CORVALLIS (AP)—Oregon State clinched at least a tie for the Northern Division Pacific Coast conference basketball championship Monday night by defeating Idaho 80-65. Wade "Swede" Halbrook, Oregon State's 7-foot-3 center, scored 31 points.

Halbrook established a Northern Division rebounding record of 32. The old high of 29 by Jim Loscutoff of Oregon was made Saturday night in a game against the same Vandals.

Bill Bauscher led Idaho's scoring with 17 points.

Loscutoff Nears Scoring Marks

Although dropping a little from his near 20-points-per-game average last weekend, Oregon's Jim Loscutoff continued to maintain a hot pace in conference scoring for Oregon with only four games left to play.

The 6'5" forward went over the 200 mark in both rebounds and points after racking up 46 and 36 in those departments against Idaho. This left him only 10 field goals and 74 points short of Oregon's all-time conference record held by Chet Noe as well as only 13 rebounds shy of the whole division record also held by Noe.

Center Max Anderson moved back into second spot in Duck scoring in the conference as the big junior poured in 28 points as well as 42 rebounds against Idaho for his best series of the year. The 42 swipes moved Anderson into second place in the conference in the rebound column with 10.8 per game.

Phil McHugh continues to lead the regulars in free throw accuracy with a .643 mark while Loscutoff has the best eye from the floor with a percentage of .354.

Tankers Set to Dive in Freestyle

RIVAL SWIMMERS set to dive in Saturday's Oregon-Washington State college ND swim meet. Howard Redinger of Oregon (arms raised) won the 60-yard freestyle (above), but the Cougars won the meet 45-30. The WSC swimmer is Bob Miller.

Three Houses Lead Advance To IM Basketball Playoffs

Three men's tennis groups advanced into the intramural A and B league basketball tournaments this week after playoffs in two leagues decided final entrants for the championships.

Phi Delta Theta won the A-II and B-II leagues outright after regular play had ended early last week with Sigma Alpha Epsilon taking A-III and B-III with undefeated records. Hale Kane became the third double winner Friday with a victory over the Straub Frosh for the B-VI title after having won in the A-VII group earlier.

Kappa Sigma was the victor in the only other league, ending in

NIT Picks Three

NEW YORK (AP)—Three more teams—Louisville, Manhattan and Niagara—came into the National Invitation Basketball tournament fold Monday, half filling the field for the Madison Square Garden event March 12-19.

Getting a large jump on the NCAA, its post-season rival, the NIT earlier grabbed three other topflight independent combines, Duquesne, Dayton and Cincinnati.

The NCAA, which must choose nine at large teams to compete with 15 conference champions, had made only one selection but it was a good one. The pick was Marquette, whose 18-game winning streak is the longest in the country.

SOUTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

Stanford	5	3	.625	560	561
USC	3	5	.375	550	555
California	1	7	.125	487	582

UCLA's relentless Bruins moved into undisputed first place in the Southern Division basketball race last weekend with two easy wins over Stanford which dropped the Indians two games off the pace. Scores were 85-63 Friday and 72-59 Saturday.

In other conference action, cellar-dwelling California won its first league game of the season Friday when the Bears nosed out third-place USC, 58-57, at Berkeley. The defending champion Trojans came back Saturday, however, to drub the Bears 80-62.

UCLA's two wins over Stanford broke a previous tie between the two clubs for first place and left the Bruins two games ahead of the pack with only four remaining. Their lone defeat came earlier at the hands of Stanford at Palo Alto but this pair gave the Bruins the series and were their 126th and 127th straight wins at their tiny Westwood gym.

Best individual performance over the weekend was turned in by Dick Welsh, USC guard, who pumped in 39 points in the Trojans' two games with California. This included a 26-point spree in Saturday's game and lifted Welsh into third place in conference scoring. Ron Tomsic of Stanford and Bob McKeen of California retained first and second spots with 34 and 29 points respectively in weekend action.
