

Entertainment Commission Approves Assembly Show

The exchange assembly was "a good show, one that shouldn't offend high school audiences. In fact, it seemed to be a show very appropriate and one which should be well-received in the high schools," was the opinion of the ASUO entertainment commission Tuesday.

The commission, set up at a Senate meeting last October 14, was appointed in order to forestall any derogatory comments such as those encountered with last year's show.

Chairman of the commission is Jim Light, and student members are Mal Scott and Mary Sweeney. Cy Ellington and W. A. Dahlberg, associate professor of speech, are faculty members, with Bob Chambers, director of this year's show, a non-voting member.

Commission Is Responsible

Duties of the commission are to advise and be responsible for the assembly, with provision for their duties to be expanded to cover other areas of student entertainment by and with approval of the ASUA Senate and president.

In respect to Chambers, this year's director, Light said "He has been very aware of our position in respect to the difficulties last year, and has therefore

17 Scholarship Winners Named

Spring term scholarships were awarded to 17 University students according to the announcement Tuesday by the scholarship committee.

Recipients of the Oregon Mothers awards are Lucy Anne Bond, Mary Lou Cadiz, Patricia Deane Fagan, Helen Ann Knight, Betty J. Seley, Agnes Marie Thompson, Esther Strom and Agnes Utecht.

Oregon Dad's scholarships went to Robert Easton, Roberta Jenne Gess, Gerald Hirsch, Loretta Humphreys, Jean Alice Miller and Gunter Stewart.

Gunter Barth and George Earl Gerhard received miscellaneous financial awards.

The Dean Walker scholarship was awarded to Phillip McHugh.

Amounts of the scholarships vary and are determined by the demonstrated need of the student.

kept the show completely free of any objectionable atmosphere."

The show will appear at Oregon State college, Willamette university, and in several high schools in the state within the next month.

AGS Election Planning Starts

"It's time for us to start thinking about the coming primary elections," AGS President Bob McCracken emphasized at a meeting of representatives of Greek living organizations Tuesday afternoon.

At the meeting, held at Alpha Chi Omega, McCracken went on to announce that there will be an AGS policy formation committee meeting April 14 and at that time plans will be laid for a party campaign platform.

Another AGS meeting will be held April 19 to make final party arrangements for both the primary and general all-campus elections. The primaries are scheduled for April 20 and the general election is set for May 4.

McCracken urged all AGS representatives to make sure that their living organizations understand all petitioning procedures and that "anyone interested in running for an office in the primaries be sure and take the necessary steps before the petitioning deadline, April 13." "The election has slipped up on us this year and it is time to start making plans," he said. The meeting was attended by representatives of all but 11 of the Greek organizations.

Queen Candidates Due by Friday

All houses on campus, both men's and women's, should turn in the name of their candidate for Junior Weekend queen by 5 p.m. Friday.

The candidates must be junior women, and they will be judged on the basis of personality, appearance, poise, conversational ability and campus interest.

Ballet Comedian Miss Iva Kitchell Performs Tonight

Iva Kitchell, world-famous dance comedienne, will appear tonight at 8 at McArthur court. Called "the great American spoof," Miss Kitchell has earned a reputation for brilliant dancing while poking fun at all sorts of people who take themselves too seriously.

She is known for the rare knack of lampooning without hurting, seeming to find her subjects of satire both laughable and lovable.

Miss Kitchell was born in Junction City, Kansas. She began her career in serious dance at the age of fourteen with the Chicago Opera Ballet. Later, she toured with a Russian ballet company.

Realizing that serious dance is sometimes ridiculous, Miss Kitchell turned to dance satire. She made her debut as a dance comedienne at Carnegie hall in 1946. Since then, she has given more than 600 performances in Canada and the United States. She has recently completed a tour of South America and Hawaii.

Miss Kitchell is her own author, choreographer, and costume designer. She is accompanied by composer-pianist Harvey Brown, who has composed the music for many of her dances.

Social Chairmen To Handle Dates

Social chairmen of all living organizations have been requested to arrange among themselves pairings for Duck Preview dance dates, according to Lucia Knepper, weekend co-chairman.

Houses should take into consideration their comparative housing quotas for the weekend when pairings are made. The deadline for submitting these pairings to the Duck Preview office has been set for April 11.

Social chairmen will handle all arrangements for individual exchange dates for the dance. The Duck Preview committee will assist only in order to assure each house of a pairing which will accommodate the number of its visitors.

Fee Raise of $30 Is Proposed By Board Committee

A possible $10 per term raise in tuition, which would amount to a yearly increase of $30, has been proposed by the ways and means subcommittee on the board of higher education in the state Monday.

The raise is part of an education economy move, and would affect all state institutions of higher education.

The subcommittee also recommended that half of the foreign scholarships now being offered be given to Oregon residents, and that no scholarships be given to out-of-state students.

Donald DuShane, director of student affairs, said Tuesday that University officials have not been contacted on the proposed move and that they have no further information.

Veterans Form Action Group

By Gordon Rice
Emerald News Editor

A group of ex-servicemen has announced the formation of a Veterans' Committee to provide information and work for the solution of veteran's problems at the University of Oregon.

Richard Frear, the new president, emphasized that the committee was not a political organization, but a group to further the interests of veterans.

May Run Candidate

However, Gordon Ross, junior in journalism, said there had been some talk of running a candidate for the ASUO presidency, and that he "imagined that the group will back some candidates in this spring's elections."

He said the group will back no single party, but will "back candidates who have our interests at heart."

The new organization held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon and promptly approved a constitution submitted by Frear, a junior in general science, and Bob Biggs, junior in pre-law. Frear said the constitution would be submitted to the office of student affairs for approval.

Officers Elected

The group elected Frear as its first president and selected a slate of four other officers, including Ross, vice-president; Bill Walters, secretary; Biggs, treasurer, and Al Reynolds, program chairman.

The group listed three objectives in its constitution. They are "to provide up-to-date information of interest to veterans, to provide services that are sufficient through available sources, and to establish social unification for the veterans... on a more mature level."

"Lack of Knowledge"

Members of the new committee complained of the "lack of knowledge concerning veterans' problems shown by both the University and city branches of the Veterans' Administration."

One member called both offices "incompetent." He said that he had been "legally deprived of almost two years of schooling" because of the Eugene office's "lack of knowledge of the GI Bill." Other men complained of similar experiences.

The group recommended that

Ethics to Be Topic of Talk

Thomas W. Manson, professor of Biblical criticism and exegesis at the University of Manchester, England, will deliver a lecture on "The Basis of Christian Ethics" in the Dads' room, Student Union, at 8 p.m., April 25.

Sponsors of the lecture are the University Lectures committee and the department of religion.

Manson will also visit several religion classes April 25, according to J. C. Perkins, acting head of the department of religion.

Manson is the author of "Church's Ministry," "Sayings of Jesus" and "Beginning of the Gospel." He is the editor of the book, "Companion to the Bible," and the author of "Servant Messiah," along with G. Zuntz.

At the University of Manchester, he was the dean of the faculty of theology from 1941 to 1952 and Pro-Vice Chancellor from 1945 to 1949. In 1953 he was moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of England. He now is religious book reviewer for the Manchester-Guardian.

the veterans' representative be available on campus on a certain day each week.

700 Vets Here Now

Ten veterans attended the meeting, but Frear said that there are approximately 700 veterans on campus now, and "many more will be enrolling soon. It is only fair that this group be recognized and represented."

Members of the committee also indicated that they will work for veterans' legislation in the Oregon legislature.

State Representative Maurine Neuberger of Portland has already contacted Biggs about using the new committee as an action group to support the Oregon Korean Veterans' Bonus bill which has run into opposition in the legislature. Mrs. Neuberger originally sponsored the bill.

May Spread to OSC

There was also some possibility that the movement would spread to Oregon State college and Oregon Technical Institute at Klamath Falls. Ross revealed that Biggs had spoken to groups at both schools and that veterans there were awaiting action by the Oregon students.

Ross said he "expected the movement to spread to the entire Northwest."

The committee has announced plans to hold its second meeting Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Student Union, and have issued an invitation to all interested persons to attend.

According to the constitution, membership is open to all honorably discharged veterans.

WUS Vodvil Rolls Ahead

No Easter Egg Coloring Today

Desserts will not be held to color eggs for Operations Easter Egg as formerly announced, according to Bud Hinkson, co-chairman of the event.

Eggs will be boiled Thursday by cooks of women's living organizations and colored by house members.

The "Operation" will take place Saturday afternoon and is for all children in the first, second and third grades of the Eugene public school system.

Houses have been paired to group and look after the children while they are on campus. Each house will have a banner and the children will be wearing arm tags of the same color as a means of identification.

Children will arrive on campus at 1:30 and go to the living organization to which they are assigned. There they will be served refreshments.

The Hunt will begin at 2 p.m. and will be on the old campus. Prizes are to be given out after the Hunt.

A variety show will start at 3:45 at McArthur court. Parents can pick up their children there immediately following the show.

Operation Easter Egg is being sponsored by the junior class and Eugene Active club.
