RAMMING INTO ROCKSLIDE south of Albany, this New York Central flier was derailed, injuring 35 of 184 passengers. Diesel engine unit lies in five feet of water as crane clears tracks of zigzagged cars. Ten of 14 cars jumped tracks when accident occurred. (International Soundphoto)

Science Students To Convene Here

Undergraduate and beginning graduate students in all fields of science from colleges and universities throughout the state will gather on the campus April 30 for the annual Oregon Science conference.

The students will present reports on special research and study. Four students presenting the best papers will be awarded a year's membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Science teachers from Oregon secondary schools have been invited to attend the conference.

Sherwood Will Attend English Teachers Meet

John C. Sherwood, assistant professor of English, left Tuesday for Spokane to attend meetings of the Inland Empire Councils of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Sherwood will return to Eugene Friday.
