

Knowland Before Republican Dinner

SENATE MINORITY LEADER William F. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) talks with newsmen Monday before addressing annual dinner of the Young Republican club. In his talk he suggested that the Chinese mainland be divided at the Yangtze river for a period of 10 years with Nationalists in control in the south and the Communists in control in the north. After a decade Knowland suggested a plebiscite to determine the form of government for the country. (AP Wirephoto)

SITA Offers Tours, Study

An opportunity to study in Europe this summer is being offered by Willamette university, in the fields of French, Spanish and political science.

May 6 is the deadline for signing up for these summer European tours with the Students' International Travel association, according to Willamette university officials.

The study group interested in French will study courses given in French at the University of Grenoble. Four to six hours of undergraduate credit are available through both Willamette and Grenoble universities.

Paul Beal, associate professor of romance languages at Willamette, will be in charge of the group. Students' living accommodations will be with French families during the stay. This is the sixth time Willamette has sponsored a French study tour.

The University of Santander on the Atlantic coast in Spain will be the scene of the Spanish study group's summer session in August. Students may combine this group, under the direction of Clarence Kraft, associate professor of Spanish, with the French or Italian study program.

The political science group will tour England, Holland, Greece, France, Italy, Germany, Yugoslavia, Spain and Vienna to study contrasts in European governments. Chester C. Kaiser, associate professor of political science at Willamette, will lead the group.

Transportation can be arranged by ship or air for all three study groups.

For more information on the tours, write to the professor in charge of the field most interested in at Willamette university.

A prominent banker tells you

Why it's wise to hold U.S. Savings Bonds more than 10 years

By Homer J. Livingston, President of The First National Bank of Chicago and President, American Bankers Association

LIKE MILLIONS OF OTHER AMERICANS, you probably know that our government's Series E Savings Bonds rank among the surest, safest and best investments in the world. But I wonder if you realize that an extremely attractive feature has been added.

You can now hold them for as long as 19 years, 8 months and U. S. Series E Savings Bonds will return you a total yield of 80% on your investment!

So, if you can possibly arrange it, hold your Bonds for the maximum period—19 years, 8 months.

And, of course, go on investing in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds regularly.

If you invested $37.50 in a Savings Bond ten years ago, it could be redeemed for $50.00 today. You would make $12.50. But if you keep that Bond for ten more years, you will make a total of $29.84 on your original investment. In other words, if you hold your Bonds for double their original period, your total yield is considerably more than just double.

There's no finer investment an American can make.

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

Now even better!
Invest more in Savings Bonds!
