

FIRST WOMAN

Miss Bellarts, Darrell Brittsan, Gordon Summers in ASUO Race

The first woman student to reveal plans to run in the ASUO primary elections made her intentions known to the Emerald Monday along with two men candidates.

Joy Bellarts, sophomore in music, announced that she will run for sophomore class representative on the United Independent Students' ticket. Miss Bellarts said that she planned to file her petition today.

The other two hopefuls both are petitioning for the Associated Greek Students' primary. They are—Gordon Summers, freshman in pre-dentistry, who intends to run for sophomore class president, and Darrel Brittsan, sopho-

Fulbright Award Goes to Senior

Robert Summers, senior in political science, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship to study next year in England.

Summers will attend the University of South Hampton, at South Hampton, and also will study at the London School of Economics and Oxford. He also plans to spend two months on the continent of Europe.

The ASUO president will be studying the problem of accountability with regard to nationalized industries. In addition to this, he plans to study the origin of common law.

Summers said he definitely plans to visit Parliament while in session. He leaves America in early September.

Summers plans to get married this summer and both he and his wife will make the trip.

A member of Friars, senior men's honorary, Summers is one of the Phi Beta Kappa Senior Six.

Miss Bellarts has been active in music activities in her two years at the University. At present she is singing in a Eugene all-city choir and is serving as song leader for her living organization, Highland house. She will join the University Singers next week.

Primary Petitions Due Wednesday

ASUO Vice-President Hollis Ransom urged Monday that all students intending to petition for the ASUO primary elections get their petitions in as soon as possible.

Ransom said that the filing of the necessary papers "has been slow to date" but that he expected many more to come in on both Tuesday and Wednesday before the final deadline at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

As of Monday afternoon only five petitions had been filed and only eight candidates had made their political aspirations known.

in one University Theater production and was active in the Independent Student Association convention winter term.

Active Freshman

Summers, who is the younger brother of ASUO President Bob Summers, is a sophomore honor student who has been in many University activities although he has only been on campus for a little more than two terms. He was a co-chairman of the special events committee for Dad's Day and is now serving as co-chairman of the souvenir booklet committee for Duck Preview.

Summers was also on the dance committee for the Frosh Sno-ball. He is now social chairman of Omega hall and pledge class president of Theta Chi.

Much Experience

Brittsan, current sophomore class president and president of Sigma Phi Epsilon, his living organization, has had extensive experience in campus politics.

As a freshman, he was president of Susan Campbell Hall and was a freshman class representative on the ASUO Senate. This year he is serving as a co-chairman of the Canoe Fete float committee and is an active member of Skull and Dagger.

Editor Positions Filled April 20

Positions of editor and business manager of the Oregona, editor of the Ore-N-Ter and editor and business manager of the Pigger's Guide will be filled at the publications board meeting April 20.

The meeting had originally been scheduled for tonight, with the petition deadline Friday. Deadline for petitions has been moved up to April 15.

Salaries of the jobs are $636 each for editor and business manager of the Oregona, $150 for Pigger's Guide editor and a percentage commission for the business manager usually amounting to between $150 and $250. Ore-N-Ter editor is not a salaried position.

Petitions should be turned in to Jack Weber, board secretary, in his office in Allen hall before April 15.

Date Set By Whitty

Deadline for entries to the ASUO senate-sponsored essay contest is April 20, according to John Whitty, contest administrator.

Subject is to be "The Role of Student Government on the University of Oregon Campus," and all regularly-enrolled students at the University may enter.

Essays are to be 1000 to 5000 words long, typewritten on one side of the paper only, and double-spaced. Judging will be on the basis of organization, content, appropriateness to general topic, and English usage.

First prize is $20, second is $10 and third is $5. All prizes will be given in cash. In addition, the winning essay will be printed in the Oregon Daily Emerald.

Essays need not be favorable to the present role of student government, Whitty emphasized.

Judges for the contest are the three faculty members of the Senate, R. D. Horn, professor of English; Vistor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, and Donald DuShane, director of student affairs.

Oxnam Talks At Assembly

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, head of the Methodist church in the Washington, D.C. area and one of the nation's leading churchmen, will discuss "The Nature of the Contemporary Crisis" at a University assembly today at 1 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Oxnam was a central figure in the 1953 controversy over Communists in the American clergy. Representative Donald L. Jackson accused him of "serving God on Sundays and the Communist front the rest of the week," in a charge made from the floor of the house which touched off the short-lived investigation of the American clergy.

BISHOP G. BROMLEY OXNAM, controversial figure in accusation of American clergy in 1953, discusses "The Nature of the Contemporary Crisis" today at 1 p.m.

Testifying at his own request before the House Un-American Activities committee, Oxnam asked that the inaccuracies and misrepresentations about him be withdrawn, declaring that he had never knowingly associated with a Red-front group. The committee cleared the Bishop and reported "no record of any Communist party membership or affiliation by Bishop Oxnam."

In 1954 Oxnam again drew fire from the committee when Harvey Matusow, self-styled former Communist, named Oxnam as a leading member of Red front groups. Oxnam was again cleared in February of this year when Matusow retracted all his previous testimony, saying that it had all been lies.

WCC President

President of the World Council of Churches from 1948 to 1954, and a former president of De-Pauw university, Oxnam is president of the board of governors of Westminster Theological Seminary and chairman of the Methodist Commission on Chaplains.

Before he became bishop of the Washington area, Oxnam served as bishop of the Omaha, Boston and New York areas. He also served on the National War Labor Board as a special mediator in labor disputes, and was a member of the President's Committee on Higher Education.

Eight College Degrees

Oxnam, who holds eight college degrees, was awarded the Cross of the Royal Order of Phoenix by the Greek government, and a citation for meritorious personal service from the US Navy in 1947.

Author of the book "I Protest," Oxnam has also written widely on clerical subjects.

Faulkner to Meet English Classes

Novelist William Faulkner has been scheduled to meet with two English classes Wednesday and will lecture at an English department luncheon.

At 11 a.m. he will meet with the creative writing classes in Student Union 315 and at 1 p.m. in Commonwealth 138 he will visit the Twentieth Century Literature class. In both classes Faulkner will primarily answer questions rather than lecture.

The English department luncheon is scheduled for 12 noon but the sit has not been announced.

Houses Asked To Send Details

Living organizations who have received letters from high school seniors confirming that they will be coming to Duck Preview should immediately write a second letter informing the visitors of all details.

Any additional guests recently placed in houses must also be contacted. All living organizations will receive complete information concerning the weekend to refer to for these letters, according to Jeanne Scales, housing co-ordinator.

Vodvil Show MC Petitions Called

Petitions are being called for master of ceremonies for the Duck Preview Vodvil show. They are due at 5 p.m. Wednesday, in the Student Union petition box on the third floor.

Act auditions and eliminations for the show will be held next week. Eliminations for women's houses will be April 19, and for men's houses on April 20.

ASUO Senate to Sponsor Student Government Panel

A panel discussion on student government will be presented following the ASUO Senate meeting Thursday evening in the Student Union by four students and three faculty members. Students also have been invited to attend the Senate meeting.

Appearing on the panel will be Don Rotenberg, president of the senior class; Bob Schooling, co-chairman of the canoe fete steering committee; Bob Funk, former ASUO vice-president, and Andy Berwick, chairman of the Student Union board.

Bill Bowerman, assistant director of athletics and ASUO vice-president in 1934, and Les Anderson, director of public services and ASUO president in 1942, will represent the faculty. The discussion will be moderated by Herman Cohen, assistant professor of speech.

Freshmen women may be excused from the dormitories to attend the discussion. Free coffee will be served.

Thursday's panel is a part of the education in student government portion of the Senate's public relations program.
