

Vern Sterling Resigns As Duck Line Mentor

Oregon's football coaching staff received a jolt yesterday when Line Coach Vern Sterling announced he was resigning to take a job at San Mateo junior college.

The appointment was made by Dr. Elon Hildreth, president of San Mateo JC. The Webfoot football and freshman wrestling coach said he would be at Oregon until July 1 before leaving for his new job and so will be around to assist in spring practice slated to begin Monday.

Sterling said he was taking the new job as assistant coach at San Mateo in order to be near his parents, who have been ill recently, living in nearby Menlo Park. He formerly coached at Menlo Park JC after graduating from Santa Clara, where he was an all-American guard under present Oregon Coach Len Casanova.

Following his two years at Menlo Park, Sterling came to Oregon in 1952 to coach under his old coach, Casanova. During his stay at Oregon, the Ducks have had several fine linemen with Jack Patera, Ron Pfeister and Hal Reeve all gaining All-Coast mention in 1954.

Casanova said he was very sorry to lose Sterling and praised him for his work in developing good linemen for Duck teams. The Webfoot head coach said he would start looking for a replacement for Sterling soon but reported that his presence during spring practice would not make the search a hurried one.

Bruins Retain Top Position

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Cubs continued to ride high in the National league Friday, calling on power at the plate to make up for weakness in the field as they beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 in 10 innings Thursday.

Three home runs in the ninth and 10th innings wrapped it up for the Bruins, who now have won all three of their 1955 games. Randy Jackson's two-run poke in the top of the 10th settled it.

The victory kept the Cubs half a game ahead of Brooklyn and Philadelphia who made it two straight. The Brooks overpowered the winless New York Giants 10-8 and the Phils scored three in the second to beat Pittsburgh 4-3.

In the other National league game, St. Louis swatted five of the seven home runs in the contest to knock off Milwaukee 8-7 in 11 innings.

Cleveland's defending American league champs stayed unbeaten on the stick work of Al Smith by beating Detroit 5-3. Boston matched the Indians' 2-0 record with an 8-4 success against the New York Yankees. And Sandy Consuegra three-hit Kansas City as the Chicago White Sox won their first of the season 7-1.

Rain washed out a scheduled night game at Washington between the Senators and Baltimore.

Brooklyn and Don Newcombe watched as the Giants hoisted the NL pennant and world championship flag in pregame ceremonies, then impressed upon the New Yorkers that was all last year's stuff.

Rain Casts Doubt On Duck Opener

Barring a sudden blast of sunshine, Oregon will be unable to open the Northern Division baseball season today as scheduled. The Ducks were set to invade Corvallis for a game against Oregon State at 3 p.m.

A Saturday game between the same two teams at Eugene, starting time 1 p.m., will probably be postponed as well.

The games would have to be made up the next time the teams meet, May 21-22. Doubleheaders would be scheduled with one nine and one seven-inning game each day.
