statement Taped
In his statement, taped for broadcast along with the record, Browne charged that revenue from the record goes to the Communist party. He alleged that the author of the original play, Reuben Ship, is a Communist, and that part of Ship's income goes to the Communist party.

Ship, deported from the United States in 1953, and now living in Canada, denied Tuesday that the Communist party received any of the money.

Proof Not Offered
Stadler said earlier that he would not play the record, a satire on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigations, if he received proof that proceeds aid the Communist cause.

He said he felt that no absolute proof had been offered by the Legion.

Tickets on Sale For Heart Hop

Tickets for the Heart Hop are being sold today at the Co-op, Student Union checkroom, and in each women's living organization, for 75 cents a couple.

Women also will be able to purchase tickets at the doors of any of the three houses where the dance will be held tonight. Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma will be hosts for this year's Hop.

The price of the tickets will include refreshments served at the houses from 11 to 11:30 p.m., according to Sally Calkins, co-chairman of the dance.

Women are to keep their tickets as they go from house to house so that they can be admitted. Tickets will be checked at the doors.

The Hop, which will start immediately after the Oregon-Idaho basketball game, is sponsored by the sophomore cabinet of the YWCA. Campus clothes are in order.

The King of Hearts will be featured during the half-time of tonight's game.

'Boy in Blue' Still Chipper

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, last of the 2,675,000 boys in blue of the Civil War, celebrates his 108th birthday Friday without what he refers to as "a lot of hullabaloo."

The chipper old soldier will make only one public appearance, going to the city hall Friday afternoon for dedication of a base that will hold a bust of him presented to the city last August.

Eighteen members of his family will attend a birthday dinner at his home Friday night, followed by an open house for about 30 to 40 close friends and neighbors.

Senate Requests Student Essays

The ASUO Senate last night decided to sponsor a student essay contest for the purpose of stimulating thought about student government.

Subject of the essay will be "The Role of Student Government on the University of Oregon Campus." Prizes, tentatively set for a $25 first prize and a $10 second prize, will come from the ASUO budget.

Open to all students, the essays must be from 500-1000 words in length and can be submitted from March 29 until April 13, one week before the ASUO primary elections.

Judges of the contest will be the faculty members of the senate, Donald DuShane, director of student affairs; Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, and R. D. Horn, professor of English.

The senate also voted to recommend to next year's Dad's Day Weekend committee that the welcoming sign contest be eliminated. Several members said that, under the present rules and limitations, the contest is really no contest at all and that it perhaps would be better to abolish the tradition altogether.

Bob Schooling, co-chairman of the Canoe Fete committee, received senate approval to go ahead with a full scale program instead of the limited one as originally planned.

The new program will differ principally in having more floats, about 15 instead of the eight as

Senior Ball Band 'Off-Campus Unit'

Band for the Senior ball, Feb. 19, will be announced Monday or Tuesday, according to Len Calvert, senior class vice-president. The band will be "an off-campus group," he said.

Dress for the formal dance, which is the only major all-campus dance of the term, will be formals for women, dark suits for men and corsages optional.

"Dreams of Tomorrow" is the theme for the affair, for which decorations will be modernistic.

Loris Larson, senior class representative and decorations chairman, recently named Norman Ross, freshman in liberal arts, to the committee.

Jerry Hirsch, freshman in speech, has been named co-chairman of promotion, with Ward Cook, senior in business. Assisting the two on the committee are Norman Seidenberg, freshman in liberal arts, and Alan Shleifer, freshman in business.

Anyone on campus may attend the dance, Don Rotenberg, senior class president, has emphasized. It is a class dance only in that the Senior class plans it, he said.

Order of 'O' to Enforce Seating Rules Tonight

Order of the "O," lettermen's club will strictly enforce seating in the lower bleachers at tonight and Saturday night's games between Idaho and Oregon.

In addition, members have been asked to see that their living organizations turn out en masse and in white shirts, President Bob Reid said Wednesday.

The entire east side of the bleachers, behind the teams, will be reserved for male students in white shirts. Anyone not dressed properly will be asked to sit in the end sections with the "piggers" and married students.

The "Yeah...Boo" yell routine, which was initiated at the Washington games will be followed again for the Idaho series, Betty Anderson, rally board chairman, said. This cheer, which was used some years ago, was revived last Saturday by members of several fraternities who previously planned. Schooling said that it is time, not space that is the limiting factor in determining the number of floats. Even with only 15 floats the fete could take as long as two and one-half hours.

In other business the senate: Elected Gordon Rice, junior in journalism, as parliamentarian.

Recommended to the Student Union board that the SU senate music committee assume jurisdiction of the playing of the chimes.

Elected a finance fact finding standing committee that would investigate requests for money of student organizations not already included in the ASUO budget.

Attendance: 25
Absent: 4 (V. P. Morris, Mal Scott, Bob Maier, Don Bonime.)
Tardy: 5 R. D. Horn, 10 minutes; Anne Ritchey, 30 minutes; Dorothy Kopp and Ann Blackwell, 40 minutes; Germaine La Marche, 55 minutes.)
Time: 1 hour, 20 minutes.

Canoe Fete Needs Technical Director

A student is needed as stage manager and technical director for the program committee of the Canoe Fete, according to Janet Wick and Jackie Densmore Jackson, committee co-chairmen.

Petitions should be turned in at the ASUO petition box on the third floor of the Student Union by Thursday, Feb. 17.
