

Frosh Hoopers Record Victory, Lose Saturday

Oregon's Ducklings put on a show of real basketball power as they swamped Moore's Drive-in at Vancouver's Shumway Junior high gym, 96-69, Friday night. But the Frosh had to be content with a split on their Washington invasion, for the experienced Fernandez Loggers came from behind to clout the Ducklings, 81-72, at Longview Saturday.

Frosh 96, Moore's 69

Dave Wanaka hit the hoop for 11 field goals to pace the Frosh, and three other Ducklings hit in double figures.

The AAU five, moved in as a replacement for the previously scheduled Clark JC Penguins, kept its close throughout the first half, mostly on the efforts of Guard Earl Enos. But Wanaka was unstoppable on jump shots and layins, and the intermission score favored the Frosh, 47-39.

Oregon's comeback Ducks kept their precious second-place position in the Northern Division last weekend after splitting a series with Washington at Seattle, losing the first game, 80-60, and winning the second, 60-59.

The split left the Webfoot hoopers with a two-game bulge over the Huskies in the battle for second place in the fast-closing conference chase. Oregon State, meanwhile, was dropping its first conference game in 14 starts Saturday night to WSC at Pullman with a last-second basket by the Cougars' Ron Bennink pulling out the 68-66 win. OSC won Friday, 73-61.

The weekend's action set the stage for the final week of Northern Division competition before the coast playoffs between UCLA and OSC at Corvallis. Oregon and Idaho square off Tuesday in the season's last game between those old rivals while Oregon plays Oregon State and Washington meets Idaho Friday and Saturday to wind up 1955 conference action.

Oregon's split with Washington gave the clubs two wins apiece in their season's series with Oregon not having lost a series yet this year. Jim Loscutoff paced the Ducks with 37 points for the two-night stand with Howard Page and Jerry Ross each having a good weekend with 26 points each.

Huskies 80, Ducks 60

Washington put on a terrific second-half rally while Oregon's shooting eye grew dim in the final period to enable the Huskies to pull away for the 20-point victory.

Both teams played on fairly even terms through the first half with the Ducks taking an early lead but losing it again midway through the period. The score was tied 15-15 when Dean Parsons put the winners ahead with a short jump shot. Oregon couldn't catch up and Washington led 36-33 at the half.

Parsons scored 17 points in that first half but other Huskies took up the scoring load in the disastrous last half as Oregon dropped behind steadily. Oregon went ahead on two free throws by Max Anderson with 16:30 remaining but then the roof caved in.

Doyle Perkins, Karl Voegtlin and Parsons combined to score 19 points in five minutes to run up an unbeatable lead. Oregon put on a short rally but they didn't have the horses and Washington won going away.

For the game Oregon shot a mediocre 27 per cent from the field while Washington made 36 per cent of its shots. A big factor in the win was in rebounding where the Ducks had one of their poorest nights of the year, getting only 37 swipes to 56 for the Huskies.

Individually, Loscutoff broke the Northern Division rebound record for a season, surpassing the mark with his 18 swipes. Parsons got 20 rebounds and led Husky scoring with 25 points. Four other Washington players also hit double figures.

Ducks 60, Huskies 59

It was a typically wild finish in the Saturday game between Oregon and their Seattle rivals as the Ducks took the lead midway in the first half and held on right down to the final horn.

Washington started off fast with an early 7-2 margin but then the Ducks found their shooting eyes and Loscutoff and Howard Page led the

Oregon Tankers Drop Decision To OSC, 50-31

Oregon's swimming team dropped its second decision in a row to Oregon State Saturday afternoon as the young but well-balanced Beavers took a 50-31 decision in men's pool.

The Beaver aquamen won all but two events in which Howard Hedinger, Oregon's star free-styler, took his 60-yard sprint specialty and the relay team topped OSC's four-man group in the 400-yard match.

Nearly every event was decided in the last few strokes with OSC's Roy Oness coming from behind to nip Hedinger in the 100-yard free style and Bob Hays losing his lead in the 200-yard breast stroke on the last lap to Beaver Bob Coyner.

The meet's only double winner was OSC's Dick Slawson who captured two narrow victories over Webfoot Harry Fuller in both the 220-yard and 400-yard free style events. Oregon's winning relay team took the event in the time of 3:56 with Jerry Froebe, Yogi Matsushima, Phil Lewis and Hedinger each contributing to the victory.

Oregon now has a record of one win and three losses in Northern Division swimming meets. Next action for the Webfoots is Saturday at Seattle when they meet Washington's strong tankmen in a dual meet.

Highlight of the varsity swimming season will come March 4 and 5 when the Northern Division meet is scheduled for the Oregon pool. For the first time in several seasons Washington will have close competition with both Washington State and OSC having well-balanced teams and Idaho and Oregon having several outstanding individuals.

Duck Bowlers Capture Meet

Oregon's varsity bowling team fired the fourth highest Class C team score in the history of the Oregon men's bowling tourney Friday night to run up a big margin over the previous leader at Coos Bay.

The Webfoots, coached by Louis Bellissimo, rolled a 2706 team score on games of 948-955-803. Individual scores included Bob Boyle, 615; Scott Page, 600; Blake Boggess, 532; Bryce Reimer, 502, and Dan Garcia, 457.
