

Voluntary Solicitations Will Be Allowed in SU

The Student Union Board decided at its meeting Wednesday that solicitation of a voluntary nature will be allowed in the Student Union fishbowl.

This means that solicitation can be conducted by organizations if no pressure is put on anyone for contributions. Organizations must get permission from the administrative offices to use the fishbowl for solicitation.

The executive committee of the Board will write up the policy to be presented at the next meeting.

Three Members Accepted

Lucia Knepper and Dick Gray were accepted by the Board to fill the junior member at large positions. Lolly Quackenbush was accepted for the sophomore member at large position.

The Board's recommendations of these new members will go to O. Meredith Wilson, president of the university, for final approval.

Three Years' SU Work

Miss Knepper has worked on Student Union activities for three years. She has been on the music committee and on the directorate as chairman of the music committee.

Dick Gray has had three years experience in Student Union directorate work, and was on the ASUO Senate in his freshman year.

Miss Quackenbush was a member of the Student Union public relations committee in her freshman year and served as its chairman in her sophomore year. She feels that a leadership training program should be started for Student Union committee chairmen.

Week of Orientation

This could be accomplished by a week of orientation by chairmen going out of office for the new chairmen.

The Board decided to continue a policy adopted last year by co-sponsoring a home concert with the University Singers May 11, in the Student Union Ballroom.

Cosmopolitans Discuss American Folk Dance

American folk dance will be the topic of the program to be presented at Friday night's meeting of the Cosmopolitan club.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Plymouth house, 13th and Ferry streets.

All those interested in a ski trip next Saturday should attend.

VETS' NEWS

The Veterans' Administration received a little more than the usual amount of publicity during the past week due to the various meetings held on the Oregon campus.

The VA office would like to express its gratitude to those veterans who rose to the defense of the administration. We would like to extend our hand to those veterans who believe they have been wronged, in the hopes that their problems may be solved.

As explained in the Emerald last week, this office is here in Eugene for service and all the veteran has to do is ask. If there is any manner in which we can help to patch up past differences or help with future problems, we will be more than happy to do so.

It is impossible to reach all veterans through the medium of this small column, so if any of your veteran friends ever have any questions and don't know where to turn, have them come in and see us. If you or they can't come in, then call us.

Veteran Administration hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number of the office is 5-3444.

For further information contact Larry Whitson, officer in charge of the VA office at 208 Hampton Bldg., 610 Willamette St.

WUS Car Wash Gives In to Rain

The World University Service car wash scheduled for today has been cancelled due to the weather. It will be held later in the term when the weather clears, according to Agnes Thompson, chairman.

Physicist Gives Second Talk Tonight

J. Robert Oppenheimer will deliver his second Condon lecture tonight at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

The topic of his second talk will be "Elements of Order."

Considered the one man in the United States who knows all the facts of the development of the first atomic bomb, Oppenheimer has been a leading opponent of government restrictions on scientists.

He is a graduate of Harvard and Cambridge universities in England. He received his doctor's degree from Göttingen university in Germany in 1927.

From 1943 until 1945, Oppenheimer was director of the government laboratory at Los Alamos, N.M., where the atomic bomb was developed. He was chairman of the General Advisory committee to the Atomic Energy Commission from 1945 until 1953. Since 1947 he has been director of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J.

Oppenheimer's first lecture was "The Sub-nuclear Zoo; The Composition of Matter."

State Department Announces Exams

Examinations for state department foreign service officers will be given on June 24 throughout the United States. Closing date for sending in applications to take the test is May 2.

Students interested in participating are urged to mail applications to the department's board of examiners for foreign service as soon as possible. Failure to submit the application by May 2 will eliminate candidates from taking the June examination.

Information pamphlets, sample questions from the test and application forms are available at the local placement office or may be obtained from the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D.C.

Comprehensive Exam Dates Told

Schedules for the spring term comprehensive examinations for the sophomore honors courses were announced today by K. S. Ghent, chairman of the honors committee.

The exams are scheduled as follows: May 18—history, May 19—the study of society, May 24—literature, and May 26—physical science and biological science.

The examinations will be three hours in length and will begin at 7 p.m. at places to be announced later. Students who do not already have the reading lists on which the examinations will be based should obtain them from the following persons: history—L. R. Sorenson, Commonwealth 218; literature—John Sherwood, Friendly 102; physical science—F. E. Dart, Science 223; biological science—R. R. Huestis, Science 325; society—E. Wengert, Commonwealth 307.

All students currently registered in the honors courses are strongly urged to take these examinations, an important feature of the sophomore honors program. A satisfactory grade in the comprehensive exam will excuse the student from the regular spring term final in the corresponding course. By passing with distinction the four specified comprehensive exams a student qualifies for the sophomore honors award.

Students who meet the requirements for admission to this program, may obtain credit by examination alone under certain conditions. Such students should consult Ghent in his office in Emerald hall.

Romaine Places In Speech Meet

Dick Romaine, member of the Oregon forensics squad, received honorable mention Wednesday in the 31st annual oratorical competition of the Pacific Forensic league.

David Jabusch of Oregon State college won over the five other students participating in the contest. Stephen Stewart of the University of Nevada was second.

Jabusch and Stewart placed second and third in the extemporaneous speaking contest Tuesday. The contest was won by Murray Bring of the University of Southern California.

In Wednesday's finals of the debate competition, Bring and his USC teammate, Ron Weintraub, took the affirmative on the question, "Should the United States Extend Diplomatic Recognition to Communist China?" Chad Combs teamed with Stewart on this question.

A banquet and after-dinner speaking contest ended the three-day conference Wednesday night.
