

ITALY, SPAIN, OR IRAN

Fifteen Fellowships Offered To Graduates by Institution

A total of 15 fellowships for graduate students who wish to study in Italy, Iran, or Spain this summer are now available through the Institute of International Education.

Six fellowships are offered by the Italian government. Men and women candidates may apply in any field. Free tuition will be given at an Italian school or university for an entire academic year. Each grant also includes travel expenses inside Italy, and payment for private lessons for music students. Trans-Atlantic travel and incidental expenses are not included.

The University of Padua in Italy offers two tuition and maintenance scholarships to men and women under 35. Preference is given to men.

The College of Ghislieri in Pavia offers one tuition and maintenance fellowship to a male graduate student.

Must Have Master's

Candidates for the Italian government awards must have a master's degree, and present in detailed outline form a project for advanced study or research. Candidates who are accepted must learn some Italian before taking up their fellowships.

Candidates for the College of Ghislieri and University of Padua awards must have a bachelor's degree at the time the fellowship is taken up and a good knowledge of Italian.

Closing date for the Italian competitions is Friday.

The University of Teheran, Iran, is offering American students two fellowships for graduate study or research during 1955-56. The awards cover maintenance, tuition, and round-trip transportation.

Studies in Science

Grants are for study or research in the sciences or humanities. Male candidates under 35 will be given preference. Dependents may not accompany grantees.

Other eligibility requirements are a bachelor's degree and a working knowledge of the Persian language. Closing date for applications is Friday.

Five fellowships for study in Spain are available to American graduate students for 1955-56. The awards, given by a private donor, are administered by the Institute.

Fellowships provide tuition, travel and incidentals. Candidates must be under 30, hold a B.A. and have a good knowledge of Spanish.

Closing date for the Spanish fellowships is May 1. Applications for all fellowships may be obtained from the Institute, 1 East 67th St., New York City.

Bishop Gives Assembly Talk

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, one of the nation's best known churchmen, will speak at a University assembly in the Student Union ballroom Tuesday, April 12, at 1 p.m.

Oxnam, who heads the Methodist church in the Washington area, has served in many important posts both in the government and in his church. He is a past president of the World Council of Churches, and was formerly bishop of the New York area.

During World War II, he was a member of the Civilian Advisory Committee to the Secretary of the navy, and a member of the National War Labor board.
