

'Sit, Dream at Evening' Theme for Canoe Fete

"As I Sit and Dream at Evening" will be the general theme of the 1955 Canoe Fete, the Fete steering committee announced today.

The theme was chosen to emphasize the revival of an old Oregon tradition. Themes for individual floats will be chosen by the houses from a list of themes used by Junior Weekend and winning canoe fetes of past years.

Living organizations will have an opportunity to choose their theme from the list Wednesday. A total of 15 floats, including the queen's and comic floats will enter the Fete.

The list of possible float themes includes:

The Spirit of the Sea, taken from the 1921 Canoe Fete; Babes in Toyland, from 1937; The Lure of the East, 1923; Of Thee I Sing, 1942; Arabian Nights, 1941; Alice in Wonderland, 1939; La Fete Moderne, 1931.

Forest Fantasy from the 1920 Fete; Venetian Nights from 1932; Where Rolls the Oregon, 1934 Junior Weekend theme; La Fete Fantastique, 1933; and Float of Songs, 1935; One float will depict the 1955 fete.

Sally Jo Greig and Darrel Brittan, float chairmen, will send the list around to the houses, who will list their preferences in order.

Symphonic Poem Given at Concert

The fourth in a series of five concerts will be presented tonight in the Eugene high school auditorium, by the Eugene-Springfield Symphony.

Featured on the program is the symphonic poem, "Over the Plains" by George Antheil. Antheil, currently working on music for the movie version of "Not As a Stranger" will lecture on campus March 3 as part of the Festival of Arts program.

Other selections of the program will be Charles Ives' Third Symphony and the Second Indian Suite by Edward MacDowell.

Admission to the concert is $1. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Author from India Assembly Speaker

Surindar Suri, foreign correspondent, lecturer, and author from India, will deliver a University assembly address Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Suri will also be on campus in conjunction with the Oregon International Relations league conference here this weekend. The Indian will address several of the conference sessions.

A reporter for several Indian periodicals, Suri is also a research consultant for East Asiatic studies at the University of California. He was at one time editor of the magazine, "New Life," in Lucknow, India. His journalistic experience has given Suri great contact with many of the underlying currents in India's social and political life today.

The correspondent is a graduate of the University of Punjab in India and received his M.A. from the University of Lucknow. He holds a Ph.D. from Northwestern university.

Browsing Room Holds Open House

An open house will be held Thursday from 3-5 p.m. in the browsing room in the Student Union. Special displays will be on exhibition.

Purpose of the open house is to better acquaint students with the facilities of the room, according to Miss Bernice Rise, librarian.

The browsing room, located on the second floor of the SU, contains book collections and contemporary literature that is available to students. Wednesday evening lectures and Friday coffee hours are held there also.

Junior Weekend Petitions Called

Petitions for chairman of Junior Weekend committees are due at 5 p.m. Tuesday in Student Union 303, according to Bud Hinkson, junior class president.

Special Junior Weekend forms are to be used, and may be obtained in SU 303. Regular ASUO petitions will not be accepted.

Members of all classes are eligible to petition for the posts, Hinkson reports, but preference will be given to juniors. The petitions are to be turned in to a special box in the Co-op or to Junior Weekend headquarters.

Chairmanships open include publicity, terrace dance, all-campus cleanup, all-campus luncheon, promotion and public relations, junior prom, queen contest and coronation and all-campus sing.

Each petitioner is to submit a theme for the weekend on the back of the petition.

UO Men Named To Academies

Carl Groth, Jr., Richard Ramsey and Robert Wadman, all University students, received appointments to the three service schools from Senator Wayne Morse on the basis of preliminary qualifying examinations.

Groth, a sophomore in liberal arts, received a second alternate appointment to West Point Military Academy. He is a member of the University rifle team and is from Eugene.

Richard Ramsey, also a Eugene student, is a freshman in liberal arts. He received a principal appointment to the naval academy at Annapolis, Md.

A principal appointment to the Air Force Academy was received by Robert Wadman, sophomore in liberal arts.

The three will all take entrance examinations to the respective academies, which will determine whether or not they enter the schools.

Co-ed Groups List Candidates

Slates have been announced for the election Thursday of officers for the three campus women's organizations, the Associated Women Students, YWCA, and the Women's Recreation Association.

Women-voters will be able to meet all candidates at a meeting preceding the afternoon elections at 12:15 p.m. in Gerlinger hall.

Voting will continue until 6 p.m.

AWS candidates are president, Janet Gustafson and Sally Ryan; secretary, Helen Johnson and Marcia Mauney; treasurer, Mary Gerlinger and Margaret Tyler; sergeant-at-arms, Gloria Begenich and Jean McPherson, and reporter, Joan Kraus and Ann Petterson.

The WRA slate consists of Prudy Ducich and Roberta Mulkey, president; Molly Carr and Olivia Tharaldson, secretary; Pat Cushmie and Pam Rabens, treasurer; Louise Robinson and Eleanor Whitsett, custodian; Margaret Holman and Lois Olson, sergeant-at-arms.

Candidates for the YWCA offices are Germaine LaMarche and Jean Sandine, president; Barbara Bailey and Anne Hill, second vice-president; Kathy Holloway and Barbara Williams, secretary; Joanne Jolley and Karen Kraft, treasurer; Nan Borquist and Georgia Hemmilla, chairman of sophomore cabinet, and Sue Jewett and Lee Blaesing, secretary of sophomore cabinet.

The defeated presidential candidate will automatically become first vice-president.

BA School Hosts Real Estate Meet

Real Estate Appraisal I session of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers opened in the school of business administration this morning with the enrollment of participants.

The Institute's courses are designed to give the broker, developer, builder, mortgage man, or appraiser a thorough knowledge of the basic principles of appraisals as a constant training in the interpretation of trends that create and destroy real estate value.

There will be a minimum of 40 hours of lectures in this course, with basic theory and principles explained in detail.

Illustrations will be used to show how practical application of these theories and principles is made. The rest of the time will be spent on field trips, demonstrations, appraisals, etc.

The faculty for the two-week training course consists of David Montanna, M.A.I., of Cape Vincent, New York, and William Abelmann, M.A.I., of Glendale, Calif.

Montanna is a nationally known lecturer and teacher with wide experience throughout the United States in appraisals covering all types of property. A realtor-appraiser, Abelmann specializes in right-of-way, special purpose properties, and has had extensive experience in condemnation and mortgage loan appraising.

Macy to Lecture At Oxford Meet

C. Ward Macy, head of the department of economics, has accepted an invitation to participate as lecturer in the 1955 Fulbright Conference on American Studies to be held at Oxford university this summer.

The conference, in Oxford, England, is sponsored and directed by the United States Educational Commission in the United Kingdom. This year's will be the fourth annual conference of its type, with sessions from July 11 to Aug. 14.

"The United States and the Atlantic Community" is the main theme of the conference. Ten or more American specialists in various fields will lecture and lead discussions.

Macy will lecture on contemporary American economic policy.

ARMISTICE VIOLATION

UN Officer Formally Charges Reds

KOREA (AP) — The United Nations Command in Korea has formally charged the Reds with violating the Korean armistice by bringing MIG jet fighters into North Korea.

Maj. Gen. Leslie D. Carter, member of the Korean Armistice Commission, made the charge at a special meeting called by the U.N. Command.

Carter declared Red air activities in North Korea since the armistice "have mounted from zero in increasing magnitude to a high tempo."

Carter immediately demanded that three neutral nations mobile inspection teams — made up of Swiss, Swedes and Communist Czechs and Poles — go to North Korea to look for evidence of the MIGs and their arms and ammunition.

MIG Incident Cited

Carter said the allied charge grew out of the February 5 incident in which 8 Communist MIGs attacked an American RB45 jet reconnaissance bomber and 12 escorting Sabrejets over the "international waters" of the Yellow Sea, west of North Korea.

Two of the MIGs were shot down and the rest fled. No American planes were damaged.

Carter Monday called the attack "unprovoked and unwarranted." Carter told the Communists they had acknowledged ownership of the MIGs in a commission meeting February 9 in which the Reds protested the air incident, claiming an allied violation of North Korean territory.

Charges Formal

At that time Carter accused the Reds of illegally having MIGs in North Korea, but Monday's charge was specific and formal.

There were no MIGs in North Korea when the armistice was signed July 27, 1953, Carter said.

He told the Reds the base of the attacking MIGs "is established by positive radar tracks which followed your attacking aircraft from their takeoff to their return."

Denied Charge

Carter denied the Communist charge that the allied plane intruded over North Korean territory and that allied planes attacked first as the Reds had charged.

He said the RB45 "at no time" came within the territorial limits of North Korea. He said "this was confirmed by the navigating log and the accurate tracking of our radar."

Carter charged "The fact of the attack proves from that time of the armistice signing, your air operations from North Korea have mounted from zero in increasing magnitude to high tempo."

"By your own statements you have condemned yourselves before the world to be a violator of your own solemn commitments," he said.

'Comic Books' Forum Topic

"Comic Books: Menace, or Harmless Entertainment" will be the topic of an Oregon radio forum tonight at 8:30. The forum will be broadcast over station KOAC in Corvallis.

Charles Duncann, professor of journalism, will moderate the forum. Other forum members are Leona Tyler, associate professor of psychology; Herbert Bisno, associate professor of sociology, and Donald Tope, director of the Kellogg Project in the school of education.