

Atom Peace Boat Proposed By Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday unveiled plans for a goodwill world cruise by an atomic powered peace ship. His plan was a takeoff in reverse on the "big stick" policy of nearly half a century ago.

"Visiting the ports of the world," he said of his proposed atomic merchant ship, "it will demonstrate to people everywhere this peacetime use of atomic energy, harnessed for the improvement of human living."

The nation already has an atomic submarine afloat and a second in the works. However,

Eisenhower chose to dramatize peace rather than might with an entirely new atomic merchant ship to carry America's message to the world.

Reverse Act

Thus he acted in reverse of the historic 1907 gesture by President Theodore Roosevelt, who dispatched a battleship fleet around the world to focus attention on America's fighting power.

President Eisenhower disclosed his latest atom-for-peace plan at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Flown here from Washington for the occasion, the president's plane, the Columbine, had to land on instruments because of an unspringlike fog and cold drizzle that gripped the city.

The takeoff for the return to Washington Monday afternoon also was on instruments as the fog persisted.

Early in his 4000 word text, the President sprung his idea for an atomic peace ship in these words:

Developing Specifications

"We have added to the United States program for peaceful uses of atomic energy an atomic-powered merchant ship. The Atomic Energy commission and the Maritime administration are now developing specifications.

"I shall shortly submit to the Congress a request for the necessary funds, together with a description of the vessel.

"The new ship, powered with an atomic reactor, will not require refueling for operations of thousands of miles of operation. Visiting the ports of the world, it would demonstrate to people everywhere this peace-time use of atomic energy, harnessed for improvement of human living."

Grants Pass High Threatened

GRANTS PASS (AP)—A man called the high school here at noon Monday and said "two sticks of dynamite will go off in the gymnasium at 1:15" unless $25 in small change was brought to the boys' locker room by 1 p.m.

Principal Frank Thomas notified Police Chief Carl Dallas who ordered the gymnasium closed the rest of the day while a search for explosives was conducted. The rest of the school remained open.

Mrs. William E. Wright, the secretary who took the call in the school office, said the caller asked first, "have you heard about the bombing in Portland?" Then he made his demand.

Bomb Threats Given To Jeff High School

PORTLAND (AP)—The latest of a series of bomb threats to schools in this area closed Jefferson high school here Monday afternoon.

Its 2200 students were marched out of classrooms after a man telephoned the school office at 1:10 p.m. and said "a bomb will be placed in the school cafeteria" unless he received $75. The evacuation was ordered by Vice Principal Ray Malo until police could investigate.

Friday a similar bomb threat forced evacuation of Lincoln high school here. The day before, Vancouver, Wash., high school was emptied as the result of a bomb threat.

Henry Ford, pioneer of the automobile industry, died in Dearborn, Michigan on April 7, 1947 at the age of 83.
