

Oppenheimer Speaks in SU Tonight

Structure of Matter Topic of Lecture at 8

J. Robert Oppenheimer will deliver his first Condon lecture tonight at 8 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

The title of his first address will be "The Sub-nuclear Zoo; The Composition of Matter." Topic of his second talk on Thursday is "Elements of Order."

J. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER Speaks Tonight

Considered the one man in the United States who knows all the facts of the development of the first atomic bomb, Oppenheimer has been a leading opponent of government restrictions on scientists.

Completing his undergraduate studies at Harvard university in three years, Oppenheimer continued his studies at Cambridge university in England. He received his doctor's degree from Gottingen university in Germany in 1927.

From 1927 until 1929 he was a National Research fellow and an International Education Board fellow. In 1929 he was appointed assistant professor of physics at the University of California and the California Institute of Technology.

Developed Bomb

From 1943 until 1945, Oppenheimer was director of the government laboratory at Los Alamos, N. M., where the atomic bomb was developed. He was chairman of the General Advisory committee to the Atomic Energy Commission from 1945 until 1953. He also has been director of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

Oppenheimer is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, American Physics society, and a member of the National Academy of Sciences, American Philosophical society.

OSC, Portland Lectures Scheduled

He will repeat his two lectures at Oregon State college on April 26 and 28 and at Portland State college on May 3 and 4.

The Condon Lectures were established in 1944 by the Oregon State Board of Higher Education. The Lectureship was named in honor of Thomas Condon, the first professor of geology at the University.

The purpose of the lectures is to interpret the results of significant scientific research to the nonspecialist.

$50 COST LIMIT

Rules and Pairings Listed By Canoe Fete Chairmen

Rules for construction of the Canoe Fete floats were announced today by Sally Jo Greig and Darrel Brittsan, co-chairmen of that committee.

A $50 cost limit has been placed on each float. The 16x18 foot barges will be given to the houses and are not to be considered as part of the cost.

According to the rules established by the float committee, decorations may overlap the barge as much as is necessary, and may be as high as the builders want. Floats are to have no musical accompaniment of their own and the method used for propelling the barge must be noiseless.

Barges will be distributed April 30. Floats must be completed by 10 a.m. May 14. Judging will be based equally on design, color, originality, and quality of workmanship.

Queen's Float

The Queen's float and the comic float will not be in competition. This year's winning float will have the honor of building the Queen's float next year. Awards will be given to each house in the first, second and third place pairings.
