Oxnam Urges Set-up of World Law

PORTLAND (AP)—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D.C., a Methodist church leader, Monday urged establishment of a world forum to fix world law.

He said in an interview that world opinion would administer the discipline for enforcement of world laws.

Oxnam said the United Nations should be the tool by which a democratic world order is created. On the question of surrendering national sovereignty, he said that should be no more difficult than the surrender of the colonies' sovereignty when the United States was formed.

Asked if he thought nations would be willing to surrender their national sovereignty, the bishop said they would not if what he called economic inequities are perpetuated.

"War will be homicidal — or suicidal," he said, "and we must learn to work out our problems together. Otherwise, we Americans and the Russian people will only die together."

The bishop spoke Monday at Portland State college.

Market Loses Beer License

The retail beer license of Shisler's Food Market, 304 E. 13th, has been suspended until July 24. City Councilman Warren Shisler owns the market.

Officials of the Oregon Liquor Control commission said the suspension would be in effect after April 25.

Two Eugene taverns also had their beer licenses suspended until May 2. They are the Golden Canary, 2000 W. 11th, and Cosmo Cigar store, 685 Willamette.

Reason for the suspensions was the sale of beer to minors.
