

Assembly Shown In SU Tuesday

More than 20 University students will participate in the annual ASUO exchange assembly which will have its first showing Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Publicity Chairman Dick Coleman said Sunday that this year's show will be presented at least 10 different times at three Oregon colleges and several high schools in the state in the next month. In addition to its performance on campus the troop will also appear at Oregon State and Willamette university.

The assembly, which will be a type of variety show, will make its first off-campus appearance at Bend high school Thursday afternoon. Other dates have only been tentatively set at present.

Chambers Directs

Bob Chambers is director of the show which will be built around the portrayal of a television program. The assembly will last about 30 or 35 minutes.

Coleman said that, as in the past, the primary function of the University-sponsored show will be to "create good will between Oregon and other colleges and to introduce high school students to the University."

Planning for this year's assembly started late last term and many students have been working on their individual acts ever since that time. Group practices got underway last week. The first complete rehearsal of the show was held Sunday night and a dress rehearsal has been scheduled for tonight.

Make Arrangements

Handling arrangements for the show have been Jackie Pond, business manager; Ray Johnson, business manager; Jim Schull, set design; Patti McCann and JoAnne Richmond, costumes, and Coleman, publicity.

Dick Plick will act as master of ceremonies for the all-student assembly. Bill Moore will handle commercials for the mimicked TV program.

Two of the top attractions of the show will be the appearances of "The Combo," directed by Ray Johnson, and the "The Club Four," Campbell club's barbershop quartet champions.

Another important member of the cast is Colleen Moore, who will be the show's card girl.

Putting on individual acts in the assembly will be Don Holt, Helen Johnson, Tom Waldrop and Rita Yuzon.

Coleman announced that the show will be free to students at all of the group's appearances.

Gardner Named Wilson Fellow

Joe Gardner, senior in journalism, has received a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for the academic year 1955-56 to the graduate school of the University of Wisconsin.

Gardner will receive $1250 in cash and remission of non-resident fees. He will be doing graduate work in history with American foreign relations as his special field.

The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship program is designed to recruit for the teaching profession at the college or university level young men and women who possess the highest qualities of intellect, character and personality.

The Fellowship is sponsored by the 37 universities comprising the United States of American Universities and by grants from the Carnegie corporation and the General Education board.

Gardner is a member of Friars and served as editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald the first half of this year. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary.

Series of Symposium Speeches Planned For Presentation Before Schools, Groups

Chief spring term project for the University forensic squad is a series of symposium speeches to be given before Oregon high schools and civic organizations.

The symposium squad composed of ten members is the second part of the University forensic program. Debating in competition is the first part of the program and has already taken place.

The symposium program is an annual event of the forensic team. Last year the squad made about 35 different trips around the state, speaking before a total of 12,000 people. Three members of the squad and a moderator usually go on each tour, speaking before several groups in one trip.

Each member of the symposium studies and prepares a set speech on each of the three symposium topics. Speeches are adapted to each individual audience and are concluded with a period of questions from the audience.

Symposium Topics

This year's symposium topics are as follows: "Should the United States Recognize the Communist Government of China?" "What Effect Do the Mass Media of Communications have on Public Opinion?" and "Should Albert Einstein Become a Plumber? (Is Intellectual Freedom Being Threatened in the United States Today?)"

The first symposium, tour around the state took place during spring vacation, when three squad members, Loretta Mason, Liz Collins and Dick Bronaugh, and Jim Wood, assistant director of forensics, spoke before six groups in eastern Oregon. Wood was moderator for the group which spoke before a total of about 400 people altogether.

The group addressed the Harney county Chamber of Commerce at Burns, the Umatilla PTA, the Hermiston Rotary club, the Hermiston Business and Professional Women's club, and audiences at Monument and Umatilla high schools.

'Easter Egg' Plans Released

House pairings for Operation Easter Egg were released Sunday evening by general co-chairmen Martin Brandenfels and Bud Hinkson. The Easter egg hunt for Eugene children will be held Saturday afternoon.

The children, first, second and third graders in the Eugene elementary schools, will arrive at the living organizations at 1:30 p.m. The paired organizations will serve ice cream and cookies to the youngsters. Each living organization will be asked to contribute 75 cents to offset the cost of the ice cream.

At 2 p.m. the hunt will take place between Kincaid and University streets on both sides of 13th. The streets will be blocked off during the afternoon.

Prizes will be awarded for special eggs at 3 p.m. At 3:45 p.m., members of the paired living organizations will escort the children to McArthur court for a variety show. Parents will pick up their children at Mac court.

"Houses will be responsible for the children all afternoon. They will remain in the same groups until their parents arrive," according to Brandenfels.

Operation Easter Egg is being sponsored jointly by the junior class and the Eugene Active club. The Active club donated the eggs to be used in the hunt.

Pairings for the afternoon include:

Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Chi Omega; Delta Tau Delta at Alpha Delta Pi; Hale Kane and Lambda Chi Alpha at Alpha Gamma Delta; Kappa Sigma at Alpha Omicron Pi; Sigma Phi Epsilon at Alpha Phi; Phi Kappa Sigma, Rebec house and Philadelphia house at Alpha Xi Delta, and Sigma Nu at Ann Judson house.

Cherney, Hunter and French halls at Carson 2 and 3; Nestor, Sederstrom and Sherry Ross halls at Carson 4 and 5; Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Chi Omega; Beta Theta Pi at Delta Delta Gamma; Phi Sigma Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi at Delta Zeta; Phi Gamma Delta at Gamma Phi Beta; Phi Kappa Psi at Hendricks hall; Highland house, Orides and Yeomen at Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Alpha and Delta Upsilon at Kappa Alpha Theta.

Alpha, Omega and Gamma halls and Barrister Inn at Kappa Kappa Gamma; Phi Delta Theta at Pi Beta Phi; Chi Psi at Sigma Kappa; Theta Chi at Susan Campbell hall; Campbell club at University house, and Sigma Alpha Mu at Zeta Tau Alpha.

Men's living organizations may arrange Easter egg-coloringdesserts with the women's living groups, according to Bud Hinkson, general co-chairman of Operation Easter Egg. The additional desserts won't count on the social calendar.

Dick Lewis Named Finalist in Contest

Dick Lewis, finalist in journalism, is one of 25 finalists in the "Most Outstanding Journalism Student in the United States" contest, sponsored by the Foster Parents Plan for war children.

The winner of the contest will be selected in two or three weeks by a panel of magazine editors, wire service heads and newsmen.

The winner will travel to France, West Germany, Greece and Italy in June to see the foster parents plan in action, and to write a series of papers for his hometown paper.

Lewis was the winner of a local contest sponsored by the Eugene Register-Guard. He wrote his story for the Register-Guard on heart surgery in Eugene, one of the latest advances in medical science.

Associate editor of the Emerald, Lewis is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism honorary, and Sigma Chi.

Comedienne To Dance Here

Iva Kitchell, world-famous dance comedienne, will appear in a Eugene Civic Music association program at McArthur court Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Called the great American spoof, Miss Kitchell is known as a brilliant dancer and a deft caricaturist of serious dance.

Miss Kitchell began her career as a serious dancer with the Chicago Opera Ballet and later toured with a Russian ballet company. Admitting that serious modern dance is sometimes ridiculous, she switched to dance satire. Since then, she has given more than 600 performances in the United States, Canada, and South America.

UO Duck Preview Housing Lists Due by Next Monday

Men's housing preference list for Duck Preview are due at 2 p.m. next Monday in the student affairs office of Brad Blaine, men's counselor, according to Don Peck, chairman of the men's housing for the weekend.

All houses have been informed of the requirements for these lists. Any list not turned in on time in the correct manner will not be accepted, Peck said. They must be submitted in triplicate and in alphabetical order and, in the case of fraternities, legacies should be listed first.

Hometown to Be Listed

The hometown of each visitor must be mentioned following his name. Letters from the high school seniors confirming that they will stay at that house must accompany each list and also be in alphabetical order.

"Let's Go Oregon" is the theme for the 1955 Duck Preview.

Registration for the visiting high school seniors will begin in the Student Union lobby April 22 and will continue until noon of the following day. "What to Take" sessions will be held Friday night to assist the next year's freshmen in planning their course schedule. The All-Campus Vodvil will follow these meetings at 9 p.m. in McArthur court.

Program Includes Tours

Saturday morning's program consists of the orientation assembly, adviser meetings and tours of the campus. For afternoon entertainment visitors may attend the Amphibian aquacade in the men's pool at 2 p.m. or various athletic events.

Exchange dinners precede the Duck Preview dance which will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the SU ballroom.

Church and dinners at living organizations on Sunday will conclude the weekend's activities.
