

UO Pi Kap Chapter to Close

+ + + + + + + + + See Columns 4, 5

Jane Bergstrom New AWS President

Sally Ryan Gets Vice-President

Jane Bergstrom, junior in art, was elected Associated Women Students president Tuesday in a run-off election between the three candidates.

Sally Ryan, junior in journalism, will be vice-president. Janet Gustafson, junior in speech correction, was the other candidate.

A total of 215 votes were cast in the election, with 108 necessary for a majority. In the regular election Thursday, 370 votes were cast.

JANE BERGSTROM Wins in Run-Off Election

The preferential system of voting and counting was used, with voters indicating their preference in order. Five ballots, cast for Miss Gustafson, were invalid following redistribution. Miss Bergstrom won by two votes, after redistribution.

Miss Bergstrom is secretary of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, and secretary of the University Co-op board.

Recently named co-chairman of the Junior Weekend all-campus sing, she is also a member of the Student Union personnel board.

Miss Ryan is associate editor of the Emerald, a member of the Student Union board and a Carson hall counsellor.

She has served on the AWS cabinet this year as intercollegiate representative, and is also relations chairman of Panhellenic. She is publicity chairman for Junior Weekend.

Other newly-elected officers of AWS include Helen Ruth Johnson, secretary; Mary Gerlinger, treasurer; Jean McPherson, sergeant-at-arms, and Ann Pettersen, reporter.

Freshman's Entry Picked for Theme

"Up the Lazy Millrace" has been selected as theme for Junior Weekend, according to Junior Class President Bud Hinkson.

Jerry Hirsh, freshman in speech, submitted the winning entry in the theme suggestion contest. He will receive a ticket for two to the Junior prom.

The winning entry will form the theme of all the weekend events, including the prom, all-campus luncheon and all-campus sing.

Vol. LVI. University of Oregon, Eugene, Wed. Mar. 2, 1955 No. 93

Dull Thinks Formosa Attack Possible in June

By Pete Taussig
Emerald Reporter

Mao-Tse-tung's expressed belief that "danger to the revolution is greatest when the fighting ceases" might be one of the reasons, according to Paul S. Dull, associate professor of history and political science, why the communists might attack Formosa in June.

Dull made this statement during the international relations club's panel discussion of "Should the United States recognize Red China" Tuesday night.

After the meeting Dull added that he believes there is a very good chance the Chinese Reds will move against Formosa in June.

Commies Building Forces

The communists are building up their forces now, Dull pointed out.

"They might attack," he predicted, "and there would be a terrific air battle over the straits. Pressure would build up within the United States to use the A-bomb and we won't go fishing this summer."

"We no longer dare to fight because of the terrible consequences of modern warfare yet we dare not fail to oppose communist aggression."

"Containment Thru Strength" Dull, taking the position that the US should not recognize the communist Chinese government, advocated a short-range policy of containment through strength while long-range plans for containment on the ideological front are developed.

"The first policy without the (Continued on page three)

Stephen Pepper Speaks Tonight

Stephen C. Pepper, chairman of the department of philosophy at the University of California, will present tonight's browsing room lecture at 7:30 p.m. in the browsing room of the Student Union.

The topic of the lecture will be "The American Heritage in Aesthetics." This is the last in the series of lectures given in conjunction with the Festival of Arts, entitled "Our American Heritage." This also will be the last Wednesday night browsing room lecture of the term.

Pepper has been with the University of California since 1919, and is the author of six books. His latest book, entitled "A Digest of Purposive Values," was written in 1947.

Discussion leader for the lecture will be Bertram Jessup, professor of philosophy.

VAGNER, GOLDMAN CONDUCT

UO Bands Give Concert Tonight

The University school of music and the Student Union, will present the University concert band and varsity band in a concert tonight at 8:15 in the ballroom.

The first part of the program will be conducted by Robert Vagner, regular conductor of the University concert band, and the latter part by Edwin Franko Goldman, dean of bandmasters in the United States and for many years conductor of the famous Goldman Band of New York city.

Goldman's most widely recognized composition, "On the Mall," is ranked second in popularity only to "Stars and Stripes." This composition, in addition to several others which he has written, will be played in the concert.

Vagner will begin the program by leading the concert band in Gordon Jacob's "Original Suite for Band," in 3 parts, March, Intermezzo, and Finale. Second on the program will be "Toccata and Fugue in D minor," by Bach, followed by "Adagio and Tarentella," by Ernesto Cavallini. The latter will feature a solo by six clarinetists. Vagner will close his part of the program with "Pageant," by Vincent Persechetti.

Following a brief intermission, Goldman will direct for the remainder of the program. He will lead the combined concert and varsity bands in the "Grand March—International Accord," which is his own composition.

The next selection will be "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach, followed by "Eccossaie," by Beethoven. The third selection will be "Slow March," from "Scipio," by Handel. "Funeral March," by Mendelssohn and "Italian Polka," by Rochmaninoff, will follow immediately.

Goldman will conclude the program with four of his own compositions. They will be "March, Illinois," "March for Brass," "Bluejackets on Parade," and "March, Michigan."

The concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

UNIVERSITY CONCERT Band will appear in concert tonight at 8:15 in the Student Union ballroom. The Band will be directed by Robert Vagner, regular conductor, and Edwin Franko Goldman, dean of bandmasters in the United States.