

Theme Decided For Vodvil Show

The World University Service Vodvil which will be presented April 22 as a part of the annual Duck Preview, will follow the theme "Hands Across the Sea." Co-chairmen Helen Ruth Johnson and Chuck Wingard have announced.

Invitations to the show are being sent to high school students with their Duck Preview invitations. Eugene townspeople are being urged to attend this affair which will be held in McArthur court at 9 p.m.

Rules Listed

Rules to be followed by the living organizations and participating groups have been sent to the living organizations. They are as follows:

1. No previous campus talent may be used as an act itself.
 2. Four to thirteen people must participate in the act.
 3. The acts may range from four to ten minutes but must not exceed ten minutes.
 4. A limit of $10 may be spent on each act.
 5. Only Eugene freshmen may participate in an act.
 6. No racial discrimination is allowed in acts.
 7. The humor should be directed to high school seniors.
- Any campus or living organization may enter the Vodvil.

Dull to Speak On Far East

"The Problem of Asia" will be the topic for the browsing room lecture to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the browsing room of the Student Union.

The lecturer will be Paul S. Dull, associate professor of political science and history. The discussion leader will be J. V. Berreman, professor of sociology. This the first of eight browsing room lectures to be held spring term.

Queen Candidate Names Due Friday

Deadline for all living organizations to submit candidates' names for Junior Weekend queen is Friday at 5 p.m., according to Barbara Bailey and Anne Ritchey, co-chairmen.

Only junior women may be nominated by groups, and both men's and women's houses may sponsor candidates. Interviews will be held next week, with campus voting to follow the week after.

Names of candidates should be given to either Miss Bailey at Alpha Phi, or Miss Ritchey, at Alpha Omicron Pi. Names may also be reported by phone.

'The Messiah' To Be Given

The University Singers and the Choral Union, directed by Max D. Risinger, and the University Orchestra, led by Dr. E. A. Cykler, will perform the Easter portion of "The Messiah," by Handel, on Easter Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in McArthur court.

Soloists who will perform with the groups are Audrey Mistretta, contralto, and Patricia Taylor, soprano, both of Eugene; Ann Stearns, soprano, Prineville; Raymond Hill, bass, Roseburg; John Moseley, tenor, Jerome, Idaho, and James Carhuff, Nampa, Idaho.

Viet Nam Premier Proposes Council

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem moved Tuesday to meet objections by religious and political sects to his government by setting up a high political council. Representatives of the sects would be included among its members.

Presidential Possibilities 'Undecided' About Plans

By Bob Robinson
Emerald Assistant News Editor

Possible UIS and AGS candidates were non-committal in an Emerald poll Monday evening on whether or not they planned to run for office in the coming ASUO primary elections. The Emerald contacted 10 University students who have been prominently mentioned as election possibilities and only one would go far enough to say that he was definitely interested in running for president.

Bud Hinkson, junior in history, said that "I am definitely interested in running for ASUO president but I don't want to make any final announcement on the matter at this time."

Hinkson Likely

Hinkson is considered to be one of the top AGS prospects in the presidential race. He is currently serving as junior class president.

Another prospect who has been mentioned often as a possibility was uncertain in his reply. Don Bonime, junior in law, stated that "any office that I would run for would have to be secondary to my entering law school. I have been thinking about candidacy for some time but I'm not decided for certain one way or the other as yet."

The other eight people contacted all were firm in their statements that they would not run for president. Bob McCracken, junior in history, who has been considered a likely presidential candidate, reported that "I will definitely not run for president and I haven't decided for sure on other possible offices."

Duncan Not Sure

Still another possibility, Jim Duncan, junior in economics, said that he wasn't sure at this time whether he would return to school next year and "that makes my political plans indefinite."

Gordon Rice, junior in journalism and vice-president of the junior class, announced that "I won't be a candidate for any political office this year. I want to devote my full time to the Emerald." Rice is news editor of the campus daily.

Kip Wharton, junior in business, reported that he hadn't "thought anything about running for president but I might consider something else later."

Absolutely Not

Garry McMurry, junior in pre-law, and Jerry Farrow, junior in business, both declared that they had "no political ambitions whatsoever."

Jim Light, senior in pre-law, announced that "there is no chance for my candidacy because I won't be in school next year."

Sam Frear, junior in journalism, said that "I don't think I will run for president but I may consider running for a class office."

Sam Vahey, junior in business and a UIS member, announced his candidacy Monday afternoon and so far he is the only definite candidate.

Politicians Told To File Petitions

With the deadline for filing petitions for the coming ASUO primary elections just a little more than a week away, candidate petitions are now available in the ASUO office.

ASUO Vice-President Hollis Ransom revealed Monday that the petitions, along with instruction sheets for all candidates, can be picked up anytime during the day from now until the deadline at 6 p.m. on April 13.

Ransom pointed out that it is quite important for all aspirants to be sure that they get the official primary form and that they motional material shall be tacked, nailed or otherwise secured to trees and shrubs of the campus in such a way as to penetrate the bark of the trees or shrubs.

2. Use of sound equipment, rallies and car parades in and around the campus is limited to the following hours: noon to 1 p.m., 5 to 7 p.m. and 10 to 10:30 p.m. Candidates are cautioned to avoid the infirmary, Sacred Heart hospital and residential areas.

3. No sign of a political nature may be displayed in, on or around the Student Union building or grounds.

4. Each candidate is responsible for clearing the campus of his literature after the campaign is concluded.

5. All campaigning must cease before the opening of the polls on election day.

6. No signs, posters or other promotional material can be visible on the day of the election.

Requirements

Academic requirements for nomination for ASUO primary elections are as follows:

Candidates for the nomination of president must have completed at least three terms of work at the University and must have 110 credit hours prior to nomination.

Aspirants for senior class offices are required to have completed 110 hours of work.

Candidates for junior and sophomore class officers must have 65 and 24 credit hours respectively.

designate on the form their political party and the exact way that they wish to have their names printed on the ballot. He also emphasized that all candidates must have at least 2.00 grade point average to be eligible to file a petition.

In anticipation of the extensive campaigning that is expected in the next four weeks before the primary elections, April 20, and the all-campus general election, May 4, Ransom released a list of campaigning and electioneering rules that will be in effect this year.

The six most important rules are as follows:

1. No sign, poster or other pro-

Exchange Group To Appear Today

The 1955 version of the ASUO exchange assembly will be presented in the Student Union ballroom at 1 p.m. today.

The show, directed by Bob Chambers, is scheduled to last about 30 or 35 minutes. The performance at the University is the first of approximately ten that participants in the assembly will put on in the next month. Publicity chairman Dick Coleman has announced that the troop will appear at Oregon State college and Willamette university in addition to several Oregon high schools. The group's first away-from-home appearance will be at Bend high school Thursday afternoon.

Assisting Chambers with the planning of the show have been Coleman, Jackie Pond, Ray Johnson, Jim Schull, Patti McCann and JoAnne Richmond.

Many acts, both individual and group, are planned for the assembly which will be presented in the form of a mimiced television program.

"The Combo" and "The Club Four" will present musical numbers during the program.

Other performers taking part will be Dick Janik, Bill Moore, Colleen Moore, Don Holt, Helen Johnson, Tom Waldrop, Rita Yuzon, Mollie Elliot, Shirley McLean, Shirley Rhoads, Frances Heitkemper and Gloria Lee.

Vahey Will Run For President In UIS Primary

Sam Vahey, junior in business and a member of the ASUO Senate, informed the Emerald Monday afternoon that he will be a candidate for ASUO president in the United Independent Students primary elections.

The decision by Vahey was the first such action by any political candidate from either the UIS or the Associated Greek Students, campus political parties. Deadline for petitioning for the coming primaries is April 13.

SAM VAHEY
Presidential Aspirant

In a letter to Emerald Editor Jerry Harrell, Vahey said that "with only one week remaining until the petitioning deadline, I feel that it is time for all candidates and students to begin thinking seriously about the important spring term elections."

Vahey went on to say his campaign platform will be "one of action—it will indicate positive steps which should and could be taken by our senate."

Churchill Resigns

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — Winston Churchill resigned today as prime minister, it was officially announced.

The news was flashed from 16 Downing Street just after he called on Queen Elizabeth—and emerged from Buckingham Palace flashing a smile and his famous "V" sign.

The above story was received on the Emerald's Associated Press teletype at 9:34 a.m.