

Schedule Announced For Flying Speeches

Flying speeches for Mothers' Weekend will be given Monday and Tuesday evenings during the dinner hour, according to Joan Rainville and Sue Ramsby, co-chairmen of flying speeches for the weekend.

Women participating in the flying speeches will go to the men's living organizations, and the men will go to the women's living organizations. The men will be under the direction of Rob Roy. Women participating in the speeches will be Bev O'Conner, Louann Pearson, Joan Palmer, Mary Leash, Fay Campbell and Cindy Randall.

All students are urged to write their mothers, inviting them to Mother's Weekend which will be May 13-15. Letters should be written immediately so that mothers can make reservations for their stay in Eugene. One hotel has already been filled for the weekend. A housing list will be sent to the living organizations.

Sing on Sunday

The all-campus sing will be held Sunday afternoon this year and students should be sure to invite their mothers to attend the sing.

A breakfast and general business meeting will be held in the Student Union ballroom on Saturday morning from 8:30 to 10:30. A luncheon is scheduled for Saturday noon on the old campus.

During the luncheon the Junior Weekend Court will be presented and the Queen honored. Tappings will be conducted for several honoraries.

A tea, sponsored by the Eugene Mothers' club, will be held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday in Gerlinger hall. Awards will be made at the tea at 3 p.m.

Dinner Saturday will be in the living organizations, and the canoe festival will be the Saturday evening attraction.

Positions Available For Civil Service

Examinations for the positions of accountant, auditor, accounting and auditing clerk may now be applied for, according to the Federal Civil Service commission.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from any post office or from the Director, 11th United States Civil Service region, 302 Federal Office building, Seattle 4, Washington.

Applications for these examinations must be on file with the above director not later than June 15.

Art Survey Is Lecture Topic

A survey of "Art of Mexico" will be given to listeners at the weekly browsing room lecture in the Student Union tonight by David Hatch, instructor in art.

Illustrated by colored slides which he took in Mexico last summer, the lecture will deal primarily with the art considered to be "handicraft works" in the 7:30 p.m. talk. This includes weaving, metal work and ceramics. He will also discuss Mexican architecture.

The objects to be pictured in the slides will range from articles of antiquity to the present day. The slides were made by Hatch either in the field with the artist or through special arrangements with museums in the Central American country.

He also plans to show a short film on the art of weaving, so that the audience may see the motions employed by the weaver.

Discussion leader for the evening will be W. S. Laughlin, associate professor of anthropology.

AGS Advocates 2 a.m. Closing Hour for Women

(continued from page one) with Hinkson when he said, "We shouldn't need to announce a stand just because UIS did. Greek Week is none of their business."

The group was overwhelming in its approval of the plank for the discontinuance of the all-campus primary. A majority of the representatives expressed hope that a system of popular voting could take its place. A plan to do away with the primary was also part of the AGS platform last year.

Another item that had some discussion time devoted to it was one that favored the elimination of "unjust discrimination" against Greek living organizations by the office of student affairs. The plank referred specifically to the five dollar charge to each Greek pledge.

"If they want money, they ought to charge everyone," McCracken said. "As it stands now, only Greeks have to pay and the office is taking advantage of our better nature."

The platform follows:

1. Elimination of the unjust discrimination against Greek living organizations through student affairs' use of the pledge fees for its own purposes.
2. A student body examination of the University deferred living program and its dorm counseling program.

3. Two o'clock closing hours on Saturday night.

4. Discontinuance of the all-campus primary.

5. Continuance of the Canoe Fete as an addition to the University's traditions and restoration of the mill race to its former condition.

6. Functional innovation in the legislative and executive branches of our student government.

7. Popular election of the yelling to be held at the time of the regular student body election on a non-partisan basis, in an effort to provide a means of implementing the wishes of the student body.
