

Ore. Press Photographers To Choose Beauty Queen

The Oregon Press Photographer association has announced its 1955 Miss Oregon Press Photographer contest. The winner will be honored at the second annual Press Photographers' ball in Portland April 16.

Any girl in Oregon between the ages of 18 and 25 who is unmarried is eligible to enter the contest. Two photographs must accompany each entry, one 8x10 head shot and one 8x10 full length photo of the entrant in a bathing suit. Deadline for entries is March 28.

Ten finalists will be chosen from the photos entered by contestants. They will be guests of the OPPA at the Multnomah hotel in Portland the weekend of April 16 during which time the winner will be selected.

Miss OPPA will be sent to Colorado Springs, Colo., during the organization's national convention in June.

She will compete with press photographer queens from 30 other associations throughout the United States, Hawaii and Alaska for the National Press Photographer Queen title.

Entry blanks and details of the contest can be obtained at the Emerald office.

Newspictures Are Shown in Library

The Eleventh Annual Newspictures exhibit is now on display in the newspaper reading room of the library.

Sponsored by the University of Missouri journalism school, the display consists of 70 pictures which have appeared in newspapers and magazines.

The pictures will be exhibited until Friday.

Matusow Is Accused Of Rifling Dormitories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating senators Wednesday produced an affidavit stating there is "reliable information" that turnabout witness Harvey Matusow rifled a students' dormitory at Antioch college while investigating Communism there.

The sworn statement came from John J. Edmiston, a reporter for the Middletown (Ohio) Journal and his wife, Martha, both former undercover workers for the FBI.

After it was placed in evidence at a hearing being conducted by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, Matusow swore he had never been accused of the offense. Antioch is located at Yellow Springs, Ohio.

"What else do you expect from professional witnesses?" Matusow exclaimed.

At the request of his attorney, Chairman Eastland (Dem-Miss.) ordered that subpoenas be issued for the Edmiston to appear before the subcommittee next Monday. Their affidavit was dated Feb. 14 at Middletown.

It stated that "on reliable information and belief, Matusow was observed rifling students' wardrobes and effects in a dormitory at Antioch college, but escaped the campus without being detained, and that this presumably occurred while he was employed by the Ohio Un-American Activities commission."

Matusow and the Edmiston were formerly close friends, according to other evidence produced.

Wednesday's stormy hearing also brought these other developments:

1. Matusow testified that his past testimony linking 245 persons to the Communist party was false in "some aspect" as to each individual.

2. Eastland announced that each of the 245 will be given an opportunity to come forward and defend himself. He said the subcommittee considered this should be done in justice to the individuals and to test whether Matusow was telling the truth when he tagged them with the Red label or was telling the truth now.

3. Matusow insisted he received about $600 for campaigning in 1952 for the re-election of former Sen. Cain (Rep-Wash.) although informed that a receipt showed payment of only $150.

At the end of the session, Matusow was excused as a witness temporarily, but told to be ready to come back when he was wanted.

Matusow testified that he had received about $600, including expenses, for campaigning for former Sen. Cain, and A. J. Sourwine, committee counsel, asked him, "Don't you know it was only $150?"

"I know it was more than that," Matusow replied.

Sourwine asked him if he did not know that a receipt showed a payment of only $150. Matusow retorted that if that were the case, the receipt must be "fraudulent."

Asked by Sourwine if the payment were made by Fred Hansen, Matusow said he could not recall the man's name. He said, "however, the man was connected with Cain's campaign and described him as a lawyer or in the real estate business in Tacoma."

Gas Stations Still Warring

Several Eugene stations are now selling gasoline at 25.3 cents per gallon, thus continuing and adding to the current local price war.

Some stations continue to ask 27.3 cents for regular-grade gasoline, with others advertising it for 26.3 and 26.7 cents.

The "war" has had little effect on volume of business, several station operators told the Register-Guard. Fewer patrons are stocking up by bringing gas drums and storage drums than during such price cuts in the past.

Aesthetics Society Plans Conference

A conference of the Northwest Division of the American Society for Aesthetics will be held Friday and Saturday in the Student Union.

The program will consist of several papers on a variety of topics presented by members of the University faculty as well as delegates from the Northwestern states and California.

Among those attending the conference are: Helmut Hungerland, national president of the society; Thomas C. Colt, Jr., director of the Portland Art Museum; Rex Arragon of Reed college, and Stephen C. Pepper of the University of California.

The general chairman of the conference is B. E. Jessup, professor of philosophy. All interested students are invited to attend the meetings beginning at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday.

Job Opportunities

The Bell Telephone company laboratory and the Sandia corporation representatives will interview prospective June graduates in physics and chemistry on Thursday.

General Electric Tuesday will interview students in physics and chemistry who will receive bachelor or master degrees in June.

Appointments for interviews can be made in Science 121.

Foreign Service Careers Told

Robert L. Thompson and Thomas T. Turner, representatives of the United States Department of State, will be on campus Friday to present the new career opportunities in the foreign service of the United States.

Thompson and Turner will meet with faculty members at noon Friday in the Student Union. They will meet with interested students from 2 to 4 p.m. in SU 315.

Thompson, chief of the Division of Publications, was appointed to the Department of State in 1946. During the war, he served with the Office of War Information and Air Force Intelligence.

Turner, a former University of Oregon student, received his appointment as a foreign service officer in 1946. He has held posts in Tunis and Zurich, Switzerland.

This campus visit is part of the foreign service new recruiting program. The service wants to take approximately 300 new foreign service officers into the career corps this year. Opportunity is offered for advancement, to individuals with specialized backgrounds.

American citizens from 20 to 31 years old are eligible. Starting salaries, depending on age and experience, are between $4,000 and $5,000 per year. There are 267 embassies, legations and consulates in 77 countries in which foreign service officers may hold positions.

Appointments are made on a competitive basis. Written examinations will be held in June in a large number of cities throughout the United States including Portland, Spokane, Seattle, Boise, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento. The examination includes tests of English expression, general ability, general background and modern language. The oral exams will be given later.

Eisenhower Signs Congress Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower signed the bill for a raise in Congress pay Wednesday and said he was happy that Congress had passed it.

In his comment at a news conference the President also dropped in a plug for four-year terms for members of the House. Their terms now run only two years; senators are elected for six years.

The new law raises the pay of members of the House and Senate from $15,000 a year to $22,500, a jump of $7,500 or 50 per cent.

It also raises the pay of approximately 400 judges by $7,500 to $10,000. Increases for United States attorneys and their assistants also are included in the bill.

Federal District judges who have been getting $15,000 a year will now get $22,500; higher court judges who have been getting $17,500 will now get $25,500. Associate justices of the Supreme Court get a raise of $10,000 to $35,000 and the chief justice will get $35,500 instead of $25,500.

All of the pay raises are effective as of Tuesday.

Eisenhower said with a grin that Congress members should be paid well, but not to forget that the government would get half of it back in income taxes.

Actually, the amount of tax will vary according to whether members have outside income and if so, how much. In the case of a very wealthy lawmaker, the tax rate runs as high as 90 per cent.

At the present salary basis, the member with no outside income would have a tax of $2,148. With the raise, his tax would be $4,362. Thus his tax would be increased by $2,214, or almost 30 per cent of the $7,500 raise.

Eisenhower said members of Congress have unusual expenses, including the need for maintaining two homes and the need of going back to their districts from time to time. He said the pay boost fitted into the idea of encouraging good men of modest means to serve their country.
